President Trump struck an optimistic tone for prospects that the US and Iran could clinch a permanent ceasefire as the two sides discuss an extended truce ahead of its expiration next week.

Oil futures edged higher as traders weighed signs the US and Iran may extend a ceasefire against a double blockade of the Strait of Hormuz that continues to impede flows.

JPMorgan lifts Leapmotor price target by 61% to HK$90 citing a strong model pipeline and solid export momentum driving 90% quarter on quarter growth in 2Q.

Asian equities extend their winning streak for a third day as Wall Street's record close and steady energy prices keep risk mood positive.

China's aggressive expansion of domestic polyethylene (PE) production is causing a severe global supply glut and intensifying competition. Over 70% of PE consumed in China is used for packaging. This includes low-density polyethylene (LDPE) for plastic films, bags, and sacks.

DGTL / PLUS — DigiPlus Interactive Corp.

- Secures Three South Africa Licenses; Brazil Commercial Launch Targeted H1 2026
- DigiPlus received approvals from the Western Cape Gambling and Racing Board, securing a national manufacturer license, a bookmaker license, and a bookmaker premises license — paving the way for its entry into South Africa, the largest online gaming market on the African continent, which generated an estimated $4.9 billion in gaming revenues in 2025, with Western Cape accounting for roughly 31% of that figure. A soft launch in South Africa is targeted for early 2027, while Brazil commercial operations remain on track for H1 2026. On the financials, DigiPlus posted full-year 2025 net income that was flat at ₱12.6 billion as first-half strength offset a Q3 regulatory impact from the e-wallet delinking of in-app access to licensed online gaming; revenues rose 12% to ₱84.2 billion; Q4 net income fell 36% to ₱2.5 billion on the partial regulatory effect. EBITDA grew 2% to ₱14.2 billion for the full year. The South Africa licenses mark the second international market entry after Brazil, underscoring DigiPlus's ambition to build a genuinely global digital gaming platform from a Philippine base.
- Stance on DGTL: International diversification is progressing on two fronts simultaneously. The domestic regulatory headwind from the e-wallet delinking has been absorbed; the question for 2026 earnings is whether the Brazil launch generates material revenue. Western Cape's 31% share of South Africa's gaming revenues makes it a high-quality beachhead. Watch for Q1 2026 domestic GGR recovery and Brazil operational update.

ICT

- Raises Tariffs and Handling Rates Globally to Offset Fuel Cost Differentials; Iraq Terminal Most Directly Exposed
- ICTSI Chairman and President Enrique Razon Jr. confirmed during the company's annual stockholders' meeting that the company has already implemented adjustments to tariffs and handling rates across its global terminal network to offset rising diesel and fuel price differentials linked to the Middle East conflict, with the direct operational impact currently concentrated in its Iraq terminal. Razon warned that prolonged disruption to key shipping routes, particularly in Asia — ICTSI's largest market — could have a significant impact on global trade, adding that the effects are being more acutely felt in Asia than in Latin America, where proximity to major suppliers provides a buffer. Critically, Philippine tariff changes require approval from the relevant port authority, limiting ICTSI's ability to pass through costs domestically in the near term. The company's $740 million 2026 capex remains intact. ICTSI's portfolio diversification across six continents continues to buffer the impact of the Iraq exposure — a key structural strength investors should appreciate.
- Stance on ICTSI: ACCUMULATE — Tariff pass-through capability is a demonstration of pricing power in non-Philippine terminals. Geographic diversification is proving its value in real time. The Iraq terminal's performance is being offset by the broader portfolio. Watch for Q1 2026 volume data — any resilience against the macro headwind would be a further positive.

