

OCTOBER 8, 2026 MARKET SUMMARY

Market Report For: Wednesday, October 8, 2026

Geopolitical Risk Shock; Oil Surge >$102/bbl; Foreign Capitulation; Mining Sector Hit Hard

AVOID ICT ₱905.00 (-3.42%) — Institutional profit-taking; oil cost pressure on industrials

ICT declined -3.42% Oct 8 on geopolitical risk-off. Foreign selling (-₱265.4M) accelerated despite Oct 7 recovery. Support at ₱880 breaking; next support ₱850 if oil extends >$105/barrel. Avoid until breadth improves (need 100+ advances). Hold above ₱850 for long-term conviction.

MONITOR MER (Meralco) ₱414.00 (±0%) — MPIC consolidation validates infrastructure; dividend 4.5% anchor

Meralco stabilized at ₱414 (MPIC ₱2.19B stake acquisition raising MPIC to 49.4%) despite Oct 8 sell-off. Consolidation validates infrastructure conviction. 4.5% dividend yield anchors defensive positioning. Institutional block trades (₱89.3M cross) suggest insider accumulation. Support ₱410-415; accumulate on dips for dividend yield carry.

IPO WATCH MYNT (GCash) P6.60 — Closing Oct 12; P441.5B valuation; 94M users; Fair value P8

Myint IPO closes Oct 12, listing Oct 20. P441.5B valuation; 94M GCash users confirm fintech growth thesis despite macro headwinds. Fair value P8 (21% cushion) on 2.5x forward sales. SUBSCRIBE on offer. Listing pop expected Oct 20, then institutional lock-in selling Oct 21-22; accumulate dips post-listing.

MONITOR OGP / NIKL Mining Sector — Copper/gold/nickel hit hard on China slowdown + macro fear

OGP -2.87%, NIKL -1.86% Oct 8 on copper weakness (-2.1%, China EV demand soft). Gold down 0.8%; silver down 1.2% as real yields rise (US 10-year 5.31%). El Nino + geopolitical premium = mining pressure. Avoid new exposure; deferral of mining capex likely through Q4. FIGARO delisting approved.

GLOBAL MARKETS

Global sentiment remains tepid after Thursday's weak US jobs data and today's Philippines inflation surprise (7.2% YoY vs 6.8% forecast). Wall Street rallied Monday on AI optimism (Nvidia near $239/share), with S&P 500 and Nasdaq approaching records. However, Treasury yields surged: 10-year at 5.30% (52-week high), 30-year at 5.45% (steepest in 2 weeks). This bear-steepening signals market anxiety over US fiscal risk. Oil rallied but retreated (Brent ₱101-108/barrel, WTI ₱89-90); copper soft. AMRO's GDP cut for PH (3.3% from 5.3%) underscores external demand weakness.

Singapore STI	lower	steady	Stabilizing after Oct 4 selloff

- Fed speakers this week (Powell Oct 8) will be key. Market pricing: <15% chance of Oct hike; 75%+ chance of Nov hold (then December move possible if inflation re-accelerates). China: Golden Week ends Oct 6; reopening Oct 7 (Tuesday). EV demand remains soft; Bitcoin holding ₱4.7M (near $80K).

COMMODITIES

Brent oscillated ₱101-108/barrel before settling ₱102.50 (Oct 5: ₱102.00). WTI steady near ₱89.50. Gold firm at ₱4,192/oz (steady on weak USD tailwinds from soft jobs data). Copper retreated to ₱6.49/lb (Oct 5: ₱6.49) on China slowdown concerns. Nickel weak on El Nino / industrial demand fears. Coal volatile.

FX & RATES

The peso weakened 1.4 centavos to ₱62.75/$ on broad dollar strength and flight-to-quality flows. Higher US Treasury yields (10-year at 5.30%, 30-year at 5.45%—52-week highs) attract USD carry funding but pressure emerging-market currencies. PH inflation at 7.2% YoY (Sept, just released) vs August 2.3% signals El Nino pressure and pass-through from peso weakness. BSP Oct 22 hike now certain; market pricing in 80%+ probability of 50bp by December.

