Overseas investors were NET SELLERS of Philippine equities on May 21, with foreign selling totalling USD 3.10M for the session. Month-to-date net foreign selling stands at USD 259.80M; year-to-date at USD 79.375M. The sustained outflow reflects continued macro caution amid the Iran-driven energy shock, peso weakness past 61.70, and regional risk-off sentiment. Share buybacks were noted in SMPH, SM, and FRUITS.

GLOBAL MARKETS COMMENTARY

Wall Street futures edged modestly higher on May 22 as bond market selling eased and traders positioned ahead of Nvidia Corp.'s earnings release — the world's most valuable company and the pivotal AI bellwether. Despite Nvidia posting blockbuster Q1 results with revenues and forward guidance surpassing expectations, the initial US futures reaction was cautious following a strong rally in the prior session, suggesting markets had already priced in much of the good news.

Across Asia, the divergence was stark. Japan and South Korea surged on an AI-driven wave: the Nikkei 225 rose 3.14% to 61,684 while the KOSPI jumped 8.42% to 7,816 as SoftBank Group shares leapt nearly 20% on massive OpenAI valuation gains and high-profile SB Energy announcements. In contrast, mainland China and Hong Kong sold off in late sessions, with the SHCOMP losing 2.04% and the Hang Seng shedding 1.03% amid geopolitical caution surrounding Xi Jinping's meetings with both Trump and Putin — global spotlight on China's diplomatic positioning.

Samsung's labour tensions added a systemic risk note: management rejected government-backed union mediation, threatening high-bandwidth memory (HBM) supply chains critical to global AI hardware. This creates upside risk to near-term HBM pricing but a longer-term overhang on South Korea's semiconductor outlook.

Energy markets were turbulent. Brent crude fell sharply to USD 102.58/bbl in the May 20–21 session, then rebounded to near USD 107/bbl as reports emerged that Iran's Supreme Leader has issued a directive that the country's near-weapons-grade uranium should not be sent abroad. Headlines oscillate between potential de-escalation and renewed military strike risk — a binary outcome that continues to inject extreme volatility into oil markets. The Philippines, importing approximately 98% of its crude requirements, remains disproportionately exposed.

PHILIPPINES MACRO WATCH

The Philippine peso has been one of Asia's weakest performers, repeatedly breaching historic lows past the USD/PHP 61.70 level. Analysis from regional FX desks warns of further depreciation toward 65 per dollar in tail-risk scenarios, driven by the Iran-linked energy shock, import-heavy current account dynamics, and sustained BSP caution on rate normalisation. The Indian rupee and Indonesian rupiah face analogous pressures — a signal that the peso's weakness is partly systemic across ASEAN oil importers.

On a positive note, cash remittances from Overseas Filipinos grew 2.8% year-on-year to USD 8.68 billion in Q1 2026. The gain provides a consumer spending buffer for OFW-dependent households but carries an offset: imported food inflation and elevated fuel prices are eroding the real purchasing power of remittance inflows. Net-net, the consumer sector sees mild lift but no structural tailwind.

May electricity rates were held flat by Meralco — a welcome relief for households and energy-intensive businesses. No increase this month removes a near-term inflationary trigger, though the direction of rates beyond May remains contingent on wholesale settlement prices and the trajectory of oil.

The SEC has imposed a 10-year cumulative term limit for broker-directors serving on exchange boards — a governance reform intended to strengthen institutional independence and align the Philippines with international regulatory standards. SEC Chairman Francis Lim cited the importance of regular renewal and broader representation. This is a structural positive for market credibility, though implementation timelines and transitional arrangements for incumbents will merit follow-up.

CORPORATE UPDATES

[ICT] ICTSI Secures AIIB's First Non-Sovereign Philippines Loan — USD 300M

International Container Terminal Services, Inc. (ICTSI) has signed a USD 300 million senior unsecured corporate loan with the Asian Infrastructure Investment Bank (AIIB) — marking AIIB's first non-sovereign-backed transaction in the Philippines. The signing occurred during AIIB President Zou Jiayi's first official visit to the Philippines and was attended by ICTSI Chairman and President Enrique K. Razon Jr. The loan, part of ICTSI's broader USD 740 million capex plan for 2026, will fund technology-enabled upgrades at the Manila International Container Terminal (MICT), the South Luzon Container Terminal (SLCT) in Batangas, and the Mindanao Container Terminal (MCT). Specific throughput milestones are embedded in the agreement: MICT to reach 3.7 million TEUs by 2027; MCT and SLCT to reach one million and 800,000 TEUs, respectively, by 2028. The capital will also fund fully electric quay cranes and replace diesel-powered yard equipment, supporting ICTSI's sustainability commitments and reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

Analysis: This is a high-quality credit event for ICT. A non-sovereign AIIB loan signals ICTSI's Razon-led platform meets the multilateral bank's elevated standards for counterparty risk and sustainable infrastructure. The capex program locks in throughput capacity expansion across three strategic Philippine terminals at a time when regional trade realignment — partly driven by US-China tariff dynamics — is driving logistics demand. ICT at PHP 817 remains a structural BUY. The foreign fund community was a net buyer in the session, validating institutional confidence. 52-week high breakthrough is a technical positive.

