GLOBAL MARKETS COMMENTARY

Wall Street extended its rally on May 12 even as the US-Israel-Iran conflict persisted, with the Dow Jones gaining 95 points to 49,704, the S&P 500 rising 0.19% to 7,413, and the NASDAQ adding 0.10% to 26,274. Markets appear to be pricing in a contained conflict rather than a broader regional escalation, with US economic resilience and receding recession fears underpinning the advance. The question investors are now asking is how long this decoupling of equity markets from geopolitical risk can continue.

Energy markets reflected the underlying tensions more candidly: WTI Crude surged 2.91% to $98.09/bbl while Brent Crude crossed $104/bbl, levels that historically stress corporate earnings and consumer spending. Precious and industrial metals broadly advanced — Gold added 0.83% to $4,770/oz, Silver jumped over 8%, and Copper climbed 3.14% — reflecting a mix of safe-haven demand and optimism around energy-transition infrastructure spending. Cocoa surged a notable 12.6% to $4,709/MT, reflecting persistent supply disruption from West Africa.

Across Asia-Pacific, performance was divergent. Chinese markets rallied sharply — SHCOMP +1.56%, TWSE +1.58% — as investors rotated back into beaten-down tech and manufacturing names. Korea's KOSPI surged over 7%, suggesting a strong technical recovery, while Hong Kong's Hang Seng saw an unusual swing. Japan's Nikkei added 0.36% despite USD-JPY hovering near 157. Australia and India dipped modestly. The overall picture is one of selective risk appetite, with money chasing momentum in North Asian markets while cautious positioning continues in emerging economies.

PHILIPPINES STRATEGY & MARKET NARRATIVE

The PSEi closed May 11 at 5,986.85, advancing 19.85 points or +0.33% in a session characterized by cautious optimism rather than conviction buying. The index held above the psychologically important 5,900–5,950 support band, with 14 advances against 12 declines and 4 unchanged. Turnover of ₱5.43 billion was below the ₱8.5 billion seen in the prior session — a sign that while the bounce from sub-5,800 levels continues, participation remains selective and volume-thin.

The dominant macro narrative remains political uncertainty. The Philippine House's vote to impeach Vice President Sara Duterte, Senate maneuvering to delay or deflect that vote, and the dramatic pursuit of an ICC-linked lawmaker on the Senate floor have collectively rattled foreign investor confidence. BSP data shows net foreign direct investment into the Philippines fell 31% year-on-year to $590 million in February — a worrying structural signal even as month-on-month inflows recovered 33%. Year-to-date net foreign equity selling stands at $67 million, underscoring the persistent outflow trend.

T-bill yields at the latest auction — 91-day at 4.85%, 182-day at 5.27%, and 364-day at 5.719% — reflect measured liquidity and BSP's cautious stance. The peso weakened to 61.13 per dollar, adding a layer of cost to Philippine corporates with dollar-denominated obligations. Technically, the PSEi remains in a medium-term downtrend after stalling near the 6,500–6,600 resistance zone earlier this year. The current bounce has the character of a relief rally: the 6,000–6,050 zone is the first meaningful test of whether genuine recovery momentum is building.

MACRO WATCH

INDICATOR	DETAIL
PHL FDI (Feb 2026)	Net inflows fell 31% YoY to $590M. Monthly recovery +33% from Jan's $443M. BSP data.

T-Bill Auction	91-day: 4.85% | 182-day: 5.27% | 364-day: 5.719% on PHP12B, PHP9.8B, PHP6.51B sold respectively.
Political Risk	House impeaches VP Sara Duterte. Senate maneuvering heightens institutional conflict risk. ICC-linked legislator chase adds governance optics pressure.
USD-PHP	Peso at 61.13, weakening 1.01% from prior day. Adds to import costs and foreign debt servicing burden.
Oil Prices	WTI $98.09, Brent $104.21. Persistent US-Iran conflict premium. Elevated energy costs risk BSP inflation target overshoot.
Net Foreign Selling	May MTD: $247.5M | YTD: $67.1M. Monday net sell: $2.4M. Consistent foreign equity outflow trend.

AC | 471.00 | Ayala Corp. Secures $100M Sustainability-Linked Loan from DBS Bank

Ayala Corp. has signed a $100-million sustainability-linked loan with Singapore's DBS Bank Ltd., marking the group's first Singapore dollar-denominated hedged loan facility. Proceeds will support expansion across Ayala's core business sectors including infrastructure, real estate, financial services, and healthcare. The facility ties interest rates to the achievement of specific sustainability performance targets, aligning financing with Ayala's ESG commitments. The transaction underscores continued access by Philippine blue-chip conglomerates to international capital markets despite broader sovereign risk concerns. AC closed at PHP 471.00 on May 11, with the stock appearing in the foreign buy list for the session.

