Session covered: June 15, 2026

THE CALL "End of War, Not Times" — the relief rally arrives in force

The peace trade detonated: the PSEi rocketed 362.82 pts (+6.13%) to 6,272.88 — its biggest single-day gain in years — on the US–Iran deal to end hostilities and fully reopen the Strait of Hormuz. Foreign funds bought a net ₱1.03B ($17.04M), the third straight inflow day, led by ICT (+₱760.2M), BDO (+₱452.5M) and BPI (+₱213.5M). Every sector rose: Financials +9.03%, Mining & Oil +7.41%, Holdings +5.97%. Oil kept falling (WTI $81.45, with intraday prints near $80) and — the standout local catalyst — the PHL 10-year yield collapsed 37.1 bps to 7.115%, supercharging the rate-sensitive complex. The peso held the ₱60 handle. Breadth was decisively positive (144 advances vs 58 declines) on heavy ₱12.76B turnover. The index is now firmly tracking toward the 6,300–6,500 year-end target window, ahead of schedule. Stay long the rally's leaders — banks (BDO, BPI), ICT, AC and the REIT/property complex on the yield plunge — but be disciplined: after a 6% melt-up, chase quality on pullbacks rather than at the highs, and watch the BSP decision and any wobble in the Iran timeline.

PSE figures per the June 15, 2026 DQR (authoritative). The "June 16" global column reflects the latest reads through the continuing risk-on rally; international closes are carried pending each market's settle. (STI June-16 print appears mis-keyed in source data and is shown as supplied.)

Asia led a synchronized global relief rally after the US and Iran reached a historic agreement to end the war and fully reopen the Strait of Hormuz. The Philippines, South Korea and Japan paced the region — the KOSPI surged toward 8,694, the Nikkei to 69,192 — while the MSCI AC Asia Pacific Index advanced sharply with the overwhelming majority of members higher. Global oil fell 4–5% on the removal of the war-risk premium (Brent dipping toward $80, WTI near $83 intraday). In the US, strong growth continues to favor equities over bonds, keeping Treasury yields firm even as risk appetite roars. The read for the Philippines is the cleanest possible: lower oil plus a collapsing domestic yield equals a powerful tailwind for an import-heavy, rate-sensitive market — exactly what drove the PSEi's 6%+ leap.

Commodities

Commodity	June 15	June 16	% Chg
WTI Crude ($/bbl)	84.88	81.45	-4.04%
Brent Crude ($/bbl)	87.33	83.70	-4.16%
Gold COMEX ($/oz)	4,238.80	4,338.10	+2.34%
Silver COMEX ($/oz)	67.97	69.96	+2.93%
Copper COMEX (¢/lb)	650.65	653.35	+0.41%
Nickel ($/MT)	17,718.95	17,804.93	+0.49%
Coal ($/MT)	148.95	146.35	-1.75%
Corn (¢/bu)	440.25	441.50	+0.28%
Wheat (¢/bu)	595.75	599.75	+0.67%
Cocoa ($/MT)	3,868.00	3,972.00	+2.69%
Sugar (¢/lb)	14.23	14.19	-0.28%

Crude extended its collapse — WTI to $81.45 and Brent to $83.70, with intraday prints near $80/$83 — as the Hormuz reopening drained the geopolitical premium. Gold (+2.34%) and silver (+2.93%) firmed on the softer dollar and lower real yields rather than safe-haven demand, lifting local gold proxies (OGP, APX) even as the broader oil-price relief dominates. Sustained sub-$85 crude is the key disinflation lever for the BSP and a direct cost tailwind for airlines (CEB, PAL) and power/logistics — while it pressures coal/oil realizations (SCC, PCOR).

Fixed Income & Currencies

FX & Rates	June 15	June 16	% Chg
PHL 10yr Bond Yield (%)	7.486	7.115	-4.96%
US 10yr Bond Yield (%)	4.485	4.472	-0.29%
USD-PHP	60.794	60.794	0.00%
USD-JPY	160.24	160.25	+0.01%
EUR-USD	1.1568	1.1590	+0.19%

The bond market told the real story: the PHL 10-year yield cratered 37.1 bps to 7.115% — a massive move that is the single biggest driver of the day's REIT, property and bank re-rating. Tuesday's T-bill auction confirmed the easing: 91-day at 5.171%, 63-day at 4.942%, 35-day at 4.611%, all bid down as markets cheered the deal. The peso held ₱60.794 after outpacing Asian peers in the relief rally. The US 10-year was little changed at 4.472%. With inflation pressure easing on cheaper oil, the BSP is now expected to stick to small, measured hikes — or pause — which the curve has already begun pricing.

