- US stocks remained lower at Tuesday midday, struggling to recover from early session lows due to a widening Middle East conflict and surging oil prices. Fears of sustained inflation and reduced rate-cut expectations drove a broad market decline
- Crude Oil has surged over 4% on fears of supply disruptions Gold/Silver seeing sharp sell-off down 3.8% &7%—as investors liquidate positions to cover broader market losses. Bitcoin & industrial metals like Copper are also sliding, a global pivot away from high-risk assets
- Asian gold shares are set to slide after bullion plunged 6.1% Tuesday. The drop was fueled by a stronger dollar, reduced hopes for rate cuts, and forced selling as Middle East tensions rattled global markets.
- Xiaomi co-founder Lin Bin has reportedly agreed to buy a 1% stake in the Miami Dolphins at a record-shattering $12.5 billion valuation. The deal, which includes Hard Rock Stadium and the Miami Grand Prix, sets a new high-water mark for sports team valuations.

President Trump says that the US would provide political risk insurance & naval escorts to secure the passage of oil tankers & commercial vessels through the Strait of Hormuz.

- To ease disruption in maritime traffic due to escalating conflict between the U.S., Israel, & Iran.
- President Trump to "cut off all trade with Spain" after the Spanish government denied the U.S. military access to its bases for a bombing campaign against Iran.
- Trump also criticized the UK for blocking him from using a military base on the island of Diego Garcia Diego Garcia, is a British Indian Ocean Territory facility used by the Royal Navy and leased to the United States Navy, located on the atoll Diego Garcia in the Indian Ocean.
- Speculation that the U.S. will take military action to secure shipping lanes pared what had been a 9% surge in oil.

Philippines Markets

- Philippines PSEi saw a net foreign buying inflow of ₱1.57 billion yesterday, which provided critical support against geopolitical sell-offs.
- Wed, March 4, 2026, the PSEi is coming off a slight recovery, closing yesterday at 6,445.38 (+0.29%). While bargain hunting snapped a two-day slide, the broader market remains cautious due to escalating Middle East tensions and their impact on oil prices and inflation.
- 4-DAY WORKWEEK, WORK-FROM-HOME SETUP WATCH: Senator Win Gatchalian suggests that some companies may carry out a four-day workweek or work-from-home arrangements to help save energy over fears of an oil price spike triggered by the Middle East conflict. He adds that the government should, in the future, subsidize the purchase of electric vehicles for public utility vehicles.
- South Korean President Lee Jae Myung and Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos Jr. formalized a deeper partnership focused on defense modernization and shipbuilding.

NEWS, ANALYSIS , INVESTING INSIGHT

TEL 1,370.00

- PLDT renewed its partnership with FPIP for connectivity services.
- Analysis: This is a classic enterprise "defense + upsell" story: protects a large industrial account, supports data/ICT attach, and strengthens PLDT's positioning with PEZA/locator ecosystems. Not a step-change alone, but supportive of enterprise stability.
- Recommendation: Hold. Incremental positive; bigger catalysts remain cost discipline + monetization of data center/digital layers.

ICT 709.00

- Remained the most actively traded stock, rising 4.26% to ₱709.00. The company also recently granted ₱1.45 billion in employee stock awards following record performance.

ROCK 1.90

- Just got the SEC green light to offer up to ₱10B in fixed-rate bonds—the first tranche of its ₱20B program 3-year bonds: 5.5666% (Due 2029) 5-year bonds: 5.8595% (Due 2031)

DHI 4.74 +22.16%

- Under its new controlling shareholder Monte Sur, it intends to pivot into the mining sector Shift toward mining acquisitions: suggests this could give DHI exposure to major projects like the Tampakan copper-gold deposit DHI reached a peak of ₱5.10 Feb 2, 2026
- Under "Sy's Family's Magic" Monte Sur, DHI is seen to shift to a mining company. Speculation suggests it could hold a stake in the massive Tampakan Gold-Copper project DHI holds roughly ₱3.20B in cash with zero debt a significant "floor" for its valuation

PLUS 18.48

- Leading the index gainers recently, surging 10.66% yesterday as investors shift to the high-growth gaming sector.

ABA 0.38

- Abacore leased the Montemaria site with an option to purchase.
- Analysis: Potential value depends on lease economics, monetization plan, and timeline. Optionality is positive, but small caps can be headline-driven—watch for concrete revenue/cash flow contribution details.
- Recommendation: Speculative Hold. Wait for clearer commercial terms and monetization milestones before adding.

NEWS, ANALYSIS , INVESTING INSIGHT

GLO 1,680.00

- BMI sees Globe Business positioned to benefit from early-stage IoT enterprise demand in the Philippines.
- Analysis: IoT is a high-stickiness B2B layer (connectivity + platforms + managed services). The upside is in ARPU uplift and churn reduction on enterprise accounts, but monetization is usually gradual and requires solution partnerships and security credibility.
- Recommendation: Hold / Accumulate on dips. Positive medium-term optionality; near-term still driven by core mobile/data execution.

MER 610.00

- Announced a 3% sales growth forecast for the year, though the stock recently slipped by roughly 2.4%.
- Meralco guides ~3% energy sales volume growth for 2026.
- Analysis: Volume growth is supportive for core distribution earnings, but investor focus remains on rate recovery, pass-through timing, and regulatory items that can distort reported quarters. If the 3% is achieved with stable system losses and improving mix, it's a clean positive.
- Recommendation: Hold / Accumulate. Constructive demand outlook; add on pullbacks, especially ahead of clearer regulatory/earnings visibility.

MYNLD 21.15

- Maynilad will spend ₱7.7B to reduce non-revenue water/water losses.
- Analysis: NRW reduction is typically high-ROI capex: boosts billable volume without equivalent new supply capex, improves service reliability, and supports regulatory credibility. Execution (leak detection, pipe replacement cadence) is the key.
- Recommendation: Positive / Accumulate (for MPIC-linked exposure). Improves long-term cash flow quality, though benefits accrue over time.

NEWS, ANALYSIS , INVESTING INSIGHT

EEI 2.34

- EEI won ₱1.6B in real estate construction contracts.
- Analysis: Reinforces backlog momentum and revenue visibility. The market will watch margin quality (contract pricing, cost inflation pass-through) and working capital collection cycle.
- Recommendation: Hold / Speculative Buy. Positive for backlog; best for investors comfortable with project execution and cash conversion risk.

PCOR 3.30

- Reported a massive 84% jump in 2025 net income to ₱15.6 billion, driven by domestic volume growth and refinery optimization.
- Petron's profit surged +84% to ₱15.6B, driven by stronger domestic sales.
- Analysis: Strong volume is supportive, but downstream earnings can swing with crack spreads, inventory effects, FX, and price competition. Sustainability depends on margin environment and disciplined inventory management.
- Recommendation: Hold / Take partial profits if extended. Results are strong, but treat as cycle-sensitive; re-add on pullbacks or when margin outlook remains favorable.

SM 700.00

- SMX reported +10% events and +34% visitors in 2025.
- Analysis: MICE momentum is a strong "experience flywheel" for malls/hotels and supports foot traffic + tenant sales productivity. This is a solid reinforcement of SM's recurring-income thesis, especially in regional hubs.
- Recommendation: Accumulate (for SM/SMPH exposure). MICE growth supports leasing ecosystem resilience.