The SLL is strategically significant on two counts: it diversifies Ayala's funding base beyond peso-denominated instruments while anchoring the cost of capital to sustainability milestones — a structure that typically improves access to a wider pool of institutional lenders. The SGD-hedged nature of the facility also signals a degree of currency risk management discipline. For a conglomerate navigating peso depreciation pressure and elevated domestic rates, this represents prudent liability management. AC's foreign buy positioning on May 11 suggests institutional investors are selectively accumulating the name on dips.

● ACCUMULATE AC | Fundamentally resilient balance sheet; SLL diversifies funding; foreign interest returning.

ACEN | 3.39 | ACEN Reaches Financial Close on 75MWac Jinbi Solar Project in Western Australia

ACEN Corp. has secured financing for its 75-megawatt-alternating current Jinbi Solar Project in the Pilbara region of Western Australia, a joint venture developed through Yindjibarndi Energy Corp. (YEC) — a partnership with the Yindjibarndi Aboriginal Corp. Construction is now set to commence following the financial close milestone. The project is underpinned by a landmark 30-year power purchase agreement with mining giant Rio Tinto, providing long-term revenue certainty for the asset. This deal advances ACEN's goal of building 20GW of renewable energy capacity across the Asia-Pacific region by 2030. ACEN featured in the foreign buy list on May 11 and is the second-most traded stock by value at PHP 462 million.

The 30-year PPA with Rio Tinto is a landmark anchor for this project — one of the longest-tenor renewable PPAs seen in the Australian market, offering ACEN exceptional cash flow visibility. The Yindjibarndi partnership provides a social license to operate in a politically sensitive mining corridor. For ACEN investors, this milestone reduces development-stage risk and moves the project into execution phase, where capital deployment and revenue ramp become the key monitoring metrics. ACEN's RSI reading in overbought territory warrants watching for tactical entry points on any pullback toward ₱3.10–₱3.20.

● ACCUMULATE ACEN | 30-yr PPA with Rio Tinto de-risks Jinbi Solar; RE pipeline intact; monitor RSI.

MWC | 44.70 | Manila Water to Build P450M Rizal Raw Water Transmission Pipeline

Manila Water Co. will construct a nine-kilometer raw water transmission pipeline in Rizal Province at a cost of PHP 450 million, connecting future water sources to the planned Pasig Water Treatment Plant. The project is designed to support long-term water supply requirements in Rizal and surrounding communities. As the East Zone concessionaire under the MWSS framework, Manila Water has obligation to expand infrastructure ahead of growing demand in Metro Manila's eastern corridor. The project underscores continued capex commitment even as MWC appeared in the foreign sell list on May 11. MWC's parent, Ayala Corp., is also separately accessing capital through the DBS sustainability-linked loan.

The Rizal pipeline project is a necessary infrastructure investment rather than a discretionary growth initiative — it maintains regulatory compliance and secures long-term concession performance metrics. The PHP 450M capex is manageable relative to MWC's scale but adds to near-term cash flow drag. Importantly, MWC appeared on the foreign sell list on May 11, consistent with broader institutional profit-taking in utility names amid peso weakness. Investors should monitor MWC's leverage trajectory as interest rate costs remain elevated.

● MONITOR MWC | Capex cycle ongoing; utility fundamentals intact but foreign selling and peso headwind warrant caution.

RLC | 17.88 | Robinsons Land Posts 1.7% Q1 Net Income Growth on Leasing Momentum

Robinsons Land Corp. (RLC) reported attributable net income of PHP 3.54 billion for the first quarter of 2026, a 1.7% increase from the same period a year earlier, driven by steady leasing segment growth and a recovery in residential project activity. Consolidated net revenues also edged higher, reflecting performance across RLC's diversified property portfolio spanning malls, offices, hotels, and residential developments. The results are modest but positive, confirming the gradual normalization of property demand post-pandemic. RLC appeared in the foreign buy list on May 11, with the stock closing at PHP 17.88 — a 3.35% gain on the day.

A 1.7% net income growth print is not a headline-grabbing number, but for a property sector navigating elevated construction costs, peso depreciation, and soft residential absorption, it signals stability. Leasing-led income streams provide annuity-like earnings quality that distinguishes RLC from purely residential developers. The stock's +3.35% session gain and foreign buy positioning suggest re-rating interest, particularly as property valuations remain compressed. With RRHI (Robinsons Retail) also in the foreign buy list, institutional money appears to be selectively rebuilding exposure to the Robinson's ecosystem.

