The May 29 DQR records net foreign selling of PHP 6,646,580,008 — approximately USD 107.846M in a single session — the largest one-day foreign outflow since records began tracking this metric for the PSEi. This extraordinary figure was driven predominantly by MSCI semi-annual rebalancing-related forced selling: JFC's PHP 6.1 billion in turnover (removed from MSCI) alone constitutes the single largest single-stock trading value of 2026. MTD net foreign selling for May surged to USD 396.025M and the YTD figure rose to USD 215.600M — more than double the level of a week ago. Critically, much of this is mechanical MSCI-driven flow rather than discretionary bear positioning; the signal is distorted and should not be read as genuine conviction selling. Bought: BPI (PHP 148M), SGP (PHP 170M), ACEN (PHP 32M), AEV (PHP 17M), CNVRG (PHP 31M) — active accumulation in RE, grid, and connectivity names. Key MSCI removal-driven selling: JFC, ALI, SMPH, SM, ICT, AGI, MER.

GLOBAL MARKETS COMMENTARY

Global markets open the new week (June 1) constructively. The Dow gained 0.72% to 51,032, the S&P 500 added 0.22%, and the Nasdaq rose 0.20% on Friday — supported by Wall Street optimism over booming corporate profits fuelled by artificial intelligence, de-escalation hopes in the Middle East, and slight relief in inflation data. Historically, a nine-week winning streak for the S&P 500 is a rare, highly bullish signal that typically points to sustained long-term market momentum. Asia caught the bid: the Nikkei surged 1.38% to 66,329, Korea's KOSPI added 1.55% to 8,515, Taiwan's TWSE rose 2.51% to 44,732 — AI-driven chip optimism fuelling a broad Asia tech rally. Singapore's STI gained 0.98%.

Oil ticked up modestly — WTI to USD 89.42 (+1.11%) and Brent eased to USD 92.90 (-0.86%) — as the Iran deal remains in a state of tentative progress without formal signing. The US conducted self-defense airstrikes near the Strait of Hormuz even as ceasefire extension talks continued, maintaining binary risk. Gold rose 1.06% to USD 4,571.90 as a partial safe-haven bid returned. Coal surged 3.99% to USD 136.75 — a supply disruption signal in Asia coal markets that may lift energy costs for coal-fired Philippine generators and increase pressure on WESM spot prices in coming weeks. Conversely, cocoa's -4.29% decline to USD 3,923/MT is constructive for GSML and JFC margins.

The PHL 10-year bond yield compressed sharply to 7.431% from 7.525% — a 9.4 basis point rally in a single day, now 28 basis points below last week's peak of 7.715%. This is the most significant domestic macro positive: bond markets are pricing that the BSP's tightening cycle will be more moderate than feared, anchored by the oil drop and Iran deal optimism. However, the BSP's own forecast of May inflation at 7.1%–7.9% — the highest in nearly four years — provides the counterbalance. The June BSP meeting will be the critical catalyst: markets are pricing 75 basis points cumulative by year-end, but the oil trajectory and bond market rally are eroding the urgency.

PHILIPPINES MACRO WATCH

The PSEi's May 29 close of 5,768.76 (-1.55%, -91.18 pts) must be read in the context of MSCI rebalancing mechanics. The PHP 26.47 billion total turnover — nearly five times the daily average — reflects global passive funds mechanically reweighting their portfolios following MSCI's semi-annual review results: JFC's removal from the MSCI Philippines Standard Index drove PHP 6.1 billion alone in that single stock. ALI's extraordinary PHP 927M turnover and SMPH's PHP 977M reflect similar rebalancing flows. This is not discretionary bear selling; it is index mechanics. The PSEi at 5,768.76 is now near the 5,700–5,800 zone, testing the lower boundary of our identified support band.