SSI

- Full-Year 2025 Net Income Plunges 47.5% to ₱1.32 Billion; ERP Transition and Weak Consumer Demand Double Blow
- SSI Group reported a 47.5% decline in attributable net income to ₱1.32 billion for 2025, with operating expenses rising 14% to ₱12.0 billion driven by higher depreciation from store renovations, personnel costs, rental, and other operating expenses; operational issues related to its transition to SAP and ETP Enterprise Resource Planning systems caused delays in warehouse-to-store replenishments throughout most of the year, hampering sales performance in the first nine months. Revenue rose only 2.9% to ₱30.8 billion and operating income collapsed from ₱3.23 billion to ₱1.87 billion. Q4 net income fell 45.7% to ₱677 million as additional discounting became necessary to move inventory during a period of generally weak consumer demand, with inventory hitting a record ₱12.3 billion — its largest in recent years. SSI closed the year with 628 stores and 102 brands. The company explicitly flagged that a worsening macro environment — precisely the scenario materializing now with the energy crisis and inflation — could materially and adversely affect its business.
- Stance on SSI: AVOID — The earnings collapse reflects both a company-specific execution failure (ERP transition) and a structural macro risk (weakening consumer discretionary spending). With the oil shock accelerating the consumer spending deterioration, the ERP issues resolved, and record inventory requiring continued discounting into 2026, the path to earnings recovery is not yet visible. SSI's luxury and premium retail exposure is particularly vulnerable to the demand destruction now underway.

MEG, AGI

- Opens Belmont Hotel Iloilo; Megaworld Now Controls ~25% of Iloilo City's Hotel Room Supply
- Megaworld Hotels & Resorts opened Belmont Hotel Iloilo, its third hotel development within the 72-hectare Iloilo Business Park, bringing the group's total room keys within the township to approximately 880 — accounting for nearly 25% of the entire city's hotel room inventory; the 12-story, 405-room property is located along Festive Walk Parade adjacent to the Iloilo Convention Center, with amenities including a grand ballroom for up to 310 guests, wellness facilities, and first-in-Iloilo themed children's rooms connected to adjacent units. Megaworld now operates 16 hotels with approximately 7,500 rooms nationwide and targets 9,000 room keys by 2030 with six more openings. The Iloilo dominance — three hotels, 880 rooms, 25% market share — positions Megaworld as the de facto anchor of the city's MICE and tourism economy. However, the LPC report published the same day provides important counterpoint: the fuel crisis is already suppressing hotel occupancy nationwide, with a prolonged conflict scenario potentially pushing national occupancy below 45%.
- Stance on MEG: MONITOR — Iloilo's hospitality market is somewhat more insulated than Metro Manila given its regional domestic travel base, but the LPC warning applies: jet fuel cost spikes, airfare increases of 25%–50%, and weakening household budgets will pressure occupancy. MEG's high capex deployment (₱65 billion in 2026) also merits FCF scrutiny. Watch for Q1 and Q2 hotel RevPAR data from Iloilo Business Park.

MREIT

- MREIT has partnered with Singapore-based startup media and technology platform e27 to develop a startup hub within a planned Digital Park at McKinley Hill in Taguig City — scheduled to open in 2026 — featuring approximately 2,000 square meters of flexible workspace for startups, founders, investors, and ecosystem participants, with facilities including meeting rooms, conference areas, and multi-sized workspaces; the partnership will be implemented in phases, beginning with partner identification and moving into formal collaborations with investors, accelerators, and corporate groups, including startup-investor sessions, networking events, and mentorship programs. e27, founded in 2007 and based in Singapore, operates one of Southeast Asia's leading platforms connecting startups with investors and corporate stakeholders. The McKinley Hill pilot is intended to be replicated across Eastwood City, Southwoods City, Capital Town, and Iloilo Business Park. This follows the 2025 Common Ground Digital Park partnership at the same location and represents a step-up in MREIT's startup ecosystem ambition — from co-working space to a fully embedded, event-driven innovation platform. Critically, MREIT's Wave 4 asset swap (₱16.22 billion, nine Grade A McKinley Hill buildings) remains pending SEC approval in H1 2026.
- Stance on MREIT: ACCUMULATE — The e27 partnership deepens tenant ecosystem stickiness in McKinley Hill's PEZA-zone campus, supporting long-term GCC and tech tenant retention. MREIT's ~7% dividend yield, 80%+ GCC tenant base, and Wave 4 GLA accretion story are intact. Wave 4 SEC approval is the near-term re-rating catalyst. The macro downturn has limited impact on REIT income given long-term GCC lease structures.

