► THE CALL

PSEi slips to 5,911.93 (-0.69%, -41.24 pts) on June 4 as profit-taking hits ICT and broad sector selling resumes. ICT hit a new all-time 52-week high of PHP 892 intraday before closing at PHP 849.50 (-2.9%) as foreign funds turned net sellers (-PHP 137M) after the explosive three-day run. JFC was the foreign buying standout — PHP 134.3M in net foreign buying, the largest single-stock foreign inflow of the session, as RSI fell to 29.82 (weekly oversold). ALI hit a 52-week low of PHP 13.94 and closed at PHP 14.00 amid persistent foreign selling of PHP 160.1M. Net foreign selling returned at PHP 298.9M (-USD 4.86M). Market breadth remained decisively negative: 68 advances vs. 105 declines. AREIT confirmed at PHP 38.50 — all three accumulation triggers intact. Maynilad to cut water bills in Q3 on peso strength. DigiPlus completes HK$800M 2nd tranche of IEC deal. PSE proposes market-making framework.

GLOBAL MACRO

US Bounce — Nasdaq Futures Lag: US markets staged a partial recovery on June 4, with the Dow Jones surging +1.73% to 51,561.93 and the S&P 500 adding +0.40% to 7,584.31 as fears from the Iran–US military clash eased somewhat on diplomatic signals. The NASDAQ, however, remained soft at 26,830.96 (–0.09%) as Broadcom's mixed AI revenue guidance weighed on semiconductor sentiment, capping the technology-led recovery. Nasdaq futures declined in after-hours trading, suggesting continued unease about AI trade valuations and the impact of the Trump tariff escalation on chip supply chains.

Iran–US Crisis Accelerates Energy Transition: The Iran–US military crisis is increasingly being framed by energy analysts as a structural accelerant for the global energy transition — transforming what had been a long-term environmental goal into an immediate national security imperative. Governments are fast-tracking renewables, nuclear power, and domestic electrification programs. WTI crude retreated to USD 92.93/bbl (–2.97%) and Brent to USD 95.24/bbl (–2.63%) as diplomatic signals provided some relief, but coal surged +4.43% to USD 147.55/MT as energy security alternatives gained traction. For the Philippines, this theme is directly relevant given the government's 35% renewable energy target and EDC's PHP 25B Negros geothermal capex plan.

Asia Mixed: Asian markets gave back some of their previous session's AI-driven gains. Nikkei 225 fell –2.09% to 66,972.81 after a sharp reversal from record highs. Taiwan's TWSE softened –1.68% to 45,677.46 as Broadcom guidance introduced caution on near-term AI chip demand. KOSPI dropped –7.46% to 8,144.70 — a sharp correction after the recent record run fueled by AI chip euphoria. Indonesia's JCI fell –1.70% to 5,839.79, while Singapore's STI declined –1.38%. Vietnam and Malaysia were the rare positive performers in the region.

Gold & Commodities: Gold COMEX recovered to USD 4,488.30/oz (+0.57%) as investors rebalanced safe-haven positions after the previous session's dip. Silver also rebounded to USD 74.02/oz (+1.37%). The Philippine peso strengthened to USD/PHP 61.623 (from 61.746), triggering Maynilad's Q3 water bill reduction mechanism — a small but consumer-positive development. US 10-year Treasury yield eased to 4.472% from 4.494%, providing marginal relief for REIT valuations globally.

PHILIPPINES STRATEGY

PSEi Pulls Back as ICT Profit-Taking Leads Broad Selling. The PSEi closed June 4 at 5,911.93 — a decline of 41.24 points or –0.69% — confirming that June 3's single-stock ICT-driven gain was not broadly supported by the market. ICT hit a new 52-week high of PHP 892 intraday before retreating to PHP 849.50 as foreign funds booked profits. The only two sectors closing positive were Financials (+1.29%), driven by BDO, BPI, and MBT, and Holding Firms was modestly positive on GTCAP and AEV. Property (–0.76%), Services (–2.22%), Mining & Oil (–1.41%), and Industrials (–0.30%) all softened. JFC was the compelling foreign buying story of June 4: net foreign buying of PHP 134.3 million — the largest single-stock foreign inflow of the session — into a stock whose weekly RSI has now compressed to 29.82, deeply into oversold territory. This validates the MSCI-dislocation accumulation thesis. BDO received PHP 105.2 million in net foreign inflows, continuing what appears to be systematic institutional re-entry into Philippine bank equities. ALI broke to a 52-week low of PHP 13.94 (closed at PHP 14.00) on PHP 160.1 million of net foreign selling — a significant capital outflow into one of the largest PSE names that will require monitoring for stabilization signals.