The BSP's May inflation forecast of 7.1%–7.9% is the most important domestic macro data point of the week. If actual May CPI prints at the higher end (7.7%–7.9%), the pressure on BSP to deliver at least 50 basis points at the June meeting becomes very strong. If it prints at the lower end (7.1%–7.3%), the 25 basis point case becomes competitive. Either way, the June BSP decision will be the pivotal event for Philippine equities in Q2: a smaller-than-feared hike (25 bps) would likely trigger a sharp market recovery; a 50 bps hike risks further PSEi weakness toward the 5,600–5,700 support zone. Watch the June 4–5 BSP meeting dates and any pre-meeting BSP communication.

The YTD net foreign selling figure jumping to USD 215.6M from USD 107.8M in a single day is an artifact of MSCI mechanics, not a true reflection of discretionary flows. However, it will generate attention in international media and fund manager reporting. The more informative figure is the May MTD total of USD 396M — which, stripped of the approximately USD 107M of mechanical MSCI rebalancing flow, implies approximately USD 289M of genuine May outflows. That is still a historically elevated level. The Iran deal and BSP calibration remain the two fastest re-rating catalysts.

CORPORATE UPDATES

[ACEN] ACEN Wins Australian Government Revenue Support Contract for 600MW Birriwa Solar + 2,400MWh Battery Project

ACEN Corp. (ACEN) announced that its Birriwa Solar and Battery project in New South Wales has been selected under the seventh round of Australia's Capacity Investment Scheme (CIS), a competitive renewable energy tender administered by the federal government's Department of Climate Change, Energy, the Environment and Water. The Birriwa Solar project — developed through ACEN Australia — consists of a 600-megawatt solar farm paired with a 2,400-megawatt-hour battery energy storage system (BESS), making it one of the largest integrated solar-plus-storage facilities in the country. Under the Capacity Investment Scheme agreement (CISA), the Australian government provides a revenue safety net for the project: if Birriwa's earnings fall below an agreed floor price threshold, the government will top up the difference; if revenues exceed a cap, the surplus is shared with the government. This bilateral revenue support mechanism materially de-risks the project's revenue profile over the long term. ACEN Australia currently has over 1 GW of projects in construction and operation in Australia, with more than 13 GW in its development pipeline spanning the National Electricity Market. Globally, ACEN has approximately 7 GW of attributable renewable energy capacity across operational, under-construction, and committed projects in the Philippines, Australia, Vietnam, India, Indonesia, Laos, and the United States.

Analysis: The Birriwa CIS win is a transformational project-level development for ACEN's Australian business. Government revenue support from one of the world's most creditworthy sovereigns (Australia) significantly lowers the discount rate on the project's cash flows, unlocking better debt financing terms and improving long-term equity returns. A 600MW solar farm with 2,400MWh of battery storage is a bankable, grid-scale project that strengthens ACEN Australia's credibility as a long-term developer — supporting the company's broader AUD 750M portfolio debt financing secured in 2025. ACEN at PHP 3.30 (May 29 DQR) surged 7.84% on the session — the strongest single-session gain in the PSEi — and was foreign-bought (PHP 32M net). This is a high-conviction accumulation.

[MREIT] MREIT Signs MOU to Acquire 12 Commercial Assets Worth ~303,500 sqm in Largest-Ever Transaction

MREIT, Inc. — the REIT arm of Megaworld Corp. (AGI) — disclosed that it has signed a memorandum of understanding to acquire 12 commercial assets with a combined gross leasable area of approximately 303,500 square meters in what would be the largest single acquisition in the REIT's history. The Wave 5 asset infusion, targeted for the second half of 2026, consists of five lifestyle malls, six Grade A office buildings, and one internationally branded hotel. MREIT President Andy de la Cruz confirmed the transaction would bring the company's portfolio to nearly 1 million square meters of GLA — three years ahead of its original 2030 target of reaching 1 million sqm. This is a significant shift from MREIT's historically office-only focus: the addition of retail and hospitality assets deepens income diversification and reduces concentration risk. Megaworld's mall assets — operating at record-high occupancy of 95% — provide a strong visible income base for the infusion. MREIT is also targeting inclusion in the PSEi within two to three years as it grows its market capitalisation through successive infusions.