● ACCUMULATE RLC | Steady leasing growth, foreign-buy interest, and compressed valuations support accumulation.

SHLPH | Shell Pilipinas Defends Director Nominations Before the SEC

Shell Pilipinas Corp. said it would address through proper regulatory channels a complaint filed before the Securities and Exchange Commission questioning the independence of nominees to its board ahead of its annual stockholders' meeting. The complaint raises concerns about whether nominated independent directors meet the requisite standards of independence from the company's major shareholders. Shell Pilipinas indicated it would cooperate fully with the SEC review process. The development adds governance scrutiny to the company at a time when oil prices have been elevated and SHLPH appeared on the foreign sell list on May 11.

Governance complaints before the SEC create headline risk and typically weigh on sentiment even when ultimately resolved in the company's favor. The timing is particularly sensitive given that global oil market volatility — with Brent above $104/bbl — means SHLPH's earnings backdrop is actually improving, making the governance overhang a potential buy-the-dip opportunity for investors willing to look through regulatory noise. However, the foreign sell positioning on May 11 suggests institutional caution. Awaiting SEC outcome before establishing new positions is the prudent course.

● GOVERNANCE WATCH SHLPH | SEC complaint creates headline risk; monitor for resolution before adding exposure.

TOP | Top Line Business Development Earmarks P440M for Cebu Fuel Depot Expansion

Top Line Business Development Corp. has set aside up to PHP 440 million for the expansion of its fuel depot operations in Cebu, proceeding with the capital investment despite ongoing oil market volatility stemming from the US-Israel-Iran conflict. The depot expansion is designed to increase storage and distribution capacity in the Visayas region, positioning Top Line to capture demand growth as economic activity in Cebu accelerates. The decision to push forward amid elevated oil prices reflects management's view that downstream fuel distribution infrastructure remains a resilient business regardless of upstream commodity swings. TOP appeared on the foreign sell list on May 11.

A PHP 440 million depot expansion in Cebu is strategically sound for a fuel logistics player: it captures medium-term demand growth in one of the fastest-growing regional economies in the Philippines. However, the elevated Brent price environment above $104/bbl compresses fuel retailer margins and creates working capital pressure. The foreign sell positioning on May 11 reflects broader caution on names with direct oil price exposure. Investors with a 12–18 month horizon may find the capacity expansion thesis compelling, but near-term margin headwinds argue for patience.

● MONITOR TOP | Depot expansion strategically positive long-term; near-term oil cost pressure warrants monitoring.

2GO / SM | 2GO Partners with Ceres Liner for Integrated Port Shuttle Services

2GO Group, Inc. has entered into a partnership with Vallacar Transit, Inc., operator of the Ceres Liner bus network, to launch shuttle services connecting port terminals to key land transport hubs across the Philippines. The collaboration aims to provide seamless door-to-door logistics connectivity for cargo clients, leisure travelers, and underserved communities in the Visayas and Mindanao corridors. By pairing 2GO's sea freight network with Ceres Liner's extensive bus routes, the joint venture creates a multimodal logistics corridor that neither partner could replicate independently. 2GO is part of the SM Group and benefits from the SM ecosystem's logistical and consumer reach.

The 2GO-Ceres Liner tie-up is a logical and capital-light partnership that expands 2GO's last-mile value proposition without requiring 2GO to invest in ground transport assets. For SM (listed on the PSEi), this reinforces the group's integrated logistics narrative. Multimodal logistics partnerships are structural growth plays in the Philippines given chronic inter-island supply chain inefficiencies. Investors tracking SM should view this as incremental positive for the conglomerate's logistics arm, though the direct earnings impact on the listed entity remains modest in the near term.

● ACCUMULATE SM | 2GO-Ceres logistics tie-up adds multimodal value; incremental positive for SM ecosystem.

Weekly RSI: 35.97 (MACD line) | 53.00 (Signal). The weekly RSI at 35.97 is approaching oversold territory (sub-30), which historically marks a high-probability mean-reversion zone for AREIT. However, momentum confirmation is needed: the weekly MACD remains negative at -0.318 with a near-zero signal (+0.006), suggesting the downtrend has not yet exhausted. A weekly close above ₱41.75 (0.236 Fibonacci) would signal the first meaningful technical recovery attempt. Until then, the path of least resistance remains lower toward ₱37.50–₱38.00.
