Market data as of Monday, 06 July 2026 PSE close • figures reconciled to the PSE Daily Quotation Report (authoritative)

THE CALL

The PSEi extended its climb to 6,223.99 (+0.58%, +35.96 pts), though it settled well off an intraday high of 6,304.76 as afternoon supply capped the tape. Breadth was constructive — 100 advancers to 83 decliners — and foreign investors were net buyers of ₱491.6M, concentrated squarely in the banks: BPI (+₱237.5M) and BDO (+₱179.0M) led the block.

The catch: the PHL 10-year yield pushed to 7.15%, back above our 7% line-in-the-sand for the bank trade — so we keep BDO/BPI/MBT at MONITOR even as the foreign bid runs hot.

Actionable posture: stay constructive on the Ayala complex (AC, ALI) and dollar-earner ICT on dips; read the Services drag (PLDT, Globe, Converge) as the session's soft spot rather than a market signal.

QUICK HIGHLIGHTS

Read-through: a broad advance — five of six sectors higher — led by Financials (+1.85%) on the foreign bank bid and Holding Firms (+1.69%). Services (-1.71%) was the sole decliner, dragged by telco foreign selling and Converge. The index printed a fresh push higher but faded from its intraday peak.

FOREIGN FLOWS

Net +P491.6M (buying)

BPI +P237.5M	PGOLD -P56.6M
BDO +P179.0M	JFC -P38.0M

AC +P36.7M	SM -P25.4M
ALI +P22.3M	GLO -P19.9M
URC +P19.7M	ICT -P15.7M

The tape's signal: offshore money rotated firmly into banks (BPI, BDO, MBT) and select consumer names (CNPF, URC), while trimming Puregold, telcos (PLDT, Globe), Maynilad and — unusually — ICT. Note that ICT, our usual foreign-flow leader, was a net sell today (-P15.7M) amid a block-heavy tape; we read this as positioning, not a change in thesis.

GLOBAL Wall Street at records; Warsh keeps the 2% flag flying

The Dow Jones cleared 53,000 for the first time (53,055.91), with the S&P 500 (+0.72%) and Nasdaq (+1.12%) carried by a rebound in AI-hardware names and positioning ahead of SpaceX's entry into the Nasdaq-100. Treasury yields eased as Fed Chair Kevin Warsh reaffirmed the 2% inflation objective — repeating that “prices are too high” while offering no forward guidance. The dollar firmed at the margin (USD-JPY 162.35) and Bitcoin steadied even as MicroStrategy trimmed holdings. Oil held firm (WTI $68.78) despite Saudi Arabia cutting official selling prices to Asia; Lone Pine Capital's flagship reportedly returned ~43% through June. Across Asia, tech was the drag as investors kept rotating out of AI equities toward the mega-cap hyperscalers.

Our take — The record run keeps the global risk backdrop supportive for EM inflows — and today's PH tape (foreign buying into banks) fits. But a Warsh Fed that won't declare victory on inflation, paired with a PHL 10Y back above 7%, argues for selectivity over beta-chasing.

STANCE • CONSTRUCTIVE ON EM RISK — SELECTIVE ON RATE-SENSITIVES

PH MACRO Balisacan flags an H2 acceleration; Bavi (Inday) nears PAR

Economic Planning Secretary Arsenio Balisacan said growth should speed up meaningfully in H2 after Middle East tensions slowed Q2. Typhoon Bavi — locally Inday — is seen entering the PH Area of Responsibility Tuesday night / early Wednesday; landfall looks unlikely but strong winds and monsoon rains are possible. On the political calendar, VP Sara Duterte will skip day one of her impeachment trial, per counsel Michael Poa. In fixed income, the Treasury fully awarded T-bills — 364-day at 5.964%, 182-day at 5.729%, 91-day at 5.143%. Separately, the Philippines (with Vietnam) was reclassified to upper-middle-income status — a milestone for the aggregate economy, not an automatic lift to household incomes.

Our take — A supportive backdrop for domestic-demand plays, but front-end T-bill prints (~5.1–6.0%) and a 7.15% 10Y keep funding costs elevated — a headwind for leveraged and rate-sensitive names, and another reason to hold the bank stance at Monitor.

STANCE • DOMESTIC-DEMAND CONSTRUCTIVE — WATCH THE RATE COMPLEX

AC AC Health's Healthway opens 18th multi-specialty center

Ayala Corp's healthcare arm continues to scale its multi-specialty footprint with the opening of Healthway's 18th center, deepening a recurring-revenue platform that complements AC's energy (ACEN), mobility (AC Mobility / BYD distribution) and banking (BPI) pillars. AC was among the day's standouts, closing +4.0% at ₱497.00 with foreign investors net buyers of ₱36.7M.

Our take — The healthcare build-out adds a defensive, annuity-like leg to the AC story on top of the ALI buyback catalyst and the BYD/ACMobility optionality. We stay buyers.

STANCE • ACCUMULATE

ALI ABS-CBN land deal (₱6.24B) clears SEC — landbank accretion

The SEC approved ABS-CBN's change of principal address to the ELJ Communications Center, clearing the way for the transfer of the media firm's historic ~3-hectare Quezon City headquarters to Ayala Land under the ₱6.24B agreement (turnover targeted for December 2026). The parcel sits close to ALI's North Triangle development focus, adding prime, redevelopable land to the portfolio. ALI closed +3.2% at ₱15.92 with ₱22.3M of net foreign buying.