Analysis: MREIT's Wave 5 MOU is a major strategic pivot and the most significant single development in the REIT's listed history. The addition of five lifestyle malls and one hotel diversifies MREIT beyond pure office, which reduces the risk of office-sector cyclicity and provides access to Megaworld's mall business where occupancy is at an all-time high. Doubling GLA from ~647,000 to ~950,000 sqm through a single transaction is transformational. MREIT at PHP 13.80 (DQR) has underperformed the broader property sector in recent weeks — the Wave 5 announcement provides a clear re-rating catalyst. Foreign buying on May 29 (PHP 12.9M) confirms institutional positioning ahead of the infusion announcement. Accumulate for the Wave 5 and PSEi inclusion narrative.

[CNVRG] Converge ICT Plans 1 Million New Ports in 2026; P18B–P23B Capex Targets Visayas/Mindanao Provinces

Converge ICT Solutions, Inc. (CNVRG) CEO Dennis Anthony Uy announced at the company's annual stockholders' meeting on May 29 that the company is on track to deploy close to one million new broadband ports nationwide in 2026, deepening its penetration into provincial markets — particularly in the Visayas and Mindanao. The rollout is supported by a capital expenditure budget of PHP 18 billion to PHP 23 billion for the year. The Visayas and Mindanao rollout targets 900,000 of the new ports, reflecting a deliberate geographic diversification away from Converge's historically Metro Manila-centric subscriber base. Uy also highlighted the company's P5 billion, 12-megawatt data center in Pampanga — launched in March — as a key growth driver beyond residential broadband, with enterprise and co-location services expected to contribute meaningfully to 2026 revenues. Converge competes primarily against PLDT/Smart and DITO in the fixed broadband space.

Analysis: Converge's 1-million-port expansion target in a single year is aggressive — and the geographic pivot into Visayas and Mindanao addresses the company's most significant structural vulnerability: over-reliance on Luzon subscriber growth that is increasingly contested by PLDT's fiber push. The Pampanga data center signals a product evolution beyond consumer internet toward enterprise and cloud connectivity — a higher-margin, stickier revenue stream. CNVRG at PHP 11.00 (May 29 DQR, +5.97% vs May 28) was foreign bought and gained strongly on the session — a technical recovery from recent lows. Accumulate on the provincial expansion + data center growth thesis.

[MER] Meralco Open to Rate Relief Measures; Distribution Charge Stable; First Regulatory Period July 2026

Meralco (MER) said it supports efforts by the Department of Energy and Energy Regulatory Commission to explore ways to reduce electricity rates for consumers, reaffirming its proactive role in cushioning the impact of elevated energy costs driven by the Iran oil shock. Meralco Vice President Joe Zalzarriaga noted that the company's distribution charge — which accounts for approximately 12% of the total electricity bill — has remained stable despite rising operating costs and peso volatility, and that Meralco has continued its investments in system modernization, reliability improvements, digitalization, and customer service enhancements regardless. The generation charge, which makes up the bulk of consumer bills, is influenced by fuel prices, WESM spot conditions, and foreign exchange movements — factors outside Meralco's direct control. For May 2026, Meralco delivered a modest PHP 0.0151/kWh rate reduction to PHP 14.3345, achieved through ERC-mandated mechanisms including an accelerated PHP 0.4278/kWh customer refund. Meralco is also preparing for its First Regulatory Period beginning July 2026 to June 2030, under which it has filed a PHP 272-billion capital programme for grid modernization, storm-hardening, and renewable integration.

Analysis: Meralco's statement of openness to rate relief is politically strategic — positioning the company as a consumer-friendly partner to regulators at a time when electricity prices are a major public concern and a key driver of the BSP's inflation trajectory. The PHP 272B First Regulatory Period capex programme is a structural positive for long-term reliability but will require ERC approval for rate recovery mechanisms. MER at PHP 570.50 (May 29 DQR) fell -4.76% on MSCI rebalancing mechanics — the stock was a heavy sell in the index rebalancing given its large index weight. The selloff brings MER into RSI oversold territory (confirmed in the 52-week technical list), creating a re-entry opportunity. Distribution utilities at this yield level are defensively attractive.

