GLOBAL & REGIONAL MARKETS

The S&P 500 and Nasdaq rebounded on Wednesday, with the S&P climbing 0.59% to 7,444 and the Nasdaq surging 1.21% to 26,402 as tech stocks recovered from Tuesday's inflation-driven selloff. Shares of Nvidia's supply chain partners surged after Trump added Jensen Huang to his official business delegation to Beijing for US-China trade talks. The Dow slipped 0.14% to 49,693 as traders rotated out of industrial and defensive names. Oil eased but crude remains above $100: WTI -1.02% to $101.02, Brent -1.92% to $105.70. Gold edged lower to $4,707; Bitcoin retreated on profit-taking. Bonds fell further as inflation pickup fueled Fed-hike bets. Investors expect higher inflation ahead and rising government debt concerns are prompting bond investors to demand more compensation for long-term risk. The US 10-year yield held at 4.465%. The MSCI EM Index remains under pressure as global traders and foreign institutional investors continue skipping Philippine capital markets amid a severe confidence crisis.

In Asia, the Kospi surged 2.63% to 7,844; Nikkei rose 0.84% to 63,272. Taiwan's TWSE dropped 1.25% ahead of the Trump-Xi meeting. Thailand's SET plunged dramatically to 988 (-33.4%) — flagged as potential data anomaly or circuit breaker event. Indonesia's JCI fell 1.98% to 6,723. Singapore's STI rose 1.17% to 5,004. Global rice production is set to fall for the first time in a decade as the Hormuz closure has blocked fertilizer supply chains. BREAKING: President Marcos called for calm after a shooting incident inside the Philippine Senate complex on Wednesday evening, May 13. Marcos explicitly denied government or state security involvement. The Northwest Pacific typhoon season is seeing an active start with early storm formation and high-intensity forecasts. Honda faces its first-ever annual loss (¥2.5T / $15.9B EV impairment). Chinese EV stocks fell on Morgan Stanley's weakening domestic demand report.

NEWS, ANALYSIS & INVESTING INSIGHT

JFC — Jollibee — Day 2 Selloff: -6.25% to ₱135 (5yr Low)	₱135.00	AVOID

Jollibee extended its selloff for a second consecutive session, falling 6.25% to ₱135 — deepening the 5-year low set Tuesday. The stock is now down nearly 20% in two days following the Q1 NI -39% shock. RSI has plunged to 20 — deep oversold territory. Revenue +9% to ₱76.5B and SWS +10.3% confirm demand is healthy, but margin destruction from 11.7% cost surge and management's guidance review continue to weigh. Q2 price hikes are planned but may take 1–2 quarters to flow through. (Source: PSE DQR, DA Market Securities)

Stance: 🔴 AVOID — RSI 20 is deeply oversold and a technical bounce is possible, but the fundamental picture remains broken until Q2 earnings confirm margin recovery. Two-day -20% drop reflects structural re-pricing, not just sentiment. Knife-catchers beware.

AREIT — AREIT — Q1 NI +25% to ₱2.6B; ₱0.62/Share Dividend	₱38.20	ACCUMULATE

AREIT posted 25% growth in Q1 net income to ₱2.6 billion and declared a ₱0.62/share dividend. The REIT's contracted lease income from predominantly GCC tenants provides insulation from the BSP tightening cycle on the revenue side. At ₱38.20, AREIT yields approximately 6.5% annualized. The Wave 4 asset swap (SEC approval pending H1 2026) remains the fundamental re-rating catalyst.

Stance: 🟢 ACCUMULATE — Q1 +25% confirms earnings momentum. ₱0.62/share dividend = ~6.5% yield. Contracted leases provide defensive income. Wave 4 catalyst pending.

