AT A GLANCE — ACTIONABLE HIGHLIGHTS

Session snapshot PSEi 6,158.34 ▼ -106.36 (-1.70%) • Value ₱5.78B • Breadth 74 up / 119 down / 54 flat • Foreign net SELLING ₱865.1M

- Broad risk-off: PSEi -1.70% to 6,158.34 with ALL six sectors red — Services (-2.68%) and Mining & Oil (-2.60%) worst; breadth deeply negative (74 up / 119 down / 54 flat) on thin ₱5.78B value.
- Foreigners net-sold ₱865.1M — a FIFTH straight day and ~2x Tuesday's pace: ICT -₱232.6M (a massive single-name exit), BDO - ₱188.5M, SM -₱95.2M, TEL -₱76.2M, GLO -₱53.7M, MER -₱53.0M. RCR (+₱13.2M) and DHI (+₱11.8M) drew the thin inflows.
- Tuesday's rebounds reversed: Mining & Oil gave back its rally (APX -5.3% on -₱30.7M foreign, AT -2.2%) and FGEN/FPH faded — FGEN -3.3% to ₱29.10, FPH -7.6% to ₱106.30 — with the KKR take-private still unresolved.
- Rates & FX turned risk-negative: the PHL 10-year backed up ~8bps to 7.327% (away from the 7% line) and the peso slid toward ₱62 (intraday low ₱61.995); July BOP swung to a US$1.47B deficit.
- Actionable dip-buys the desk flags: CNVRG (₱9.70, PT ₱17.0), MWC (₱35.30, PT ₱47.0), SCC (₱18.14, PT ₱27.0, +₱3.5M foreign) and ALI (₱15.30, +₱7.0M foreign, 2nd straight inflow) — deep-value with returning bids.
- Global offset: Wall Street rose as the US Treasury doubled long-bond buybacks (Dow +0.22%, S&P +0.21%); gold surged +3.9% past $4,500 and silver +7.5% — but the Aug-19 Asian session slumped on a chip selloff (TWSE -1.3%, Shanghai -2.4%).

THE CALL

Risk-off, foreign-flow-driven, and now with the macro turning. Tuesday's flat "up" day gave way to a broad -1.70% decline with every sector red and breadth deeply negative (74 advancers to 119 decliners). The tell is the same but bigger — a fifth straight session of foreign selling, ₱865M, roughly double Tuesday's — with the exodus led this time by ICT (-₱232.6M, a huge single-name exit on ₱1.68B of turnover) and BDO (-₱188.5M), while SM (-₱95.2M), TEL (-₱76.2M) and the telco/utility heavyweights (GLO, MER ~-₱53M each) all bled. We stay defensive at the index level and selective underneath.

Two things worsened the backdrop. First, the rebounds we flagged Tuesday reversed: the mining rally unwound (Mining & Oil -2.60%, APX -5.3%, AT -2.2%) and the FGEN/FPH bounce faded (FGEN -3.3%, FPH -7.6%) with no live KKR deal to anchor it. Second, the macro tilted against risk — the PHL 10-year backed up to 7.327% (away from our 7% upgrade line), the peso slid toward ₱62 (intraday ₱61.995), and July's balance of payments swung to a US$1.47B deficit. That combination keeps banks on Monitor and argues against chasing beta.

Where we lean in is stock-specific and valuation-led. Foreign buyers kept adding to ALI (+₱7.0M, a second straight inflow) into its deep discount; the desk tags CNVRG (PT ₱17), MWC (PT ₱47) and SCC (PT ₱27, +₱3.5M foreign) as dip-buys with clear upside to target; and RCR/DHI drew the day's largest inflows. We prefer these idiosyncratic, well-supported names over index exposure until the foreign-selling run abates and the 10-year turns back toward 7%.

PSE SESSION DASHBOARD

Breadth was deeply negative (74 advancers to 119 decliners) with all six sectors lower — a broad, foreign-selling risk-off session.

GLOBAL & REGIONAL MARKETS

US indices rose on Aug 19, snapping a three-session slide, after the US Treasury said it would double long-dated debt buybacks (to ≥US$4B/operation for 10–30yr securities) — easing long-end yields and the dollar. The Aug-19 Asian session, however, slumped on a chipmaker selloff (MSCI Asia-Pac –2.3%; TWSE –1.3%, Shanghai –2.4%) amid elevated yields and a US–Iran stalemate. Data note: the desk brief's prior-session marks were remapped prior→latest against the DQR PSEi close (6,158.34); regional prints reconciled cleanly this session (no outsized/KLCI outliers to suppress).

