ACTIONABLE HIGHLIGHTS — THE CALL

ACCUMULATE

Nickel supply-shock lights up the miners — Mining & Oil +5.61%

The day’s standout was a mining melt-up: Mining & Oil surged 5.61% (+1,110 pts) on reports Indonesia is slashing nickel output ~40% amid El Niño droughts — a potential windfall for Philippine producers. NIKL jumped ~10.7% (+ ₱14.24M foreign), APX ~8.5% (+₱30.03M foreign, the largest mining inflow), PX +5.7% and MARC firm (+₱2.44M). We tag the nickel basket — NIKL, APX, PX, MARC (and FNI) — as a policy/supply-driven accumulate.

ACCUMULATE

AEV draws the tape’s single largest foreign bid

Aboitiz Equity took +₱41.93M of net foreign buying — the largest single inflow — and closed strong at ₱38.00, ninth on value at ₱172.94M. The bid complements the day’s power/mining tilt (AEV carries both). Banks also saw selective inflows (BPI +₱26.15M, PNB +₱23.60M) even as BDO was sold.

WATCH

Peso at a record low; index rises anyway on the miners

The PSEi still added 0.27% to 6,069.42 — with positive breadth (119 advancers to 85) — even as the peso hit a fresh record low near ₱62.57 on Middle-East-driven oil and a firm dollar. Foreign flow was a modest net –₱342.25M, concentrated in SPNEC (–₱166.1M) and BDO (–₱107.9M). Overnight, Fed’s Waller signalled openness to a September pause, lifting Wall Street ~1%.

Wall Street rallied ~1% after Fed Governor Waller signalled openness to holding rates steady in September, citing cooling inflation; tech and financials rebounded and crude eased intraday. Asia was mixed. Nvidia agreed to buy Hugging Face for $13B, and Bitcoin held $78.5k–$81.4k with its strongest gold correlation in six years as the dollar softened.

PHILIPPINES STRATEGY

The PSEi rose 0.27% to 6,069.42 on ₱5.24B turnover with positive breadth (119 advancers to 85), shrugging off a record-low peso as a nickel supply-shock powered Mining & Oil to a 5.61% surge — the standout move of the week. Property (+0.77%), Industrial (+0.75%) and Holding Firms (+0.43%) also gained; only Services dipped (−0.12%). Foreign investors were modest net sellers (−₱342.25M), rotating into miners (APX, NIKL) and select banks (BPI, PNB) while selling SPNEC, BDO and GLO. CORPORATE STANCE CARDS

Nickel supply-shock re-rating leads the tape

NIKL

₱4.55 +10.71%

Nickel Asia jumped ~10.7% with +₱14.24M of net foreign buying as Indonesia's reported ~40% output cut (El Niño droughts hitting smelter hydropower) points to a global nickel squeeze. The move led a 5.61% surge in Mining & Oil, with APX (+8.5%, +₱30.03M foreign) and PX (+5.7%) alongside.

A genuine supply-side catalyst gives the local nickel names — NIKL, APX, PX, MARC, FNI — a fundamental tailwind beyond momentum; we tag the basket as accumulate, sizing for the volatility that comes with commodity swings.

Stance: ACCUMULATE

AEV	Largest single foreign inflow on the day
₱38.00 ▲	Aboitiz Equity drew +₱41.93M of net foreign buying — the biggest single inflow — and ranked ninth by value (₱172.94M) as it closed higher. The conglomerate's power and mining exposure aligns it with the session's leadership themes. A clear institutional bid into a diversified name with commodity and power leverage supports accumulation on the current rotation. Stance: ACCUMULATE ●
AT	Still rising, but foreign flow turns to profit-taking
₱21.10 +2.43%	Atlas Mining edged higher again but foreigners flipped to a -₱25.14M net sell after three straight sessions of heavy buying (₱17.80 → ₱21.10, ~₱122M cumulative inflow). Domestic demand absorbed the profit-taking; AT remained a top-10 value name. Momentum is intact but the flow reversal argues for discipline after the sharp run; we move AT to Monitor and would prefer to add via the fresher nickel names. Stance: MONITOR ●
JFC	Hong Kong spin-off catalyst for the global unit
₱154.00 ▲	Jollibee is advancing plans to spin off and list its international business in Hong Kong (rather than the US) by 2027 to capture regional brand liquidity; the stock firmed with the market. Foreign flow was -₱18.13M on the session. A value-unlocking listing of the global unit is a constructive medium-term catalyst; with the RSI mid-range, we view weakness as a dip-buying opportunity. Stance: ACCUMULATE ●

SMARTWATCH

Nickel supply shock	Indonesia's reported ~40% nickel output cut (drought-hit smelters) is the key catalyst behind the local mining rally — watch NIKL, APX, PX, MARC, FNI and DMC (which reaffirmed its 3Mt 2026 target).
Fed / Waller	Fed Governor Waller's openness to a September pause, citing cooling inflation, drove a ~1% Wall Street rally and eased rate-hike bets — supportive for risk and for the peso if it persists.
Nvidia / crypto	Nvidia agreed to buy Hugging Face for $13B; Bitcoin held $78.5k–$81.4k with a six-year-high gold correlation as the dollar softened.
MEG / MREIT swap	The ₱27.01B asset-for-shares swap (12 assets for 1.637B MREIT shares at a 18.6% premium) is a sizeable REIT catalyst — watch MREIT and MEG.
Ghost Month	The 2026 Ghost Month ends around 10 September; some local investors traditionally re-engage after it closes — a light seasonal sentiment tailwind into mid-month.