PHILIPPINES STRATEGY

Inflation shock reverses Oct 5 momentum. Sept CPI came in at 7.2% YoY (vs Aug 2.3%, vs forecast 6.8%)—a 3-year high. Foreigners, who bought ₱134.2M net Oct 5, reversed course Oct 6 with ₱293.9M net selling. This is a reset: "peak growth" narrative (Myint IPO at ₱6.60) must compete with "higher-for-longer" rates (BSP hiking 25bp Oct 22, likely 50bp more by December). Breadth (73/120) is poor; support at 5,600 (Oct 2024 low) is now in play.

Where we lean in: Myint IPO at ₱6.60 (fair value ₱8, 21% upside); subscribe on offer. AC P10B ALI buyback (₱15.33, attractive on property-sector discount of 5%). Hold PLDT above ₱1.60 for 2027 VITRO REIT catalyst. Avoid new buys in ICT, BDO, MBT until breadth improves (need 100+ advances).

What to avoid: Bank exposure (persistent foreign outflows: BDO, MBT, SECB); Industrial plays (down 1.81%); dividend yields under pressure (CEB, DITO, GLO). VP Sara / AMLC scrutiny remains a governance overhang for Ayala/AC/ALI.

- Myint IPO: Offer Oct 6-12 at ₱6.60; largest PH IPO ever (₱441.5B). Fair value ₱8 (21% cushion). Listing Oct 20.
- AC / ALI buyback: AC deploying ₱10B for ALI (real estate arm). Signals conviction in property recovery; ALI at ₱15.33 attractive.
- PLDT VITRO REIT: IPO deferred to 2027. Clears near-term supply overhang; VITRO holds ₱180B in infrastructure assets.

PSEi	5,743.21	5,677.12	▼ -1.15%	—
All Shares	3,198.26	3,170.73	▼ -0.86%	—

Broad weakness across all sectors except Financials (+0.09% on selective dividend buying). Industrial (-1.81%) led declines on inflation shock and higher-for-longer rates pressure. Property (-1.69%) retreated despite AC P10B ALI buyback (not yet priced in). Services (-1.24%) corrected from Oct 5's +4.00% surge; profit-taking evident.

FOREIGN FUND FLOW

Foreigners bought ₱3.46B and sold ₱3.76B, a net sale of ₱293.9M—the third consecutive sell day. This reversal from Oct 5's ₱134.2M net buy signals profit-taking and rotation away from growth on inflation shock. Selling concentrated in ICT (–₱44.3M, profit-taking on Oct 5 rally), GLO (–₱38.7M, telecom pressure), DITO (–₱1.45B, dividend yield repricing), PLDT (–₱38.7M, VITRO IPO deferral negative). Buying: ALI (+₱net positive on AC buyback signal), COSCO (–₱457.7M outflow is notable). Pattern: flight-to-quality into defensives ahead of Oct 22 BSP hike.

CORPORATE STANCE CARDS

IPO WATCH MYNT (GCash) P6.60 — Largest IPO in PH history: P441.5B valuation; 94M users

Myint offer Oct 6-12 at P6.60 per share. 8.03B shares base, 1.2B overallotment, P441.5B (P7B USD) valuation. GCash holds 89% of consumer e-wallet market with 94M users. Fair value near P8 (21% cushion) on 2.5x forward sales, 4x PEG. Transforms into full banking challenger (loans, insurance, savings, BNPL). El Nino seasonal risk to consumer lending (agricultural subsidy pressure). SUBSCRIBE on offer. Listing Oct 20 likely brings pop and institutional lock-in selling. Strong strategic value despite macro headwinds.

ACCUMULATE ALI P15.33 (-1.21%) — AC P10B buyback signals conviction; 5% property-sector discount

ALI retreated -1.21% Oct 6 on macro weakness, but AC's P10B buyback for ALI signals confidence in property recovery post-correction. ALI trades at 5% discount to property-sector average (normalized valuation). Support at P15.00; accumulate on dips below P15. Next target P16.50-17 on REIT/dividend yield rotation into "higher-for-longer" rate regime.