COMMODITIES

Gold surged +3.9% past $4,500 (to ≈US$4,568) and silver leapt +7.5% to ≈US$67.89 as the dollar dropped on the Treasury buyback plan; grains firmed (corn +2.3%, wheat +2.1%) and cocoa +1.9%, while coffee slipped –1.3%. Oil edged higher (WTI +0.2%) despite UAE–Iran tensions and rising US refiner demand.

PHILIPPINES STRATEGY

Defensive at the index, selective underneath. A fifth day of net foreign selling (₱865M), all-red sectors and negative breadth argue firmly against chasing the tape. The heavyweight exodus — ICT, BDO, SM, TEL, GLO, MER — is the dominant force, and with the Aug-18 mining and FGEN/FPH rebounds both reversing, momentum has left the board. We concentrate on valuation-anchored, locally-supported names: ALI (returning foreign bid, buyback floor), the desk's dip-buys (CNVRG, MWC, SCC), and the REIT/infra income stories drawing selective inflows (RCR, MREIT, DHI).

The macro is now a headwind, not a swing factor. The 10-year's back-up to 7.327% pushes our sub-7% bank-upgrade trigger further away; the peso near ₱62 and a July BOP deficit temper appetite for rate-sensitives and peso-funded holdcos. We keep banks on Monitor (BDO's ₱188.5M exit underlines the caution), stay Neutral on ACEN despite its PT, and would only add index beta once the foreign-selling streak breaks and rates ease back toward the 7% line.

SECTORAL SUMMARY

Sector	Close	% Chg	Pt Chg	Value ₱M
Financials	1,936.69	-1.07%	-20.87	815.03
Industrial	8,135.03	-1.64%	-135.47	949.17

PSEi	6,158.34	-1.70%	-106.36	—
All Shares	3,396.35	-1.29%	-44.47	—

Every sector fell, led by Services (-2.68%, dragged by ICT/TEL/GLO) and Mining & Oil (-2.60%, Tuesday's rally unwinding); Property (-0.08%) was the only near-flat sector. The -1.70% index drop rode deeply negative breadth and a fifth day of heavyweight foreign selling. Services value (₱2.34B) is again dominated by ICT's ₱1.68B turnover.

FOREIGN FUND FLOW

Net foreign ₱865.1M net SELLING — a fifth straight session and the heaviest of the run, roughly double Tuesday's ₱403.6M. Top net flows (₱M):

Top Foreign Buyers	Net ₱M	Top Foreign Sellers	Net ₱M
RCR RL Commercial REIT	+13.18	ICT Int'l Container	-232.59
DHI Dominion Holdings	+11.82	BDO BDO Unibank	-188.47

LTG LT Group	+4.59	URC Universal Robina	-25.71
IMI Integrated Micro	+3.52	EMI Emperador	-20.95

ICT (-₱232.6M) and BDO (-₱188.5M) alone accounted for ~₱421M of the outflow; SM's -₱95.2M ran through the regular market. Inflows were thin, led by RCR (+₱13.2M) and DHI (+₱11.8M). Notably, JFC's foreign flow swung back to buying (+₱7.0M) after Tuesday's exit.

Rebuilt from the DQR Value column. ICT alone traded ₱1.68B — more than 2.6× the next name (SM) — and again dominated turnover even as it led the foreign exit.

BLOCK SALES

Block value was ₱99.38M (873,120 sh) — organic turnover, with no distorting mega-block. ICT's and SM's heavy foreign selling ran through the regular market, not a block. Named crosses:

CORPORATE UPDATES

FGEN / FPH First Gen · First Phil. Holdings

FGEN ₱29.10 · FPH ₱106.30

First Gen and FPH give back Tuesday's rebound as the KKR take-private stays unresolved

First Gen fell 3.3% to ₱29.10 and parent First Philippine Holdings dropped 7.6% to ₱106.30, surrendering much of Tuesday's double-digit bounce as the post-crash recovery lost momentum. Foreigners turned net sellers of both (FGEN -₱7.0M, FPH -₱0.5M). With FPH having rejected KKR's withdrawn ₱35/share offer and no live transaction on the table, the pair now trades on fundamentals and sentiment alone — and both slid with the broad tape.

