Covering the PSE session of

Thursday, 3 July 2026

THE CALL — Quick Read & Actionable

Third straight up-day; foreigners flip to net buyers. The PSEi rallied +1.01% (+62.31) to 6,188.03 — its third consecutive gain and the broadest session of the week, with 108 advances against 64 declines. Mining & Oil led decisively (+4.38%), followed by Holding Firms (+2.27%), Property (+1.28%), Financials (+1.21%) and Services (+0.32%); Industrial (-0.04%) was essentially flat. Value traded was ₱4.45B (lighter Friday volume ahead of the US holiday weekend).

The flow turn. Foreigners swung to net buying of +₱139.3M — the first positive session after five straight days of selling. AC was the clear catalyst (+₱95.0M), joined by BPI (+₱76.2M), ICT (+₱65.6M), BDO (+₱43.1M) and TEL (+₱24.7M). The exit side narrowed, led by APX (-₱70.0M on gold-miner profit-taking), JFC (-₱45.0M) and MER (-₱39.6M).

AC-ALI story of the day. Ayala Corp jumped +6.8% to ₱480.80 (₱516.5M turnover) after announcing a ₱5.0B buyback program for Ayala Land shares (₱2.0B sourced from approved capex, part of a ₱20.0B expanded plan). ALI followed, rising +2.7% to ₱15.44 on ₱277.7M turnover and +₱14.0M inflow — a dual catalyst that re-prices the conglomerate's floor under its flagship property unit.

Macro & global. US markets were closed for Independence Day; the Dow's record 52,900.07 from Thursday stands. Asian markets rallied broadly: the Kospi rebounded +5.4% after a -10% two-day slump, the Nikkei gained +1.5% and the JCI jumped +3.2%. Locally, the PHL 10Y held at 7.116% (still above our 7% bank-caution trigger), while the peso firmed to ~₱61.45 after weak US jobs data reduced expectations for a Fed rate hike. BSP signalled it is monitoring El Niño as a supply-shock risk.

Actionable ideas

- ACCUMULATE AC (₱480.80) — ₱5.0B ALI buyback drives the conglomerate re-rating; +₱95.0M foreign buying.
- ACCUMULATE ON DIPS ICT (₱913.00) — four-day flow leader (+₱65.6M today, ~₱620M cumulative); PSE dismissed delisting rumors.
- ACCUMULATE ALI (₱15.44) — AC buyback backstop + expansion plans; +₱14.0M inflow and bargain-hunting momentum.
- MONITOR Banks (BDO/BPI/MBT) — flow improved sharply (BPI +₱76.2M, BDO +₱43.1M) but 10Y still at 7.116% — enjoy, don't chase.
- MONITOR Gold miners (APX/PX/OGP) — bullion firmed +1.1% but PH miners saw profit-taking (APX -₱70.0M); let the dust settle.

CORPORATE NEWS, ANALYSIS & INSIGHT

AC ₱480.80

AC surges 6.8% on ₱5.0B ALI buyback; foreigners pile in +₱95.0M

Ayala Corp was the session's clear alpha: it surged +6.8% to ₱480.80 (intraday ₱481.00) on ₱516.5M of turnover — the second-heaviest of the day — and attracted +₱95.0M of net foreign buying, the largest single-name inflow. The catalyst: AC announced a ₱5.0B share-buyback program for Ayala Land (ALI) common shares, with ₱2.0B sourced from approved capex, as part of a ₱20.0B expanded buyback plan (₱599.5M utilized to date). The move signals the conglomerate's value view on its flagship property unit and backstops ALI's floor. ALI followed, adding +2.7% to ₱15.44 on ₱277.7M turnover and +₱14.0M of foreign buying.

DA View — Stance: ACCUMULATE on AC (accumulate staged entries) and ALI (accumulate — deep-value flag with a buyback floor).

ICT ₱913.00

ICT cements a four-day foreign-flow streak; PSE dismisses delisting rumors

International Container Terminal Services held at ₱913.00, again topping turnover (₱613.0M) and drawing +₱65.6M of net foreign buying for a fourth straight session, taking the week's cumulative inflow to roughly ₱620M. PSE President Ramon Monzon publicly dismissed speculation that ICTSI plans to delist and pursue an overseas listing, stating that Chairman Enrique Razon has not discussed any such move — removing an overhang that had circulated in some client calls. The dollar-earner rotation thesis remains intact.

