Wall Street closed lower as geopolitical tensions and higher oil prices sparked risk-off sentiment. Investors trimmed positions on fears the conflict could fuel inflation and delay Fed rate cuts.

Oil spikes on geopolitical tensions; metals and Bitcoin pull back on profit-taking and stronger USD as investors trim risk.

Margin Calls and Profit Taking: Following gold's peak above $5,600/oz earlier this year, traders are liquidating positions to cover losses in a tumbling stock market or simply booking massive profits.

Asia set for a cautious Friday open: oil spike on Middle East conflict fuels inflation fears. Energy names may lead while airlines, tech and import-heavy economies face pressure.

- Yesterday: Asian indices staged a broad and powerful recovery after a multi-day rout triggered by escalating Middle East tensions. Technical Bounce, US strong private-sector hiring, services data, & a temporary pause in the crude oil price spike

Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) has kept its Overnight Policy Rate (OPR) at 2.75% as expected, maintaining its stance to support economic growth amid moderate inflation and global uncertainty.

NEWS, ANALYSIS , INVESTING INSIGHT

AP

- FY2025: EBITDA +9% to ₱79.6B on new solar and CGHI contributions
- Core net income ₱33.1B (+2% YoY ex-GNPower Dinginin costs)
- Reported net income fell 43% to ₱19.5B due to forex/derivative effects and GMEC impairment.
- Total energy sales surged 21% to 43,718 GWh, and the company is aggressively expanding renewables, highlighted by the P36.3-billion acquisition of the Caliraya-Botocan-Kalayaan hydropower complex.
- Analysis: The GNPower Mariveles impairment is a one-off drag that masks otherwise solid operating momentum. EBITDA grew 9% and Q4 core income jumped 54%. The leverage ratio rising to 1.2x bears watching, but new hydro and solar assets diversify the portfolio away from coal. The underlying business is healthy.
- Recommendation: Hold/accumulate on weakness. The headline earnings decline is noise from a one-time impairment; the renewable pivot and strong EBITDA growth support a constructive medium-term view.

ACEN

- Subsidiary SanMar Solar plans to construct a 2,000-megawatt-hour battery energy storage system (BESS) at the 585-MW SanMar Solar project in Zambales, projected to cost P15.88 billion.
- Construction is scheduled to begin in Q3 2026 and finish by late 2027, with commercial operations targeted for Q1 2028.
- The system is designed to store daytime output and dispatch power during peak demand, helping meet DOE requirements for ancillary services.
- Analysis: This is a meaningful commitment to dispatchable renewables, a key gap in the Philippine grid. Pairing 500MW of storage with an existing 585MW solar farm transforms a variable asset into a baseload-capable one, improving revenue quality and long-term contract competitiveness. Regulatory and construction execution risk remain, but the strategic logic is sound.
- Recommendation: Positive signal for ACEN. Investors should monitor ECC approval timelines and capex financing, but this positions ACEN ahead of peers in the evolving clean energy landscape.

NEWS, ANALYSIS , INVESTING INSIGHT

DD

- The Philippine Competition Commission approved DoubleDragon's plan to purchase 35% of MerryMart under a P1.28-billion deal, finding the transaction unlikely to result in a substantial lessening of competition.
- Under the transaction, DD will buy 2.66 billion MerryMart shares at 48 centavos per share from Injap Investments, with half paid in DD shares and the remaining half in cash worth P637.97 million.
- DD will also be required to conduct a mandatory tender offer for remaining MerryMart shareholders.
- Analysis: The PCC clearance removes a key regulatory hurdle. The deal reinforces DoubleDragon's pivot from pure real estate into consumer retail, creating potential synergies between its CityMall network and MerryMart's grocery and pharmacy chains. The acquisition price, however, remains a point of contention given MerryMart's IPO valuation history.
- Recommendation: Neutral to mildly positive for DD. Strategic fit is credible, but the mandatory tender offer adds near-term cash outflow risk. Minority MerryMart holders may find the deal terms unsatisfying.

SEC - Term Caps Align Broker-Director Service with International Best Practices

- The SEC is proposing that broker-directors be elected for one-year terms with a maximum cumulative period of 10 years, whether consecutive or intermittent, and that a broker-director who has served five years observe a two-year cooling-off period.
- The initiative aims to level the playing field and provide other brokers the opportunity to serve on the PSE board, following the SEC's earlier implementation of a nine-year cumulative limit for independent directors.
- Analysis: This is a sound governance reform that extends to broker-directors the same accountability framework already applied to independent directors. It reduces entrenchment risk and opens board participation to a broader pool of market participants. Some incumbents will resist, but the international precedent is clear.
- Recommendation: Supportive development for PSE market credibility overall. Listed companies and trading participants should audit board composition now to prepare for compliance requirements.

STI

- STI Education Systems Holdings reported 18% growth in net income for the first half ending December 2025, rising to P1.08 billion from P912.2 million, even as total enrollment declined due to the earlier start of classes in public junior and senior high schools.
- Gross revenues climbed 8% to P2.83 billion, while tertiary program enrollment rose to 102,407 from 101,256, and continuing students in CHED-regulated programs increased 14%.
- Analysis: The enrollment dip is largely a calendar timing artifact rather than structural demand weakness, and the 14% jump in continuing CHED-program students signals healthy retention. Profitability growing faster than revenue points to improving operating leverage. Specialized program investments in cybersecurity and creative tools support a premium positioning strategy.
- Recommendation: Positive. STI is executing well in a competitive sector. The enrollment normalization risk from earlier public school openings should ease; watch second-half figures for confirmation of full-year momentum.

LOTO
BEL

- Pacific Online Systems Corp. acquired 200 million treasury shares of Belle Corp. at P1.40 apiece for a total of P280 million.
- For Belle, the share sale was intended to liquefy dormant assets and raise fresh capital for forthcoming projects, with the transaction increasing Belle's public float by approximately 1.12 percentage points.
- The deal is classified as a material related-party transaction, as it exceeds 10% of Pacific Online's total consolidated assets.
- Analysis: This is an intra-group capital recycling exercise rather than a third-party strategic investment. Belle unlocks idle treasury stock; Pacific Online deepens its exposure to the parent company. Related-party optics require scrutiny, and the size of the transaction relative to Pacific Online's balance sheet is notable. Belle's fundamentals have been pressured, with net income down 14% through the first nine months of 2025.
- Recommendation: Monitor with caution. The transaction is legal and disclosed, but the related-party nature and Belle's recent earnings softness warrant closer review before treating this as a positive catalyst.