● Stance: ACCUMULATE | ICT — Structural port operator; AIIB backing reinforces capex credibility

[BDO / BPI] Moody's Affirms Baa2 Ratings for Both Banks — Stable Outlook

Moody's, the global credit rating agency, has affirmed Baa2 long-term and P-2 short-term ratings for both BDO Unibank, Inc. and Bank of the Philippine Islands (BPI), each with a stable outlook. For BDO, the rating reflects strong liquidity — a 132% coverage ratio as of end-2024 — and low reliance on market funding at just 6% of tangible banking assets. For BPI, Moody's cited confidence in the bank's financial strength, asset quality, capitalisation, and ability to navigate varying economic conditions. Both affirmations reinforce investor confidence in the Philippine banking sector's resilience against a challenging macro backdrop marked by elevated interest rates, peso volatility, and geopolitical risk.

Analysis: The simultaneous Moody's affirmation for both BDO and BPI is a sector-wide positive. Investment-grade Baa2 ratings anchor these banks in institutional fund mandates. BPI at PHP 89.50 saw foreign buying and robust value turnover of PHP 239M, suggesting the market is re-rating the stock ahead of a sustained rate environment that benefits NIM. BDO at PHP 114.00 was sold by foreign funds despite the rating affirmation — likely tactical profit-taking after recent gains — but the credit quality story remains intact. Metrobank (MBT), also affirmed at Baa2 per Moody's commentary on strong solvency, adds to the sector's investment case.

● Stance: ACCUMULATE | BPI — Rating anchor; foreign buying confirmed | MONITOR | BDO — Quality intact; await dip entry | MONITOR | MBT — Governance watch on new directorship

Global Ferronickel Holdings, Inc. (FNI) posted a sharp increase in first-quarter 2026 attributable net income, surging 169.6% to PHP 478 million from PHP 177.3 million a year earlier. Revenues rose 36.6% to PHP 1.646 billion from PHP 1.205 billion. Mining revenues from Palawan operations climbed 36.4% to PHP 1.644 billion, driven by higher nickel ore prices and greater shipment volumes. Total shipments increased 8.9% to 550,632 wet metric tons, with a mix of 80% medium-grade and 20% low-grade ore. FNI President Dante R. Bravo credited operational optimisation, enhanced mine planning, and disciplined execution. The company also noted that the commencement of the Surigao mining season in Q2 is expected to provide additional operational support. Global nickel ore markets remain tight amid constrained supply, supporting pricing.

Analysis: FNI delivered a strong earnings beat driven by dual tailwinds — price and volume. The stock at PHP 2.13 (input data) screens attractively against the magnitude of earnings uplift, though FNI's 52-week high is above current levels. Foreign funds were sellers of FNI on May 21, suggesting near-term profit-taking risk. Nickel prices rose 1.58% in the latest session to USD 18,791/MT — a positive structural backdrop. Iran war tail risks support commodity prices broadly, providing a macro hedge for mining names. Accumulate on dips with the Q2 Surigao ramp-up as the next catalyst.

[AGI] Alliance Global Q1 Attributable Net Income Up 5% to PHP 5.2B; McDonald's PH Taps Shell Unit for RE

Andrew L. Tan-led Alliance Global Group, Inc. (AGI) reported first-quarter 2026 attributable net income of PHP 5.2 billion, up 5% year-on-year. On a consolidated basis, net income grew 6% to PHP 7.8 billion from a normalised PHP 7.4 billion, excluding one-time gains and the deconsolidation of Golden Arches Development Corp. (GADC) in March 2025. Consolidated revenues rose 1% to PHP 42.2 billion. Residential sales, strong leasing revenues, sustained hospitality improvement, and early recovery in spirits sales were the key growth drivers. CEO Kevin Tan described the results as an 'optimistic start.' Separately, McDonald's Philippines — operated through GADC, AGI's former subsidiary — has signed a renewable energy supply agreement with a Shell unit, reflecting the QSR chain's push toward sustainable energy sourcing amid rising electricity costs.