Our take — Deep value with an AC buyback floor and now a visible landbank top-up in a strategic corridor. The catalyst path is intact.

STANCE • ACCUMULATE

ABS Digital-first re-rating funded by the Ayala Land sale

We increasingly value ABS-CBN as a digital-first content company rather than a legacy broadcaster: by shedding costly assets and leaning into 55M+ YouTube subscribers and global distribution, it is cutting overhead and narrowing losses. The ₱6.24B ALI proceeds are earmarked to pay down a ~₱16B debt load toward roughly ₱13B, materially de-risking the balance sheet. ABS was sharply higher on the session (close ₱4.00, from an open of ₱3.26).

Our take — Still speculative and loss-making, but the debt paydown plus a content-led model make the risk/reward more interesting for tactical accounts.

STANCE • SPECULATIVE ACCUMULATE

MYNLD PSEi August-inclusion candidate on strong earnings & liquidity

Maynilad is tipped to join the PSEi in the August rebalancing, aided by robust earnings — Q1 net income rose ~10% to ₱4B — and healthy post-IPO liquidity. Management has committed to distribute a sizable share of net income, giving the stock an attractive dividend profile. MYNLD closed +3.5% at ₱20.50, though foreign investors were net sellers of ₱31.1M.

Our take — Index inclusion is a genuine passive-flow catalyst, but our standing caution on Angat/EI Niño supply risk and the persistent foreign outflow keeps us patient rather than chasing.

STANCE • MONITOR (inclusion catalyst noted)

BANKS Foreign bid meets a 7%-plus 10-year

Banks powered the tape: BPI (+₱237.5M), BDO (+₱179.0M) and MBT (+₱40.9M) drew the day's heaviest foreign buying, and Financials led all sectors (+1.85%). The complication is rates — the PHL 10-year yield rose to 7.15%, back above the 7% level we flag as a caution trigger for the bank trade given AFS mark-to-market and funding-cost sensitivity.

Our take — We respect the flow but don't upgrade into a rising-rate print. Keep BDO/BPI/MBT on Monitor; a sustained move back below 7% on the 10Y would be the cue to turn more constructive.

STANCE • MONITOR — caution: PHL 10Y > 7%

ICT A rare foreign-sell day for the dollar earner

International Container Terminal Services topped turnover (₱611.6M) but eased 0.9% to ₱894.50, and — atypically — saw net foreign selling of ₱15.7M against a block-heavy tape (multiple crossings near ₱905–910). ICT remains a structural USD-revenue beneficiary and our preferred multi-day foreign-flow name.

Our take — We treat today's dip and outflow as positioning rather than a thesis change. The dollar-earner case is intact; add on weakness.

STANCE • ACCUMULATE ON DIPS

JFC Foreign profit-taking persists despite a green day

Jollibee firmed +2.1% to ₱149.00 but foreign investors continued to take profit, with net selling of ₱38.0M — extending a pattern we've flagged in recent sessions. The domestic-consumption and global-brands story is intact, but the offshore bid has clearly cooled.

Our take — We are shifting our bias: still an Accumulate on fundamentals, but the persistent outflow moves JFC toward Monitor. We'd want the foreign selling to abate before adding aggressively.

STANCE • ACCUMULATE → MONITOR

CNVRG Index-exclusion risk vs a deep-value entry

Converge closed -1.8% at ₱9.80 (DQR close; the desk note's "20.60" refers to the earlier peak zone) with ₱15.7M of net foreign selling. Index-exclusion risk persists, but with the stock now more than 52% below its peak, we view further near-term weakness as a strong accumulation window for patient capital.

Our take — Own it for the multi-year fibre/broadband thesis, but size for the exclusion risk — treat weakness as opportunity, not a reason to abandon.

STANCE • ACCUMULATE ON WEAKNESS

ACEN / FGEN Clean-energy pipelines extend

ACEN brought a Dutch investor into its second India renewables project, broadening its overseas partnership pipeline (ACEN +3.5% to ₱3.21, foreign buying +₱14.6M). First Gen secured NIA approval for a 120-MW pumped-storage project, adding firm, dispatchable-storage optionality to its clean portfolio (FGEN ₱16.38, foreign buying +₱2.2M).

Our take — Both advance the energy-transition growth runway. We stay buyers of the pipeline build-out in each.

STANCE • ACCUMULATE (ACEN & FGEN)

TEL / MER Telco capex vs utility defensiveness

PLDT expanded its Bohol network with 11 new sites, underscoring continued capex intensity; the stock saw the day's heaviest foreign selling among telcos (-₱31.8M, close ₱1,161). Meralco joined a media-literacy campaign — soft news — but drew solid foreign buying (+₱37.95M, close ₱579.50).

Our take — PLDT: the yield case is real but capex and the foreign outflow keep us on Monitor. MER: a defensive utility with a supportive foreign bid; hold for the dividend and stability.

STANCE • PLDT — MONITOR | MER — HOLD

PNB / ABG Corporate housekeeping: listing prep and an asset grab

PNB said its property unit continues preparations for a listing — a potential value-unlock for the bank's substantial real-estate holdings (PNB ₱58.40). Asiabest Group is seeking approval for up to ₱6.7B in asset acquisitions, an event-driven expansion in a thinly traded shell-type vehicle (ABG +1.5% to ₱32.90, foreign buying +₱5.06M).

Our take — PNB: monitor for the monetisation timeline. ABG: speculative and illiquid — for event-driven risk budgets only.