JGS — JG Summit — Revenue +7%, Core NI -8%, Forex Drag	₱25.50	MONITOR

JG Summit reported Q1 revenue of ₱99.9 billion (+7%) and operating profit of ₱17.1 billion (+9%), driven by record CEB passenger volumes (7.5M, revenues +10% to ₱33.3B), resilient URC food sales (+6% to ₱47.9B), and RLC revenue growth (+11% to ₱12.2B). However, core net income fell 8% to ₱6.9 billion on higher parent-level interest expense from petrochem debt absorption, larger REIT minority share, and softer sugar prices. Reported NI from continuing operations dropped 27% to ₱5.5 billion after forex translation losses on dollar-denominated debt. Reported NI (including petrochem loss narrowing) rose 19% to ₱5.2 billion. CEO Lance Gokongwei: "We are not immune to headwinds — implementing austerity measures, adjusting prices, maintaining balance sheet strength." Dividend: ₱0.45/share (+7% YoY). JGS closed at ₱25.50, down 3.4%. (Source: BusinessWorld, Inquirer, Philstar, InsiderPH, Manila Times, May 13–14)

Stance: 🟡 MONITOR — Topline execution is strong (revenue +7%, OpInc +9%) but forex and financing costs erode the bottom line. CEB's ₱400M net loss on peso weakness is concerning. Watch for H2 FX normalization and petrochem drag reduction.

MER — Meralco — Defensive Positioning at ₱630	₱630.00	ACCUMULATE

Meralco's position as the dominant regulated power distributor covering 55% of the nation's electricity output underpins its valuation premium. Investors view MER as a defensive, income-generating asset due to consistent high-yield dividends and strong financial performance. Despite May bills potentially reflecting higher oil-crisis pass-through generation costs, MER's distribution charge (its only revenue component at 17.5% of the bill) has been unchanged since August 2022. MER fell 3.08% to ₱630 on Wednesday amid broad selling. (Source: DA Market Securities, Analyst consensus)

Stance: 🟢 ACCUMULATE — Defensive utility with locked distribution revenue. Oil crisis is a consumer demand risk but not an MER earnings risk. Buy the dip.

CEB — Cebu Pacific — EBITDA +26% but Net Loss ₱400M on FX	₱30.50	MONITOR

Cebu Pacific's Q1 EBITDA rose 26% to ₱8.4 billion and operating income surged 54% to ₱3 billion on record 7.5M passengers. However, peso depreciation resulted in non-core forex losses of ₱1.8 billion, swinging CEB to a net loss of ₱400 million vs. net income of ₱466 million a year ago. Fleet: 101 aircraft; cash position: ₱23 billion. CEB closed at ₱30.50, down 0.65%.

Stance: 🟡 MONITOR — Operational execution is excellent (EBITDA +26%) but FX losses are a non-recurring drag. Watch for peso stabilization to unlock reported profitability.

SGP — Synergy Grid — 52-Week High Momentum	₱29.10	ACCUMULATE

SGP surged 7.98% to ₱29.10, among the top gainers and most active by value (₱432M). The transmission company continues to benefit from the energy crisis as grid investment and pass-through revenues remain robust. SGP is at RSI overbought levels.

Stance: 🟢 ACCUMULATE — Structural energy transition beneficiary. Regulated revenue model provides earnings visibility. Trail stops on overbought condition.

MACRO — Senate Shooting + Political Risk + Global Inflation	—	RISK ALERT

A shooting incident inside the Philippine Senate complex on Wednesday evening May 13 has heightened political risk. President Marcos called for calm and denied government involvement. This comes amid growing risk of protests over government corruption, stalled reforms, and the oil crisis. The combination of political instability, accelerating inflation (7.2% April CPI), weakening peso (₱61.48/$), and the lowest bond auction cover since 2013 creates a toxic macro environment. Global traders and foreign institutional investors are increasingly skipping Philippine capital markets. Additionally, bonds are falling globally as the inflation pickup fuels expectations the Fed may delay rate cuts, keeping sticky inflation in play longer.

Stance: 🔴 RISK ALERT — Political uncertainty + macro deterioration = maximum caution. Defensive positioning mandatory. Favor contracted revenue, dividends, and dollar-linked earnings.