JFC

- JFC's Korean coffee brand Compose Coffee recorded strong initial demand at its Taiwan debut, with customers lining up from 8 a.m., peak-hour sales reaching approximately one cup every 20 seconds, wait times extending to two hours, and first-day sales totaling around NT$70,000; Taiwan is Compose Coffee's first international market outside South Korea, where the brand operates approximately 3,000 stores. JFC also obtained Korea Fair Trade Commission approval for the planned acquisition of Shabu All Day, a South Korean hot pot chain, through Jolli-K — the deal is expected to add 2% to JFC revenue, 8% to global EBIT, and 1% to store count upon completion. Separately, Highlands Coffee (Vietnam) delivered 2025 revenue growth at a high double-digit rate, with Q1 2026 same-store sales growth at a high single-digit rate — sustained by digital channel expansion and its largely company-owned store network. JFC shares rose 2.81% to ₱164.50 on Thursday.
- Stance on JFC: ACCUMULATE — Three simultaneous positive catalysts in one disclosure: Compose Coffee's international scalability validated by Taiwan's blockbuster debut; Shabu All Day adds a high-EBIT diversifier in Korea; Highlands Coffee shows Vietnam's durability as a recurring income engine. JFC's global earnings diversification continues to be the strongest structural argument for the stock in an otherwise difficult macro environment. Watch for official Taiwan store rollout plans and Q2 Compose Coffee Philippines launch timeline.

LPC Q1 2026 Report: Energy Crisis Poses Gravest Threat to Philippine Hotels Since the Pandemic

- Leechiu Property Consultants' Q1 2026 market report found that 64% of Philippine hotels are reporting significant to severe operational impact from the energy crisis, with occupancy expected to fall sharply in April and May as jet fuel costs have doubled within three weeks — driving airfare increases of 25% to 50% on long-haul routes and destination transport cost increases of 20% to 30%; national hotel occupancy in 2025 remained flat at 60%, still below the 68% recorded in 2019, with Cebu and Mactan occupancy sliding to 54%. In a prolonged conflict scenario, national occupancy could drop below 45%, potentially making a majority of Philippine hotels loss-making in 2026, while a moderate scenario projects 45%–50% occupancy and a favorable scenario points to 50%–55%. LPC also flagged that 650 in-person ASEAN meetings are expected to be canceled, further denting room and event revenues; 80% of hotels are already feeling occupancy declines; and many hotel construction projects are being shelved, delayed, or renegotiated.
- The LPC assessment is the most comprehensive sector-level warning to date on hotel market conditions and applies with varying severity across listed developers with hospitality portfolios. Megaworld (MEG) and its subsidiary Global Estate Resorts (GERI) together operate 16 hotel properties with approximately 7,500 rooms in Metro Manila, Tagaytay, Cebu, Boracay, and now Iloilo; Belmont Hotel Iloilo opens into this headwind. Ayala Land (ALI) operates Seda Hotels across multiple urban and resort locations, with AC Hotels extending the parent's hospitality exposure. CLI's hospitality segment — covering roughly 800+ room keys across Visayas and Mindanao including lyf Cebu, Abaca Bohol, and Sofitel Cebu partnerships — is more regionally insulated given the shorter-haul domestic travel profile of its markets. RLC's Go Hotels, FLI's Vista Hotels, and SMPH's integrated venue and hotel assets round out the listed universe with meaningful hotel revenues.
- Stance — Hotel-Exposed PSE Names: MONITOR-to-AVOID depending on portfolio composition. Names with high concentrations in international gateway destinations (Metro Manila, Cebu/Mactan, Boracay) face the most direct occupancy risk from the airfare shock. Regional and provincial operators (CLI in VisMin; MEG's Iloilo) have greater domestic travel insulation but are not immune. Integrated township developers where hotel revenues are a small fraction of total earnings (SMPH, RLC, ALI) are better buffered by their diversified income streams. For pure-play or high-concentration hospitality exposure, the LPC downside scenario — sub-45% national occupancy, majority of hotels loss-making — warrants defensive positioning through H1 2026 at minimum. A resolution of the Hormuz crisis is the primary upside trigger for the sector.