Analysis: AGI's 5–6% earnings growth in a challenging environment is creditable given macro headwinds. The Megaworld leasing engine remains the primary anchor, with hospitality (Newport World Resorts) recovering and spirits showing nascent stabilisation. The McDonald's RE deal via Shell underscores the energy-cost management theme running through Philippine corporates this season. AGI at PHP 8.70 trades at a significant discount to sum-of-parts given the complexity of restructuring. Foreign funds were split — buying AGI while selling affiliate AGI/DMC instruments — suggesting selective positioning. MONITOR with upside potential as hospitality and spirits improve.

● Stance: MONITOR | AGI — Resilient Q1; sum-of-parts discount; watch hospitality recovery pace

[MWIDE] Megawide Q1 2026: Net Income Up 24–26% to PHP 265M; Order Book at PHP 48.7B

Megawide Construction Corp. reported Q1 2026 consolidated net income of PHP 265 million, up 24–26% year-on-year (sources cite range), driven by a strong construction segment and surging real estate revenues. Consolidated revenues grew 14% to PHP 4.81 billion. By segment, construction contributed PHP 262 million to net income and PHP 3.84 billion in revenues (up 5%); real estate delivered PHP 14 million and PHP 831 million in revenues (more than double year-ago levels); Landport held steady at PHP 138 million in revenues. Gross margin improved to 24% from 22%, and the bank debt-to-equity ratio improved sharply to 1.1x from 1.54x at end-2025. Net debt-to-equity declined to 0.8x. The construction order book stands at PHP 48.7 billion as of end-March 2026, anchored by the 4PH socialized housing program, Carbon Market Redevelopment, and major transit hub projects.

Analysis: Megawide's Q1 result confirms the company's pivot toward a leaner, higher-margin business model. The deleveraging trajectory is impressive — a net D/E below 1x is a key de-risking signal for debt holders and equity investors. The PHP 48.7B order book provides multi-year earnings visibility. Real estate more than doubling is a breakout performance. Watch Landport for a return to profitability. MWIDE is a construction recovery story with infrastructure-cycle tailwinds from government housing and transport hubs. Foreign fund positioning was not specifically noted for MWIDE but construction sector momentum is a catalyst.

● Stance: ACCUMULATE | MWIDE — Deleveraging + order book visibility; RE breakout performance

[RLC] Robinsons Land JV Breaks Ground on Clark FedEx Logistics Facility — 78,000 sqm, Q1 2028 Target

Robinsons Logistix and Industrials, Inc. (RLX), the logistics arm of Robinsons Land Corp. (RLC), and Asian Infrastructure Holdings Corp. (AIHC) have broken ground on a built-to-suit logistics facility for FedEx Corp. at Clark International Airport (CRK) in Pampanga through their joint venture, RL Clark Logistix, Inc. (RCLX). The facility will cover an estimated 15-hectare site with a gross floor area of approximately 78,000 square meters, targeted for completion in Q1 2028. The groundbreaking on May 19 was attended by senior government officials including the Finance Secretary and Trade Secretary, underscoring the strategic national significance of the development. RLC President and CEO Mybelle Aragon-GoBio and FedEx North and South Pacific President Masamichi Ujiie were in attendance. RLC separately reported strong Q1 2026 financials with revenues rising 11% to PHP 12.28 billion and net income up 9% to PHP 4.40 billion.

Analysis: The FedEx logistics facility is a long-dated, high-quality recurring income asset for RLC's industrial and logistics segment. Clark remains one of the Philippines' most active and strategically positioned industrial-logistics corridors, benefiting from BCDA infrastructure investment and growing regional trade flows. Foreign funds were net buyers of RLC on May 21 — a positive signal. The facility adds scale to RLX's rapidly growing built-to-suit portfolio. RLC's underlying Q1 results are also strong. Accumulate on pullbacks, with the logistics segment emerging as a third growth pillar alongside malls and residential.

● Stance: ACCUMULATE | RLC — Logistics expansion + strong Q1; Clark FedEx facility adds recurring income anchor

[FLI] Filinvest Land March 2026 Reservations Surge 62% to PHP 2.7B; Q1 Net Income Up 3.5%

Filinvest Land, Inc. (FLI) reported a significant uptick in residential momentum, with March 2026 reservation sales surging 62% year-on-year to PHP 2.7 billion, led by projects in Mindanao, Central Luzon, and the National Capital Region. For Q1 2026, consolidated revenues rose 4.5% to PHP 6.31 billion, and net income grew 3.5% to PHP 1.10 billion. Real estate sales gained 6.1% to PHP 3.92 billion, supported by accelerated collections and construction progress. FLI also cut unsold residential inventory by PHP 4.10 billion in Q1, recording PHP 1.7 billion in ready-for-occupancy (RFO) sales. Office leasing posted a 100% renewal rate for all Q1 lease expiries. FLI was named Developer of the Year at the 2026 FIABCI Philippines Property Awards for the third consecutive year.