Analysis. The give-back confirms Tuesday's bounce was a relief rally, not a re-rating. Absent a renewed bid or a fresh catalyst, FGEN is a recurring-income story with no near-term trigger, and FPH's value case rests on the parent's stated "undervalued" stance rather than a deal. We stay Hold on both and watch for any revival of take-private talks.

Stance: HOLD (FGEN & FPH) — Tuesday's rebound faded; no live KKR deal, so both trade on fundamentals with no near-term catalyst.

Banks BDO · BPI · MBT

BDO ₱122.10 · BPI ₱107.40 · MBT ₱67.45

BDO bleeds ₱188.5M — the day's second-heaviest exit — as the 10-year backs up above 7%

The banks led the heavyweight decline: BDO fell 1.9% to ₱122.10 on the day's second-largest foreign outflow (-₱188.5M), MBT eased 2.0% to ₱67.45 (-₱26.3M), and BPI held near flat at ₱107.40 (a small +₱1.9M inflow, aided by a ₱26.2M block cross). The macro turned less friendly — the PHL 10-year backed up ~8bps to 7.327%, reversing Tuesday's drift toward the 7% line, while the peso slid toward ₱62.

Analysis. The rate back-up pushes our sub-7% upgrade trigger further out of reach, and BDO's heavy foreign exit shows the group is still a funding source in a risk-off tape. The "provisioning offsets margins" overhang remains. We keep the sector on Monitor and need a sustained move back below 7% on the 10-year — plus a pause in foreign selling — before turning constructive.

Stance: MONITOR — 10-year back up to 7.327% and BDO's ₱188.5M exit keep the group defensive; await a sustained sub-7% print.

ALI Ayala Land, Inc.

₱15.30

Foreign buyers add to Ayala Land for a second day as it turns over 110 Naga homes

Ayala Land eased 2.1% to ₱15.30 with the broad market but drew a second consecutive foreign inflow (+₱7.0M, after Tuesday's +₱18.6M) — a rare bid on a heavy-selling day. Operationally, an ALI unit turned over 110 homes under the Naga City housing program, underscoring steady execution even as 1H26 net income sits ~19% lower on macro and MSCI-indexing pressure. The stock remains at a deep cyclical discount with the parent buyback as a floor.

Analysis. Two straight days of foreign buying into a falling tape is the forward-looking signal we want; the weak 1H is well-known and, we think, largely priced. With deep-value support and a buyback backstop, we keep ALI on Accumulate for patient capital and would use indexing-driven weakness to add.

Stance: ACCUMULATE — deep-value discount with a second straight foreign inflow and a buyback floor; the weak 1H is priced.

SCC Semirara Mining & Power₱18.14Semirara dips 3.0% to ₱18.14 but foreigners buy — a deep discount to the desk's ₱27.0 target

Semirara Mining & Power slipped 3.0% to ₱18.14 with the mining sell-down, yet foreigners were net buyers (+₱3.5M) — a divergence from the sector's broad foreign exit. Against the desk's ₱27.0 price target, the pullback widens the discount to roughly 49% upside, and the integrated coal-and-power model continues to throw off cash and dividends through the cycle.

Analysis. The decline was sector beta, not a fundamental shift, and the foreign inflow into weakness supports the case. We keep SCC on Accumulate on Pullback, using the sell-down toward the mid-teens as an entry for the yield-and-value story ahead of the ₱27.0 target.

Stance: ACCUMULATE ON PULLBACK — 3% dip with foreign buying; deep discount to the ₱27.0 target on a cash-generative coal-power model.

CNVRG Converge ICT Solutions₱9.70Converge holds green in a red tape; the desk tags it a dip-buy toward a ₱17.0 target

Converge edged up 0.1% to ₱9.70 — one of the few PSEi-30 names to close higher — though foreigners trimmed ₱8.9M. The desk flags CNVRG as a dip-buy: against a ₱17.0 price target, the fibre-broadband operator screens at a steep discount, with subscriber growth, improving ARPU and a maturing capex cycle supporting free-cash-flow expansion.