Philippines — Market Strategy

This was a textbook risk-on melt-up. The PSEi gained 362.82 pts (+6.13%) to 6,272.88 — touching an intraday high of 6,320.75 — on broad, heavy participation: turnover hit ₱12.76B, breadth was 144 advances to 58 declines, and every single sector closed green, led by Financials (+9.03%, +160.76 pts) as the 10-year yield collapsed. Foreign funds were net buyers of ₱1.03B, the third consecutive inflow session, decisively concentrated in the liquid index leaders: ICT (+₱760.2M), BDO (+₱452.5M), BPI (+₱213.5M), GLO (+₱30.4M), URC (+₱31.5M) and AC (+₱37.7M). Month-to-date foreign selling narrowed to $390.95M and YTD to $210.52M — the trend is mending fast. Block-sale value was again heavy at ₱1.38B, dominated by multiple ICT crosses (₱245.8M + ₱211.3M + ₱343.8M) plus BPI ₱213.4M and RLC ₱179.4M.

Strategy: ride the leaders but respect the move. After a one-day 6% surge, the highest-conviction adds are on pullbacks in the names with both fundamental and flow support — the banks (BDO, BPI, MBT) on the yield collapse and foreign bid, ICT on flow dominance, and AC as the holdco beta. The REIT/property complex (AREIT, RCR, RLC, SMPH) is the cleanest expression of the lower-yield regime. Treat ALI's +5.97% pop cautiously — foreigners sold ₱174.9M into the strength and AREIT's ₱44M block-sale overhang (offer ₱35.25–35.60) is a near-term supply cap on AREIT. Fade or trim energy names (SCC, OGP) into the oil decline. Active buybacks (JFC, AGI, SM, SMPH, URC, OPM) remain supportive.

Corporate News & Investing Insight

ALI / AREIT ₱13.50 / 38.50 +5.97% / +1.45%

Ayala Land to Raise ~$44M via AREIT Block Sale at ₱35.25–35.60

Ayala Land is seeking to raise up to $44 million by selling a block of shares in its REIT arm, AREIT, at an offer price range of ₱35.25 to ₱35.60 per share. The placement would pare ALI's stake while topping up AREIT's free float and liquidity. Both names rallied with the tape — ALI +5.97% to ₱13.50 on ₱1.11B turnover (the third-most active stock), AREIT +1.45% to ₱38.50 — though foreigners sold ALI ₱174.9M and AREIT ₱1.8M into the strength.

The block is a double-edged catalyst. For ALI it crystallizes value and raises cash at a moment of strength; for AREIT the ₱35.25–35.60 offer sits below market and creates a near-term supply overhang/anchor that can cap upside until placed. Net-net it improves AREIT's liquidity and index relevance — structurally positive once digested.

View — ALI: the deep-value recovery has begun, but foreign selling into the pop argues for buying pullbacks, not the spike. AREIT: the placement is a short-term supply cap on an otherwise improving (lower-yield) story; accumulate into the overhang toward the offer range.

ACCUMULATE — ON WEAKNESS ALI value recovery underway; AREIT block adds liquidity but caps near-term upside. Accumulate on dips.

DHI ₱6.75 +12.13%

Tampakan Copper-Gold Project Eyed for Fold-In — SE Asia's Largest Undeveloped Deposit

Dominion Holdings jumped 12.13% to ₱6.75 on news that the Tampakan copper-gold project — the largest undeveloped copper and gold deposit in Southeast Asia, located in Mindanao — may be folded into DHI. The Sy family holds the controlling interest while the Consunji family maintains a minority. The move would transform the small holding company into a vehicle for a world-class mineral asset, against a backdrop of firming copper ($653/lb) and gold prices.

This is a potential company-maker, but it is early and structurally complex: Tampakan has a decades-long permitting and social-acceptance history, and the fold-in mechanics, valuation and timeline are undisclosed. The 12% pop is sentiment running ahead of confirmed terms. Foreign flows were a marginal sell.

View — High-optionality, high-uncertainty. The asset is genuinely strategic, but until the fold-in structure and development pathway are disclosed, treat DHI as speculative. Monitor; size any position for the binary nature of the catalyst.

MONITOR — SPECULATIVE World-class asset, but fold-in terms/timeline undisclosed; sentiment ahead of facts.

ACEN ₱3.16 -2.17%

ACEN Brings In Dutch Investor DIRO for up to 49% of 250-MWac India Solar Project

ACEN, through units Unlimited Renewables Holdings and Amsa Solar Holdco, signed agreements with Diamond India Renewables One (DIRO) covering the sale of up to a 49% stake — with an initial 10% voting interest — in Tejorupa Renewables, which is building a 250-MWac solar project in Rajasthan, India. The deal follows ACEN's February buyout of UPC's 50% of the India platform, which gave it a 1-GW+ operating/under-construction portfolio and a ~7-GW pipeline. Closing is subject to customary conditions. ACEN slipped 2.17% to ₱3.16 against the rally, though with light foreign net buying.

