Oil jumped and equities turned volatile after President Donald Trump signaled potential escalation of strikes on Iran as soon as Tuesday, overshadowing ceasefire optimism.

- Oil prices are likely to keep rising. Fears of supply disruptions have been stoked by a potential US–Israeli conflict with Iran and ongoing disturbances in the Strait of Hormuz. Additionally, OPEC+’s frequent voluntary production cuts are tightening available supply.
- The EIA and other analysts expect prices to remain elevated, likely staying above $95/b through May 2026. Some bullish scenarios suggest prices could test the $120–$140 range if military action directly impairs oil production infrastructure rather than just transit routes.

Mitsubishi Motors is actively studying the production of hybrid electric vehicles (HEV) in the Philippines, with a potential timeline aligning with the government's zero-tariff incentives for electrified vehicles, which are currently set until 2028.

The Ultimatum: Iran must reopen the Strait of Hormuz or face "devastating attacks" on its national infrastructure, including power plants and bridges. President Trump deadline for Iraq is on Tuesday at 8:00 P.M. Eastern Time (ET) is 8:00 A.M. Wednesday in the Philippines

NEWS, ANALYSIS , INVESTING INSIGHT

ENERGY

- PCC / Retail Power MarketTickers: MER, ACEN, FGEN, AP
- The Philippine Competition Commission flagged anti-competitive dynamics in the retail electricity market, warning that vertically integrated power generators may be channeling supply preferentially to affiliated retail electricity suppliers (RES), crowding out independent competitors. The PCC noted a high level of "affiliate switching," where customers move between retail suppliers affiliated with the same parent company, which does not necessarily result in genuine competition.
- The watchdog called for a review of vertical integration policies between generation and retail distribution and is collaborating with IEMOP on data-sharing and switching-barrier research. Starting June, the minimum threshold for participation in the retail market will be lowered from 500 kW to 100 kW
- a step that will expand the eligible customer pool significantly. For covered names, this is a governance/regulatory overhang that is manageable near term but warrants monitoring — particularly for integrated players like AboitizPower (AP) and Meralco (MER), whose affiliated RES businesses could face structural constraints if the PCC recommends policy remedies.
- Stance: MONITOR (Regulatory Overhang — AP, MER)

ACEN 2.95, AC 522.00

- ACEN, AC Retail RE Market ShareTickers: ACEN, AC, FGEN, MER, AP
- ACEN Corp.'s retail supply arm ACEN RES retained the largest share in the Green Energy Option Program for a third consecutive year, commanding 65% of GEOP end-users in 2025 — up sharply from 36% in 2022 — and capturing 71% of Meralco's franchise area.
- Lopez-led First Gen held on to second place with a 20% market share, while Meralco and AboitizPower groups accounted for two percent and one percent respectively.
- ACEN's dominance in the fastest-growing segment of the Philippine power sector reinforces its premium RE credentials and underscores the value of early-mover advantage in GEOP. However, the PCC's concurrent warning about market concentration — specifically citing the Ayala Group's expanding share — introduces a regulatory tail risk that investors should keep in view. At ₱2.95, ACEN is near technical support and the B2B clean energy franchise story remains intact.
- Stance: ACCUMULATE — ACEN (₱2.95 | RE franchise leader; regulatory concentration risk noted)

WEB 10.50

- PhilWeb Corp. inked an agreement with Travellers International Hotel Group, operator of Newport World Resorts, to provide platform technology, system support, gaming content integration, and marketing and operational services for NWRPlay, Newport's PAGCOR-accredited online gaming platform.
- This is PhilWeb's third deal with a major casino-hosting integrated resort in recent weeks, following partnerships with Okada Manila and Hann Casino Resort, deepening its B2B platform footprint in regulated online gaming.
- The Newport tie-up is strategically significant: Travellers International operates one of the country's largest integrated resort ecosystems in Pasay, giving PhilWeb access to a high-traffic, brand-recognized partner for scaling recurring service income. The business model shift from consumer-facing gaming to technology and backend services offers more predictable revenue and stronger margin visibility over time. WEB closed at ₱10.50 on April 6; the accumulating B2B deal flow justifies a constructive near-term stance.
- Stance: ACCUMULATE — WEB (₱10.50 | B2B platform momentum accelerating)

SM 610.00

- 2GO / PCG Transport MOATicker: 2GO
- 2GO Group signed an MOA with the Philippine Coast Guard to provide transport and logistics support for PCG personnel and their families, with active and retired coast guards eligible for sea travel discounts extended to their legal spouses or authorized companions.
- The MOA also establishes a logistics support framework for official PCG requirements, covering transport of humanitarian and relief goods during calamities and emergency response operations.
- The deal is modest in direct revenue impact but reinforces 2GO's institutional B2G (business-to-government) relationships and brand equity in the government services segment, complementing its broader logistics network. It also signals that 2GO's management is actively pursuing non-commercial partnerships that deepen route utilization across the archipelago.
- Stance: MONITOR — 2GO (B2G relationship-building; revenue impact limited near term)