● Stance: MONITOR | MER — MSCI-driven selloff; RSI oversold signal; rate relief advocacy positive; PHP 272B capex plan for July 2026 regulatory period; re-entry below PHP 560

[PLUS] DigiPlus Sees Stable Q2 Despite Q1 Headwinds; New President Ping Chen Appointed

DigiPlus Interactive Corp. (PLUS) outgoing President Andy Tsui said the company expects second-quarter earnings to remain stable despite the weaker consumer spending and regulatory changes that weighed on Q1 2026 results. 'Seeing that we're achieving a stabilized result compared with the first quarter, I think we're quite stable,' Tsui told reporters at a news briefing following the company's ASM. The company has implemented margin-improvement measures expected to support a stronger Q2 compared with Q1. DigiPlus reported a 33% year-on-year decline in Q1 2026 attributable net income to PHP 2.82 billion, following tightened access rules for online gaming platforms (removal of e-wallet in-app access) and softer household spending. The company appointed Ping Chen as its new president to lead the next phase of the company's growth strategy. DigiPlus operates BingoPlus and ArenaPlus, the Philippines' largest licensed digital gaming and entertainment platforms.

Analysis: DigiPlus's Q2 'stable' guidance is a floor signal — the market has been pricing in continued deterioration after Q1's 33% earnings drop, so a stable Q2 relative to Q1 is a meaningful positive surprise setup. The regulatory headwind (e-wallet access removal) is now fully in the base, making year-on-year comparisons easier from Q2 onward. PLUS at PHP 10.50 (May 29 DQR) hit a 52-week low and RSI oversold on the same session — a classic sentiment washout. The PHP 1 billion surety bond backstop and Tycoon Eusebio Tanco's confidence in the growth trajectory provide fundamental support. Monitor for the Q2 actual result as confirmation catalyst.

● Stance: MONITOR | PLUS — Q2 stable outlook; new president; 52-wk low + RSI oversold creates asymmetric entry; PHP 1B surety bond; await Q2 confirmation

[AC] Ayala Corp. Slides After MSCI Changes and Macro Pressures

Ayala Corp. (AC) fell as MSCI's semi-annual rebalancing triggered mechanical selling across Ayala-linked index constituents: AC itself, Ayala Land (ALI), and ACEN all faced rebalancing-related outflows as global passive funds adjusted portfolio weights following the May 2026 MSCI Philippines Index review results. AC closed at PHP 436.60 (May 29 DQR), down 2.98% from the May 28 close of PHP 450.00. ALI experienced even sharper MSCI-driven pressure, with PHP 927 million in turnover and a 4.71% decline to PHP 14.58 — a level near its 15-year low. The PSEi's broader decline of -1.55% reflected the rebalancing mechanics rather than a fundamental deterioration in Ayala Group's business prospects. AC's AEV subsidiary, however, closed positive (+2.58% to PHP 31.80) as foreign funds bought into AEV's JCR A- rating story and RE portfolio.

Analysis: AC's May 29 weakness is predominantly mechanical — MSCI rebalancing creates temporary price dislocations that typically normalize within one to three sessions as index funds complete their repositioning. AC at PHP 436.60 is near its 2026 lower range despite a solid portfolio of businesses (ALI, ACEN, AEV, Union Bank, Globe, ACEN) with improving earnings quality. ALI at PHP 14.58 is testing 15-year lows — extreme by any historical measure — and the MSCI rebalancing distortion creates a window for long-term accumulation in quality Ayala real estate exposure. AEV's outperformance on the same day confirms the market is discriminating within the Ayala group, rewarding RE and infrastructure exposure over retail property.

● Stance: ACCUMULATE | AC — MSCI-driven dislocation; PHP 436.60 near cycle lows; Ayala Group quality franchise; AEV +2.58% signals selective accumulation | ACCUMULATE | ALI — PHP 14.58 near 15-year low; MSCI mechanics not fundamental; patient accumulation