A sensible capital-recycling move: bringing in an institutional co-investor de-risks and part-funds the India build-out while ACEN retains majority control and development upside. It complements last week's ₱1.15B Palauig Solar 2 injection — ACEN is actively rotating capital across a large global pipeline.

View — Capital-light growth execution. The Dutch co-investment validates the India platform and frees balance-sheet capacity. The share dip against a +6% tape is more profit-taking than thesis change; accumulate on weakness toward ₱3.10.

ACCUMULATE Institutional co-investor de-risks India build-out; ACEN keeps control. Accumulate on weakness.

CEB ₱30.80 +4.95%

Cebu Pacific Carried 2.4M Passengers in May (-1.3% YoY); Flags Softer Q3

Cebu Air carried 2.4 million passengers in May, a slight 1.3% year-on-year decline, following a 0.7% dip in April — softer travel demand and higher fuel costs tied to the Middle East tension weighed on volumes. Management has flagged a tougher-than-usual third quarter (the seasonally lean period) as the lingering fuel impact bites, having earlier turned cautious on its 30-million-passenger 2026 target. CEB nonetheless rallied 4.95% to ₱30.80 with ₱4.05M of foreign net buying as the oil collapse improved the forward cost outlook.

The tension here is timing: the reported May softness and Q3 caution reflect the OLD high-oil regime, while the share price is now discounting the NEW low-oil reality. With WTI back near $80, the single largest cost headwind is reversing precisely as the peak-then-lean seasonal pivot arrives — a setup where forward earnings estimates likely trough and turn.

View — The fuel-cost reversal is the dominant variable and it has turned favorable. Look through the backward-looking May/Q3 caution; the lower-oil regime re-rates the aviation P&L. Accumulate CEB on the structural fuel tailwind.

ACCUMULATE Backward-looking softness vs forward oil-cost relief; fuel reversal is the swing factor. Accumulate.

PSE ₱208.00 —

PSE Proposes ETF Overhaul — Capitalization Cut to ₱50M, Actively Managed ETFs Allowed

The Philippine Stock Exchange proposed a package of reforms to revive its moribund ETF market, currently limited to the single FMETF product. The changes would cut the minimum issuer capitalization to ₱50M from ₱250M (as low as ₱1M for managers with a 5-year track record), admit actively managed ETFs, and let collective-investment schemes and UITFs list multiple sub-funds under one issuer. The exchange is also developing a negotiated-trade reporting facility to deepen liquidity. PSE shares closed ₱208 with ₱0.97M of foreign buying.

Product breadth is the structural fix the local market has long needed — more ETFs widen the investable universe, attract passive flows and lift turnover, all of which benefit PSE's own transaction-fee economics over time. The companion FMETF closed strongly (₱106) on the day's rally.

View — A long-term-positive market-structure reform that compounds PSE's exchange-operator earnings as listings and liquidity grow. Constructive on PSE as the self-improving infrastructure play; accumulate.

ACCUMULATE ETF reform widens products, flows and turnover — accretive to PSE fee economics. Accumulate.

Globe Creates Dedicated "Intelligence Office" as AI Push Accelerates

Globe Telecom established a dedicated intelligence office to accelerate its enterprise-wide AI adoption, formalizing an organizational push to embed AI across operations, customer experience and new digital services. The move tracks the broader telco-sector pivot beyond connectivity into AI, cloud and platforms. GLO rallied to ₱1,730 with a strong ₱30.4M of foreign net buying — one of the larger inflows outside the index banks.

Operationalizing AI through a dedicated unit is the right structural signal: it positions GLO to defend ARPU and extract efficiency as the sector commoditizes basic connectivity. The foreign bid suggests institutions are rewarding the digital-transformation narrative alongside the rate-driven rally.

View — Constructive. The AI/digital pivot plus defensive telco cash flows and a firm foreign bid make GLO a quality way to play the services-sector strength. Accumulate.

ACCUMULATE Dedicated AI office defends ARPU; strong foreign bid. Accumulate.

MGEN Names Felino Bernardo to Lead Energy-Transition Projects (Atimonan, Toledo, Nuclear/LNG Studies)

Meralco's generation arm MGEN appointed Felino M. Bernardo as head of strategic energy transition (July 2026–June 2028) to oversee its generation pipeline — including Atimonan One Energy, the Toledo expansion and other developments — and to lead nuclear-energy development studies plus serve as strategic adviser on LNG and indigenous-gas initiatives. The appointment is part of a broader MGEN leadership transition as it scales capacity by decade-end. MER closed ₱584 (+1.74%) but with ₱47.1M of foreign selling into the rally.