Analysis. The relative resilience on a heavy day is encouraging, and the ~75% gap to our ₱17.0 target leaves ample room even allowing for competition. We treat CNVRG as an Accumulate on dips, adding into flow-driven weakness rather than chasing.

Stance: ACCUMULATE (DIP BUY) — ₱17.0 target implies deep upside; fibre growth and a maturing capex cycle drive free-cash-flow.

MWC Manila Water Co.₱35.30Manila Water flagged a dip-buy toward ₱47.0 on regulated, inflation-linked cash flows

Manila Water eased to ₱35.30 (–₱8.0M foreign) with the broad tape. The desk tags it a dip-buy against a ₱47.0 target: the East Zone concessionaire offers regulated, inflation-linked returns and a visible capex-driven rate base, with the current rebasing cycle underpinning tariff and volume growth. (Separately, peer Metro Pacific Water reported boosting supply to 10,000 Bulacan households.)

Analysis. A regulated utility with contracted returns is exactly the defensive, cash-generative profile that suits this risk-off backdrop, and the ~33% gap to our ₱47.0 target rewards patience. We keep MWC an Accumulate on dips.

Stance: ACCUMULATE (DIP BUY) — regulated inflation-linked returns and a ₱47.0 target; defensive cash flows suit a risk-off tape.

ACEN ACEN Corp.₱3.00*ACEN firms to ₱3.00 against a ₱4.10 target, but foreign selling persists

ACEN rose 1.7% to ₱3.00 — resilient on a red day — though it bled another ₱6.3M in foreign selling. The desk carries a ₱4.10 price target on the renewables platform, whose India build-out (the Avana stake sale to DIRO) recycles capital into the pipeline while bringing in a funding partner.

Analysis. The PT implies meaningful upside and the partner-funded expansion is sensible capital discipline, but the persistent foreign exit and near-term funding/execution questions keep us patient. We stay Neutral pending clearer evidence the recycled capital is lifting returns.

Stance: NEUTRAL — ₱4.10 target offers upside, but continued foreign selling and execution questions keep us on the sidelines.

JFC Jollibee Foods Corp.₱154.80*Jollibee's Tim Ho Wan to take full control of its North America venture; foreign buying returns

Jollibee held near flat at ₱154.80 and, notably, foreign flow swung back to buying (+₱7.0M, reversing Tuesday's -₱22.9M exit). On the news front, JFC's Tim Ho Wan brand is moving to take full control of its North America venture — deepening the group's international franchise footprint alongside its recent Q2 margin recovery on strategic pricing. The stock stayed heavily traded (₱95M by value; a ₱20.5M block crossed).

Analysis. The return of foreign buying and the North America consolidation are constructive, offsetting the near-term positioning pressure that hit the stock Tuesday. We hold, treating flow-driven dips as accumulation opportunities given the improving margin trajectory and expanding international footprint.

Stance: HOLD / ACCUMULATE ON WEAKNESS — foreign buying returned (+₱7.0M) and Tim Ho Wan consolidates North America; accumulate dips.

MACRO Rates · Peso · Balance of Payments10Y 7.327% · ₱/$ 61.82*The 10-year backs up above 7% and the peso nears ₱62 as July BOP swings to a deficit

The macro tape turned against risk. The PHL 10-year rose ~8bps to 7.327%, reversing Tuesday's drift toward the 7% bank-caution line, while the peso slid a fifth day toward ₱62 (intraday low ₱61.995; DDS reference ₱61.785). July's balance of payments swung to a US$1.47B deficit from a US$3.4B June surplus — attributed to national-government foreign-debt repayments and a persistent goods-trade gap. BSP has signalled it may step in selectively to smooth volatility rather than defend a fixed level.

Analysis. A higher 10-year and a weaker peso are a double headwind for rate-sensitives and peso-funded holdcos, and the BOP reversal removes some of the external-account cushion. We stay defensive on banks and rate-sensitives until yields turn back toward 7% and the peso stabilises.

Stance: CAUTION — higher yields, a weaker peso and a BOP deficit keep us defensive on rate-sensitives; watch for a sub-7% 10-year.

SMARTWATCH SUMMARY

- ▶ Foreign exodus intensifies: a fifth straight net-selling day (P865M) led by ICT (–P232.6M) and BDO (–P188.5M); SM, TEL, GLO and MER each bled P50–95M.
