MYNLD dominated at -₱486.8M (75.4M shares, ₱1.43B turnover) — the single largest stock-level foreign outflow in weeks, likely driven by index rebalancing ahead of PSEi inclusion. ALI drew -₱134.9M despite five blocks totalling ₱396M. URC (-₱79.2M) and TEL (-₱78.6M) also saw heavy exits.

PHILIPPINES STRATEGY

The session was dominated by MYNLD's -₱486.8M foreign selling — likely index rebalancing ahead of PSEi inclusion (BWorld). This single stock accounted for nearly half the -₱1.04B net foreign sell, marking a sharp reversal from the prior two sessions' +₱1.30B net buy. ALI also drew -₱134.9M despite five blocks totalling ₱396M. The Financials selloff (-1.46%) was broad-based: BPI -₱25.1M, GTCAP -₱26.7M, CBC -₱3.9M. The bright spot was Mining & Oil (+4.04%, +655.65 pts) as the global tech-to-commodities rotation lifted NIKL (+4.04%), AT (+5.51%), PX (+7.74%), and OGP (+2.77%). JFC was the top foreign buyer at +₱37.5M. Razon circling the Lopez pyramid (LPZ/FPH/FGEN) adds a potential M&A catalyst. MER remains pinned at ₱480 for the fifth session. Brent crude collapsed to $84.10, easing CPI pressure. PHL 10Y eased to 7.46%. The ₱10.9B turnover signals institutional repositioning — not panic.

CORPORATE UPDATES

MYNLD AVOID

MYNLD crashes -2.59% to ₱18.80 on ₱486.8M MASSIVE foreign selling — session's dominant flow event

Maynilad drew a staggering -₱486.8M in net foreign selling — the single largest stock-level foreign outflow in weeks, accounting for nearly half the total net sell of -₱1.04B. MYNLD closed at ₱18.80, down from ₱19.30. Volume was enormous at 75.4M shares worth ₱1.43B. BusinessWorld reports Maynilad shares easing ahead of PSEi inclusion. The selling pattern suggests major index fund rebalancing or pre-positioning ahead of the PSE index reconstitution. AVOID until rebalancing flows stabilise.

ALI MONITOR / DEEP VALUE

ALI draws -₱134.9M selling despite five massive block crosses totalling ₱395M

Ayala Land saw five block sales totalling 23.4M shares at ₱395.5M (prices ₱16.83-₱16.92), yet the stock closed higher at ₱16.90 from ₱16.82. Foreign net selling was -₱134.9M. The blocks likely represent institutional portfolio rebalancing. AC continues its buyback programme. The deep-value thesis requires patience as foreign exits persist for the tenth consecutive session.

MER AVOID / GOVERNANCE WATCH

MER holds at ₱480 floor; -₱33.8M foreign selling; regulatory overhang persists

Meralco remained pinned at ₱480 — the fifth session at or near this level since the SONA-triggered crash. MER opened at ₱495.80 and briefly touched ₱506.50 before sellers pushed it back to ₱480 by close. Foreign selling continued at -₱33.8M. The system loss charge removal proposal remains the dominant overhang. ERC cleared the Sta. Rita extension but the market is pricing in worst-case regulatory risk. Continue AVOID.

ICT ACCUMULATE ON DIPS

ICT -1.73% to ₱963; double-digit Q2 profit growth expected; MICT 2063 concession

ICT fell to ₱963 from ₱980, with a modest -₱2.7M net foreign selling — a sharp reversal from last session's +₱601.6M inflow. The brief notes ICTSI is poised for double-digit Q2 profit growth powered by surging cargo volumes across its ~36 global terminals. The MICT 25-year concession extension to 2063 remains the anchor thesis. A ₱33.7M ICT block crossed at ₱961.78. Buy the dip.

RAZON/LOPEZ MONITORRazon circling Lopez pyramid: LPZ, FPH, FGEN targeted amid clan feuds

The brief notes Enrique K. Razon Jr. is circling the distressed Lopez family pyramid — specifically Lopez Holdings (LPZ), First Philippine Holdings (FPH), and First Gen (FGEN) — offering a high-conviction value play amid internal clan feuds and strategic asset deals. FGEN deals with Razon's Prime Infrastructure carry strict change-of-control triggers with multi-billion-peso penalty clauses. FPH closed at ₱92.95 (-1.54%), FGEN at ₱19.50 (-1.23%). A potential Razon acquisition of the Lopez pyramid would be a transformative event.

TEL/GLO MONITORTelcos propose ₱31B nationwide undersea fiber network; TEL -2.33%, GLO -2.16%

BusinessWorld reports telcos proposed a ₱31B nationwide undersea fiber network — a significant infrastructure investment thesis. However, TEL fell -2.33% to ₱1,216 with -₱78.6M foreign selling, and GLO dropped -2.16% to ₱1,810 with -₱27.7M selling. Services sector fell -1.57%. The selloff appears to be broad risk-off rather than telco-specific.

MINING ACCUMULATE SELECTIVELYMining & Oil surges +4.04% (+655.65 pts); NIKL +4.04%, AT +5.51%, PX +7.74%

Mining & Oil was the session's standout at +4.04% — the only sector in strong positive territory. Nickel Asia (NIKL) surged to ₱3.86 (+4.04%) with +₱15.3M foreign. Atlas Mining (AT) jumped to ₱13.40 (+5.51%) with +₱10.8M. Philex Mining (PX) rose to ₱9.05 (+7.74%) with +₱16.8M. OceanaGold (OGP) gained to ₱33.45 with +₱11.7M. Gold at $4,127 and copper at 654c/lb support the thesis. S&P 500's first July decline since 2014 drove a global rotation out of tech into commodities.

GLOBAL MONITORUS rallies: Amazon +15.3% on cloud growth; S&P first July decline since 2014

Wall Street gained Friday: S&P +0.7%, NASDAQ +0.6%, Dow +277 pts. Amazon surged 15.3% on powerful cloud growth, reigniting AI optimism. Alphabet +6.9%, Meta +3.3%, MSFT +3%. However, the S&P 500 logged its first July decline since 2014, breaking an 11-year winning streak, driven by massive rotation out of semiconductor/AI stocks. Brent crude fell to $84.10 (-6.2%). JPY strengthened sharply to 157.70 from 163.45. PHL 10Y eased to 7.46%.