The hire signals MGEN is getting serious about a long-dated, capital-intensive capacity build spanning baseload (Atimonan), gas/LNG and — notably — nuclear feasibility. This is the growth engine underneath the MER/MGEN re-IPO narrative, though the foreign selling shows the regulated-utility parent lagged the cyclical leaders on the day.

View — The energy-transition build-out underpins MGEN's medium-term value, but MER itself trailed the rally and saw foreign outflows. Hold/monitor MER for the MGEN pipeline optionality; the catalyst is execution on Atimonan/LNG and the eventual MGEN listing.

MONITOR MGEN capacity/nuclear-LNG pipeline is the growth engine; MER lagged the rally with outflows. Monitor.

ABS / LPZ ₱2.20 / 3.87 —

SEC Summons ABS-CBN Amid Lopez Family Dispute

The SEC summoned ABS-CBN over the intra-Lopez dispute, the latest escalation in a widening family/governance conflict that also touches First Gen (the contested Prime Infra "poison pill" clauses) and Lopez Holdings. The summons follows a complaint by Federico "Piki" Lopez seeking an SEC probe of ABS-CBN executives over alleged fund misuse. Lopez Holdings (LPZ) edged up with the tape to ₱3.87 but saw foreign selling; ABS rose to ₱2.20.

This is a governance overhang, not a fundamentals story. Contested related-party clauses, board-control fights and regulatory summonses inject headline risk and can stall capital decisions across the Lopez complex (FGEN, FPH, LPZ, ABS). The dispute remains unresolved and is escalating into the regulator.

View — Governance watch across the Lopez group. Until the SEC process and the First Gen "poison pill" dispute are clarified, we steer clear of new positions in the affected names — headline risk dominates fundamentals.

GOVERN — GOVERNANCE WATCH Escalating intra-Lopez/SEC dispute spans ABS, FGEN, FPH, LPZ; headline risk dominates. Avoid new money.

SMC Global Power Pivots to Renewables as It Manages Perpetual-Securities Yield Risk

San Miguel Global Power Holdings (SMGP) is balancing the high-yield repricing risk on its perpetual securities by pivoting toward renewable energy, with management pointing to strengthening overall liquidity and a improving leverage profile. The strategy aims to de-risk the capital structure while repositioning the generation portfolio for the energy transition. Parent SMC rallied with the tape to ₱69.75 (intraday high ₱69.75) on thin ₱14.5M turnover.

The perpetuals are a real cost-of-capital watch item — if not called/refinanced, step-up coupons raise funding costs — so the liquidity and leverage improvement plus an RE pivot is the right direction. It also dovetails with the pending MPTC–SMC tollway merger (Q3, SMC to hold 55%), part of a broader SMC portfolio reshaping.

View — The deleveraging-plus-RE narrative is constructive for the SMC complex, layered on the tollway-merger value consolidation. Monitor SMC for balance-sheet progress and the merger close; constructive bias.

MONITOR — POSITIVE BIAS Perpetuals yield risk managed via RE pivot + improving leverage; tollway merger pending. Monitor.

Mining Leads the Index (+7.41%) as Gold and Copper Track the Global Growth Bid

Mining shares — sensitive to the global growth outlook — added the biggest sectoral percentage gain (+7.41%), with several gold names rising alongside bullion. Two cross-border catalysts featured: the potential Tampakan fold-in into DHI, and LSE-listed Metals Exploration (MTL) rising 8% on an exclusive agreement (backed by the Balatoc/Kalinga tribe and the government) to develop the Batong Buhay copper-gold project, fast-tracking the advanced asset. Local names APX (₱15.26), NIKL (₱4.77) and OGP (₱33.60) rose, though foreigners took profits in APX (-₱25.4M) and OGP (-₱15.0M).

The mining surge is a beta-to-global-growth and metals-price story rather than company-specific — exactly what rallies in a synchronized risk-on, lower-rate environment. The Tampakan and Batong Buhay headlines add Philippine copper-gold optionality, but the foreign profit-taking in APX/OGP into the spike is a caution flag.

View — Sector strength is real but momentum-driven; metals beta cuts both ways. Treat gold names (APX, OGP) as trading vehicles — trim into strength given foreign selling — while the copper-development stories (DHI/Tampakan, NIKL) are longer-dated optionality.

SECTOR MONITOR Metals-beta rally + copper-gold optionality, but foreign profit-taking in gold names. Selective/trade.
