PSE session — Friday, 28 August 2026 (markets closed Mon 31 Aug, holiday)

ACTIONABLE HIGHLIGHTS — THE CALL

DRIVER	Index rebalance floods the tape — ₱3.5B net foreign out, ₱18.8B traded Friday was a mechanical rebalance day: turnover tripled to ₱18.81B and foreigners net-sold a series-record ₱3.51B. Ayala Land alone traded ₱7.23B (466M shares) with −₱1.56B of net foreign selling — 44% of the day's net — followed by ICT (−₱525.9M) and the banks. The PSEi fell 0.80% to a two-month-low 5,956.33 (intraday 5,944.22). We read the flow as passive/mechanical rather than a fundamental verdict.
ACCUMULATE	AT extends its run as the tape's dominant foreign bid Atlas Mining again took the single largest inflow (+₱106.62M) and jumped ~8.8% to ₱20.45 — a third straight session of heavy foreign buying (₱17.80 → ₱18.80 → ₱20.45) that lifted Mining & Oil +1.91%, the day's best sector. The bid rides firm metals and the global fiscal-instability trade. AT remains our lead accumulate; GTCAP (+₱26.73M) and MYNLD (+₱30.26M) also drew notable inflows.
WATCH	BSP hikes to 5.0%, peso breaks ₱62, floods weigh The BSP raised its policy rate to 5.0% (as expected) as the peso breached the key ₱62 level (62.305) and the PHL 10-year backed up to 7.261% — above our 7% bank-caution line. Luzon flooding added to the risk-off tone. Financials were the worst sector (−1.78%) with BDO (−₱350.8M), BPI (−₱161.3M) and MBT (−₱147.6M) heavily sold; banks stay on Monitor.

GLOBAL MARKETS

US stocks closed lower Friday as chipmakers gave back gains, and Wall Street opened the new week softer Monday (31 Aug) on a risk-off tone. Oil rose the most in three weeks as US–Iran strikes resumed and Strait of Hormuz tensions flared — Brent neared $90, WTI neared $85. BYD posted its first profit rise in five quarters (Q2 net income +30% to 8.2B yuan); Microsoft hit a 10-month high as AI-sector anxiety eased.

EUR-USD	1.1653	1.1614	-0.33%

The peso breached the key ₱62 level (61.854 → 62.305) as the BSP raised its policy rate to 5.0%; the DQR DDS conversion reference was ₱61.888. Both the PHL 10-year (7.261%) and US 10-year (4.782%) backed up. USD-CNY corrected from comma typos to 6.7199 / 6.7192.

PHILIPPINES STRATEGY

The PSEi fell 0.80% to a two-month-low 5,956.33, but the headline understates an unusual session: an index-rebalance flush drove turnover to ₱18.81B (roughly triple normal) and foreign net selling to a series-record ₱3.51B. Ayala Land accounted for ₱7.23B of value and -₱1.56B of the net foreign outflow on 466M shares — a mechanical, passive-driven event rather than a change in fundamentals. Sector performance was mixed: Financials (-1.78%) and Industrial (-1.51%) fell on the bank selling and a weaker peso, while Services (+0.39%) and Mining & Oil (+1.91%, led by AT) closed higher. Macro was the overhang — the BSP hiked to 5.0%, the peso broke ₱62, the 10-year backed up to 7.26%, and Luzon flooding dampened risk appetite.

Corporate & regulatory news:

- SEC — SEC to require ₱100M paid-up capital on stockbrokers — raising the bar to weed out weaker players and encourage M&A consolidation into fewer, stronger firms.
- Bonds — The Philippines will sell ₱30B of 8% 2031 bonds on 2 September.
- FGEN / AGI — First Gen bagged a 25-MW geothermal supply deal with Alliance Global; separately, 17 firms are eyeing a ₱10B geothermal de-risking facility (BusinessWorld).
- MYNLD — BCDA granted original-proponent status to Maynilad-K-Water for a New Clark project (BusinessWorld).
- ICT — ICTSI's Mexico unit was cleared to handle 24,000-TEU vessels (BusinessWorld).
- GTCAP / MPI — MPTC cited its regional network and Indonesia operations as growth drivers (BusinessWorld).
- VITRO REIT — Analysts cited deal timing and market conditions around the Vitro REIT listing (BusinessWorld).
- PSE — PSE said its preferred-share rules may draw more private firms to the market (BusinessWorld).

CORPORATE STANCE CARDS

Three-day foreign accumulation and the day's top bid

AT

₱20.45 +8.75%

Atlas Mining drew +₱106.62M of net foreign buying — by far the largest inflow — and rose ~8.8% to ₱20.45, capping a three-session climb (₱17.80 → ₱18.80 → ₱20.45) on sustained foreign demand. It powered Mining & Oil to a +1.91% gain, the day's best sector, against firm metals and the global fiscal-instability trade.

Persistent, scaling foreign accumulation plus sector leadership make AT the clearest momentum-with-flow name; we keep it as lead accumulate, watchful for profit-taking after the sharp run.

Stance: ACCUMULATE

Rebalance selling is mechanical, not a verdict

ALI

₱15.54 +0.26%

Ayala Land traded ₱7.23B on 466M shares with -₱1.56B of net foreign selling — the day's largest — yet the price barely moved, closing marginally higher. The pattern (huge volume, minimal price impact, absorbed domestically) is characteristic of a passive index-rebalance flow rather than fundamental distribution.

The mechanical nature of the selling leaves the recurring-income thesis and discounted valuation intact; forced-selling episodes like this often mark accumulation windows for patient capital.

Stance: ACCUMULATE

Bank-sector pressure as BSP hikes and peso breaks ₱62

BDO

₱116.00 -3.33%

BDO fell 3.3% on -₱350.75M of net foreign selling — the second-largest outflow — as Financials (-1.78%) led sectors lower. The BSP's hike to 5.0%, the peso breaching ₱62 and the 10-year backing up to 7.26% pressured the group broadly (BPI, MBT also heavily sold).

Rising rates can support net interest margins over time, but the peso and flow backdrop keep us cautious near-term; BDO/BPI/MBT stay on Monitor until foreign selling and the currency stabilise.

Stance: MONITOR

Foreign buying into a growth-story update

GTCAP

₱476.40 -2.58%

GT Capital drew +₱26.73M of net foreign buying against the down tape, even as the price eased with the market. Its MPTC unit cited an expanding regional network and Indonesia operations as growth drivers.

Contrarian foreign inflow plus an infrastructure growth narrative at a conglomerate discount is constructive; we tag GTCAP as an accumulate for patient investors.

SMARTWATCH

Middle East / oil	US–Iran strikes resumed for the first time in ~a month with Strait of Hormuz fighting poised to continue; oil rose the most in three weeks (Brent ~$90, WTI ~$85) — supportive for energy names (FGEN, SMC, MER, AP, PXP).
BSP policy	The BSP raised its policy rate to 5.0% as expected; the peso still breached ₱62 and the 10-year backed up to 7.26% — a headwind for rate-sensitive banks and property.
Broker capital bar	The SEC will require ₱100M paid-up capital on stockbrokers, pushing consolidation — a structural liquidity/turnover watch item for the local market.
₱30B bond sale	The Philippines sells ₱30B of 8% 2031 bonds on 2 September — a read on domestic rate demand amid the peso pressure.
Global tech / EVs	Microsoft hit a 10-month high as AI-sector anxiety eased; BYD posted its first profit rise in five quarters (Q2 net +30%) on strong exports — constructive global-demand signals.