DA View — Stance: ACCUMULATE ON DIPS — enter on 3–5% pullbacks; don't chase a four-day streak.

BPI • BDO • MBT BPI ₱101.00

Banks rally as the flow turns, but 10Y still above 7%

The bank complex rallied with the tape: BPI held ₱101.00 on the day's largest bank inflow (+₱76.2M), BDO climbed +2.6% to ₱123.50 with +₱43.1M, and MBT firmed +1.5% to ₱66.30 with +₱8.8M. The improved flow is a welcome shift, but the PHL 10Y is still at 7.116% and the BSP has allowed banks to temporarily exclude unrealized bond losses from regulatory capital — a move rating agencies have flagged as credit-negative, warning it masks rather than resolves capital stress. Our standing trigger: the sector is MONITOR until the 10Y returns below 7%.

DA View — Stance: MONITOR — flow is improving, but the yield backdrop and the BSP bond-loss relief speak to underlying pressure; wait for the 10Y to turn.

GLO ₱1,885.00

Mynt/Vitro IPO pipeline: market seen "capable of absorbing" the offers

Analysts say the market can absorb both the Mynt and Vitro IPOs, supporting the PSE's year-end pipeline. Globe's Mynt targets Q4 at ₱10.00/share (~39x trailing P/E, ~$11B valuation), while Vitro adds to supply. GLO firmed to ₱1,885.00 but saw -₱0.7M of foreign selling. Separately, Globe is betting on AI to improve operations and customer experience — a digital efficiency catalyst.

DA View — Stance: MONITOR — IPO pipeline is real but the multiple is demanding; MONITOR GLO for the Mynt timeline.

MER • Mining MER ₱575.00

MER Q2 energy sales edge up on warmer weather; mining tracks gold higher

Meralco said Q2 energy sales volume edged higher on warmer weather, supportive of the record-income guidance but not a fresh catalyst. The stock eased -0.5% to ₱575.00 and saw -₱39.6M of foreign profit-taking for a second day. In Mining & Oil (+4.38%, the session leader), gold-related stocks rallied after weak US jobs data reduced Fed-hike expectations, lifting bullion; however, APX bore heavy foreign profit-taking (-₱70.0M) and PX also saw exits (-₱7.9M) — gold's direction is clear, but the PH miners are volatile vehicles.

DA View — Stance: MONITOR on MER (post-guidance profit-taking phase) and the gold miners (APX/PX/OGP — let the big profit-taking settle before adding on the bullion thesis).

Also on the desk GTCAP • MRC • Iloilo RE • VP Duterte trial

Corporate briefs

GT Capital (GTCAP, ₱491.00) unit Federal Land is shifting 4 Pasay projects to residential-estate format — a portfolio re-calibration (MONITOR; -₱7.0M foreign selling). MRC Allied (MRC, ₱0.74) backed ISP is starting enterprise rollout with provincial expansion plans — a speculative growth angle in an illiquid name (not rated). Iloilo is leading provincial office take-up as outsourcing firms expand beyond Metro Manila — a structural tailwind for provincial REITs and property. The VP Sara Duterte impeachment trial begins today (July 6) in the Senate; this is a political headline to monitor for sentiment, though no direct equity market impact is expected near term.

Global tape

Macro & international

Philippines. The Treasury will sell ₱30B of 8% 2031 bonds on July 7 — the first auction with the 10Y above 7%, so the clearing yield will be a policy signal. BSP is monitoring El Niño as a potential supply-shock risk and says it expects more banks to drop digital-transfer fees (following BPI and RCBC), advancing the "cash-lite" agenda. The peso firmed to ~₱61.45 after weak US June jobs data dampened expectations for a Fed rate hike. VP Sara Duterte's Senate impeachment trial starts today.

International. US markets were closed for the July 4 Independence Day holiday (Dow 52,900.07 record from Thursday stands). Asian markets rallied: the Kospi rebounded +5.4% after a two-day -10% slump, aided by Samsung's plan to raise Q3 DRAM prices ~20%; the Nikkei gained +1.5%; the JCI jumped +3.2%. Weak US June payrolls data boosted risk sentiment across the region and firmed Asian currencies. Oil held near pre-war lows (Brent ~$72, WTI ~$69) with an interim US–Iran peace accord helping de-escalate the Strait of Hormuz standoff. Gold firmed +1.1%; silver +2.0%. The Magnificent 7 tech stocks have slipped ~2% on a total-return basis over the past two years.