MONITOR PLDT P1.546 (-5.64%) — VITRO REIT IPO deferred to 2027; near-term supply overhang cleared

PLDT deferred VITRO REIT (subsidiary holding P180B in infrastructure assets) to 2027, clearing crowded 2026 IPO calendar and eliminating near-term dilution risk. Foreign selling (-P38.7M) accelerated Oct 6 on deferral news and macro weakness. Main line support at P1.60+; VITRO is strategic hold for 2027 IPO catalyst and dividend flows. Accumulate on dips below P1.55 for long-term value.

MONITOR SM P500.00 (-1.80%) — P5B buyback provides cushion; foreign selling persistent

SM endured -1.80% decline and -P12.8M foreign selling despite P5B buyback program. Retail sentiment weak on higher-for-longer rates (reduced consumer finance / installment demand). Hold above P490; P480 is secondary support. Avoid new buys until breadth improves (need 100+ advances).

SMARTWATCH - WHAT MOVES THE TAPE NEXT

- Today / Oct 7: Fed speakers (Powell Oct 8 will dominate sentiment; market pricing <15% probability of Oct hike). Myint IPO offer window closes Oct 12.
- Oct 14-15: Meralco 900MW baseload tender bids due. SEC comment deadlines (broker capital floor increase to P120M).
- Oct 22: BSP MPC decision (4th consecutive 25bp hike flagged; market pricing 80%+ probability of 50bp more by December). Oct PH CPI likely 6.5%+ (step-down from Sept 7.2%)..
- Oct 20: Myint listing (likely pop and institutional lock-in selling).
- Levels: PSEi support 5,600 (Oct 2024 low), resistance 5,743 (Oct 5 high). USD-PHP: support P62.50, resistance P63.50. Oil: P100-P103 range. US 10-year: 5.30% (at risk of 5.50% if inflation re-accelerates).

LEARN — INFLATION SHOCKS & EQUITY CORRECTIONS

The concept. When actual inflation exceeds forecasts materially (Sept 7.2% vs 6.8% forecast), central banks face pressure to hike faster and harder. Equity markets reprice earnings (lower consumer spending, higher discount rates) and compress multiples. Foreign investors, who have global optionality, rotate out toward higher-yielding alternatives (US Treasuries, EM bonds, commodities). Domestic equity corrections ensue.

Oct 6 as an inflation shock: Sept CPI at 7.2% YoY (vs Aug 2.3%, 3-year high) triggered an immediate repricing. AMRO cut PH full-year GDP growth to 3.3% from 5.3%, signaling external demand weakness + inflation drag = stagflationary squeeze. Foreigners who bought ₱134.2M net Oct 5 reversed to -₱293.9M net selling Oct 6. Breadth collapsed (73 up / 120 down). PSEi support 5,600 (Oct 2024 low) entered risk zone.

Watch this carefully: The inflation surprise will trigger BSP to hike 25bp on Oct 22 (4th consecutive), with market pricing 80%+ probability of 50bp more by December. If inflation stays elevated (Oct/Nov CPI still 6.5%+), foreign selling could accelerate further. PSEi targets 5,400-5,500 are possible if breadth fails to recover (need 100+ advances to restore confidence). Myint IPO validation (₱6.60 fair, ₱8 fair value) and AC P10B ALI buyback signal conviction, but macro backdrop argues for patience.

Takeaway. Inflation shocks are catalyst moments for multi-month corrections. Oct 6 marks the reset: from "growth recovery" (Oct 5 narrative) to "higher-for-longer rates with weak external demand." Best entry PSEi 5,600. Hold existing positions; reduce new buys; rotate out of Industrials / dividend yields into Financials (selective dividend plays) and accumulation plays (ALI, ICT on weakness, MYNT on subscription). The correction has 3-6 weeks to run if inflation stays sticky.
