Institutional Pre-Market Brief

Trading session: Monday, 24 August 2026 • Published: Tuesday, 25 August 2026, pre-open

ACTIONABLE HIGHLIGHTS

► ACCUMULATE (gold leverage) — APX — H1 net income ₱5.39B; realized gold +49% to ~$4,656/oz, silver more than doubled (Maco & Sangilo). Mining & Oil was the day's best sector, +3.19%. Foreigners took ₱12.0M profit into the run — use dips.

► BUY (earnings turnaround) — JFC — 2Q26 margin recovery, FX gains and price-led sales growth; drew ₱43.2M net foreign buying, a top-three inflow. Closed +~2.5% at ₱160.00.

► SPECULATIVE (Tampakan complex) — DHI (halted; +1,022% YTD to ₱15.60, awaiting swap ratio on the ~$150–200B Tampakan injection) and ACR (Indophil link, ₱123.5M turnover on 106.5M shares). DMC is the quality proxy on Consunji involvement (+₱8.7M foreign).

► WATCH (REIT carry) — AREIT (+₱10.1M foreign, close ₱38.00), RCR and MREIT screen well as the PHL 10-yr eases to 7.228% and the peso firms to ₱61.67.

THE CALL

The PSEi eked out a 0.21% gain (+12.92 points) to close at 6,251.38 on a narrow, heavyweight-led tape — decliners (108) comfortably outnumbered advancers (83), and three of six sectors finished lower. The session's engine was Mining & Oil, up 3.19% and easily the best sector, powered by gold's push toward $4,700–4,800 an ounce and intensifying interest in the Tampakan copper-gold complex.

Net foreign selling moderated sharply to just ₱82.3M, but beneath that small headline sat forceful two-way rotation: heavy foreign accumulation in BPI (+₱109.1M), ICT (+₱102.8M), JFC (+₱43.2M) and AC (+₱22.3M) against distribution in MER (–₱62.8M), BDO (–₱56.8M), TEL (–₱44.3M), MBT (–₱34.0M), GLO (–₱31.5M) and PGOLD (–₱29.5M). Our stance: stay selective and lean into (1) gold and earnings leverage, (2) foreign-backed quality, and (3) REIT carry as local yields drift lower. Treat the Tampakan momentum names as trading/speculative positions, not core holdings.

GLOBAL MARKETS

Wall Street split as Big Tech felt the squeeze: the Nasdaq slid about 1.5% intraday before paring to -0.76%, the S&P 500 dipped 0.28%, while the Dow bucked the trend to gain 0.26%. Fresh worries over U.S. fiscal policy and a softer dollar, alongside still-elevated yields, kept a lid on global risk. Asia was broadly heavy — Hong Kong's tech gauge tumbled almost 4% after Alibaba's ~$10B share placement to fund AI, dragging the Hang Seng down 1.89%; the KOSPI fell 4.48%, mainland and Japan lost ground, while Vietnam (+1.17%) and the ASX (+0.69%) were bright spots.

COMMODITIES

Gold extended its run — COMEX settled near $4,741/oz (+1.29%), its firmest since mid-May, with spot briefly above $4,714 — while copper hit a record ~$14,273 a tonne on the LME after a request to withdraw more than 50,000 tonnes revived supply fears; nickel added 1.46%, a tailwind for local miners. Crude softened (WTI -2.24%, Brent -2.37%) and coffee jumped 5.89%. Bitcoin, per the desk feed, pushed toward $80,000.

FX & RATES

Local yields eased at the margin (PHL 10-yr -0.5bp to 7.228%; U.S. 10-yr -0.8bp to 4.708%) and the peso firmed to ₱61.67 per the DQR conversion reference. At the T-bill auction the Bureau of the Treasury made full awards: 364-day at 5.640%, 91-day at 5.051% and 35-day at 4.823% — a supportive backdrop for REITs and rate-sensitive names.

PHILIPPINES STRATEGY

The index is being carried by a small cohort of heavyweights and a hot mining/gold theme while breadth stays soft — a tape that rewards selectivity over beta. The clear leadership is Mining & Oil, where gold's ascent and the Tampakan copper-gold storyline (Dominion Holdings, Alsons and DMCI) are pulling in retail flow; we size these as trading exposure given the scale of the run-up and the halt on DHI pending its swap ratio. On the regulatory front, the SEC signalled a fresh push on capital-market reform, including a plan to lift stockbroker paid-up capital toward ₱100M to weed out under-capitalised houses and deepen retail participation. With yields drifting lower and the peso firmer, we keep a bias toward foreign-backed quality (BPI, ICT, JFC, AC) and REIT carry (AREIT, RCR, MREIT).

Three sectors advanced (Mining & Oil, Services, Holding Firms) against three decliners; the index gain masked a -25-advance breadth deficit.

FOREIGN FUND FLOW

Net foreign selling of ₱82.3M (buying ₱2.48B vs. selling ₱2.56B) understates the churn: foreigners rotated hard into banks, ports, consumer and holdcos while distributing telcos, retail and select industrials.

CORPORATE STANCE CARDS

DHI ₱15.60 (halted) · Tampakan mega-merger; swap ratio pending

Dominion Holdings remains halted pending listing details on a merger that would consolidate the $150–200B Tampakan copper-gold asset and instantly make DHI the largest listed miner in the country. Management frames the deal as value-accretive over time despite structural and voting dilution for existing holders; the market has front-run it, sending the stock up 1,022% year-to-date to ₱15.60. Consunji-family (DMCI) involvement lends credibility to the independent asset valuation.