Analysis: The 62% March reservation surge is FLI's most important metric — it signals demand recovery inflection in the residential segment, particularly outside Metro Manila where FLI has strong exposure. The 100% office lease renewal rate confirms the stability of the recurring income base. Inventory destocking of PHP 4.1B in a single quarter is a balance sheet positive. FLI's stock has been under pressure from 52-week lows — the strong operational fundamentals represent a valuation disconnect that patient investors can exploit. Foreign funds were sellers of FLI on May 21, but operational momentum argues for accumulation on weakness.

● Stance: ACCUMULATE | FLI — 62% reservation surge; inventory destocking; valuation disconnect opportunity

[VVT] Vivant Corp. Studying Follow-On Offer for PHP 67B Energy Pipeline; 78% Earmarked for RE

Vivant Corporation is evaluating a follow-on equity offering to fund its ambitious PHP 60–70 billion investment pipeline for 2026–2030, with approximately 78% of planned investments directed toward renewable energy (RE) projects and related infrastructure. CEO Arlo G. Sarmiento stated the company has laid out a roadmap anchored on renewable energy, with a total projected investment range of PHP 60–70 billion over five years. The RE push is reinforced by the ongoing geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, which company officials noted make renewable energy development more commercially compelling given energy price volatility. Vivant's existing power and water assets provide a stable cash flow foundation.

Analysis: A follow-on offer (FOO) signals management confidence in growth execution but introduces near-term dilution risk for existing shareholders. The 78% RE allocation is strategically sound — the Iran crisis has materially increased the urgency of energy diversification for Philippine corporates. Monitor the FOO pricing and structure carefully. If priced at a reasonable discount, it could be an attractive entry for long-term RE exposure. VVT is not in the PSEi or MidCap constituents tracked here but warrants monitoring for those with broader PSE coverage.

● Stance: MONITOR | VVT — RE pipeline compelling; FOO dilution risk pending; await offer details

[TEL] PLDT Accelerates Cell Site Solarization Amid Rising Energy Costs

PLDT Inc. (TEL) is accelerating the solarization of its cell sites as a cost management and network resilience strategy amid rising electricity and fuel costs intensified by the ongoing Iran-linked energy crisis. PLDT COO Menardo Jimenez Jr. noted that electricity and fuel are the most significant and volatile drivers of PLDT's operating expenses, and that the company lacks long-term electricity contracts across facilities, leaving it more exposed to market fluctuations than on fuel. The solarization program builds on PLDT's Group commitment to reduce Scope 1 and 2 emissions by 40% by 2030. Expanding on-site solar reduces grid dependence, improves cost predictability, and enhances network stability in areas vulnerable to power disruptions.

Analysis: PLDT's energy cost management narrative is becoming increasingly critical to its earnings story. If electricity costs rise 10–15% — plausible in an Iran-shock scenario — solarization provides a meaningful margin defence. TEL at PHP 1,180 was sold by foreign funds and is among the RSI-oversold names, suggesting the stock has been de-rated faster than fundamentals warrant. A combination of oversold technicals, energy cost hedging via solar, and steady revenue from its network monopoly argue for a re-rating catalyst. Accumulate on weakness with caution given ongoing macro headwinds on telecom capex.

● Stance: ACCUMULATE | TEL — RSI oversold; solar cost hedge; await Q1 earnings confirmation

[MER] Meralco: No Electricity Rate Increase for May 2026

Manila Electric Company (MER) announced there will be no increase in the overall electricity rate for May 2026, providing a measure of consumer relief amid the Iran-driven energy price shock. Meralco's rate-setting reflects weighted average wholesale settlement prices, fuel costs, and regulatory pass-through mechanisms. The stable rate outcome for May removes a near-term inflationary trigger that had been widely anticipated given the Brent crude spike earlier in the month. Meralco's distribution charge remains unchanged, and the company continues to evaluate its power supply portfolio for longer-term cost optimisation, including renewable energy partnerships.

Analysis: The no-increase announcement is a near-term positive for consumer sentiment and for Meralco's regulatory standing. Foreign funds were sellers of MER on May 21. At PHP 615, MER is SmartWatch-flagged and trades on steady earnings visibility from its franchise monopoly. The rate stability removes a downside scenario for the month. However, if crude prices remain elevated from Iran dynamics, the June rate review could bring increases. Hold; income investors benefit from MER's dividend yield in a volatile environment.

● Stance: MONITOR | MER — Flat May rates a positive; franchise stability; watch June review on crude trajectory