The optionality is enormous but so is the run and the uncertainty — the swap ratio is the key unknown, and a suspended stock cannot be trimmed. This is an event-driven, speculative hold; scale accordingly and keep DMC (close ₱7.94, +₱8.7M foreign) as the liquid, quality proxy for the same theme.

Stance: MONITOR / SPECULATIVE — event-driven; await swap ratio.

ACR ₱1.20 (+11%) · Tampakan optionality via Indophil

Alsons Consolidated surged on its minority indirect stake in the Tampakan project through Indophil Resources, trading ₱123.5M on a heavy 106.5M shares as retail chased the copper-gold narrative. Net foreign was a fractional sell (–₱0.4M). Momentum is real but the fundamental linkage is indirect and the move is sharp; treat as a high-beta trade on the Tampakan headline rather than an investment. Manage risk tightly given the vertical price action.

Stance: MONITOR / SPECULATIVE — trade the theme, not the fundamentals.

APX ₱16.26 (+4.5%) · H1 income ₱5.39B on gold strength

Apex Mining posted first-half net income of ₱5.39B as realized gold prices jumped 49% to about $4,656/oz and silver more than doubled, driven by its flagship Maco and Sangilo mines. The stock closed up ~4.5% and traded ₱138.4M, though foreigners banked ₱12.0M into the strength.

APX is the cleanest listed proxy for gold's surge, with earnings momentum now confirming the thematic tailwind. The foreign profit-taking and the vertical metal price argue for accumulating on pullbacks rather than chasing.

Stance: ACCUMULATE ON DIPS — gold leverage with earnings confirmation.

JFC ₱160.00 (+~2.5%) · 2Q26 margin recovery; foreign-backed

Jollibee rebounded on a recovery in 2Q26 profit margins, positive FX gains, strategic price increases and strong systemwide sales growth that offset earlier supply-chain inflation. It was among the day's largest names by value (₱232.3M) and drew a ₱43.2M net foreign inflow — a top-three buy.

The combination of an earnings inflection and visible foreign accumulation is a high-quality signal in an otherwise choppy tape. We would add on the turnaround thesis.

Stance: ACCUMULATE — earnings turnaround with foreign support.

BLOOM ₱2.40 (–) · Digital-gaming push vs. foreign selling

Bloomberry's narrative stays constructive — investor optimism on the MegaFUNalo! and FUNaloMAX online platforms plus improving momentum at Solaire Resort North — but the tape disagreed today: the stock slipped to ₱2.40 with ₱8.4M of net foreign selling on ₱75.0M turnover.

The structural online story is intact, but foreign distribution and the pullback counsel patience. Wait for the flow to turn before committing.

Stance: MONITOR / NEUTRAL — good story, unhelpful flow.

EMI ₱15.66 (+) · FTSE Small-Cap re-entry; ELS shares settled

Emperador will re-enter the FTSE Global Equity Index Series as a Small-Cap constituent following the FTSE Asia Pacific ex-Japan ex-China semi-annual review announced 21 August, and separately settled ELS shares for ₱1.4B. Shares firmed with a modest ₱1.4M foreign inflow.

Index re-inclusion brings a mechanical passive-flow tailwind around the effective date, but the desk read on fundamentals is unchanged. Hold through the rebalance.

Stance: MONITOR / HOLD — passive-flow tailwind, fundamentals unchanged.

GLO ₱1,694.00 (–) · 5G expansion in Pavia, Iloilo

Globe extended its 5G footprint into Pavia, Iloilo — incrementally positive for coverage — but the stock fell with a heavy ₱31.5M net foreign outflow (plus a ₱60.9M block crossing).

Operational news is minor against the flow picture; telcos (GLO, TEL) were among the day's clearest foreign-distribution targets. Neutral pending a flow reversal.

Stance: MONITOR / NEUTRAL — foreign distribution overshadows the news.

RLC ₱17.68 (+) · Robinsons mall accessibility recognition

Robinsons Land drew reputational upside as its Las Piñas mall was recognised for accessibility measures; shares firmed with a small ₱1.2M foreign inflow on ₱24.1M turnover.

A minor, sentiment-positive item; the investment case rests on mall traffic and REIT-adjacent value rather than any single award.

Stance: NEUTRAL — minor positive, thesis unchanged.

RCI ₱2.53 (+) · ₱1.93B Chinabank loan for refinancing

Roxas and Company secured a ₱1.93B Chinabank facility to refinance existing obligations; the stock ticked higher on thin volume.

Refinancing eases near-term liquidity but does not by itself change the equity story for this small-cap; watch for the blended cost of debt.

Stance: MONITOR — liquidity relief, story unchanged.

PREIT ⬇️1.02 (-) · Revenue guided to 51% of year-ago; SIPCOR relief sought

Premiere Island REIT flagged that revenue will stay at roughly 51% of the year-ago level as SIPCOR seeks relief from the Court of Appeals; the unit slipped on the day.

A halving of top-line versus last year is a material distribution risk for a REIT; until the SIPCOR matter is resolved the income visibility is impaired.

Stance: AVOID / CAUTION — impaired income visibility.