Net foreign selling on June 4 returned to PHP 298.9 million (–USD 4.86M), bringing MTD net foreign selling to USD 408.2M and YTD to USD 227.8M. Block trades were significant: ICT three tranches totaling PHP 543.7M (at PHP 848.18, PHP 863.07, PHP 888.50); BPI PHP 90.1M; PGOLD PHP 46.8M; SEVN PHP 75.4M; CNPF PHP 39.5M; MYNLD PHP 22.0M; MBT PHP 41.0M. Share buybacks: no new announcements noted for June 4. VWAP: AP @ PHP 43.64 for 66,000 shares (PHP 2.88M).

CORPORATE UPDATES

ICT | ICTSI — NEW 52-WEEK HIGH PHP 892 INTRADAY; PROFIT-TAKING BRINGS CLOSE TO PHP 849.50

International Container Terminal Services, Inc. (ICT) set a fresh 52-week high of PHP 892 in intraday trading on June 4 — an extraordinary milestone reflecting the culmination of the stock's three-day surge on record global port operator sentiment, the VICT Melbourne hybrid carrier deployment, and institutional re-rating of ICTSI as a premier global infrastructure name. However, profit-taking was swift and decisive: ICT closed at PHP 849.50 (-2.94% from PHP 875), with three block trades totaling PHP 543.7 million — at PHP 848.18, PHP 863.07, and PHP 888.50 — as early buyers locked in gains. Net foreign selling into ICT reached PHP 137.0 million, a reversal from the PHP 557M net foreign buying of June 3. The high volume across three consecutive sessions (combined PHP 6.02B in turnover from June 2–4) signals sustained institutional interest and price discovery, not a speculative spike.

The fundamental case remains compelling: ICTSI's global port network generates hard-currency earnings insulated from peso weakness, the Melbourne VICT terminal extension to 2066 anchors long-term recurring revenue, and the four new Kalmar hybrid ACCs deployed on May 26 confirm the capex program is on track. The current pullback to PHP 849.50 represents a healthy consolidation following a 12%+ three-day move. Medium-term investors should use intraday weakness as an opportunity — the path to a new record high above PHP 892 remains intact if global port volume momentum continues.

JFC | JOLLIBEE FOODS — RSI 29.82 (OVERSOLD); PHP 134.3M NET FOREIGN BUYING

Jollibee Foods Corp. (JFC) closed June 4 at PHP 133.00 — unchanged from the prior session — but the flow data tells an important story: PHP 134.3 million in net foreign buying into JFC, the single largest foreign inflow of the entire session. This is a decisive institutional signal. With weekly RSI now at 29.82 — firmly in oversold territory below the 30-threshold — JFC presents the strongest RSI-driven buy signal in the PSEi constituent universe at this time. The stock has now traded at or below the PHP 133 level for three consecutive sessions following its MSCI-forced 52-week low of PHP 126.90 on May 29, building a firm base of institutional demand. The five-day price action (PHP 126.90 → PHP 133.00) shows approximately 4.8% recovery with consistent foreign re-entry.

JFC's global QSR platform — spanning Jollibee, Chowking, Greenwich, Mang Inasal, Red Ribbon, Coffee Bean, Highlands Coffee, and international brands in North America and Europe — continues to generate growing revenue streams. The MSCI removal was a passive-fund mechanical event. Fundamental earnings quality, brand equity, and long-term growth trajectory remain unchanged. The current oversold RSI level historically coincides with meaningful JFC recoveries.

● ACCUMULATE — RSI 29.82 oversold; PHP 134.3M net foreign buy; MSCI dip fully priced | JFC @ PHP 133.00

ALI | AYALA LAND — 52-WEEK LOW PHP 13.94; DOE ENERGY PARTNERSHIP; EPS -20.83%

Ayala Land, Inc. (ALI) broke to a 52-week low of PHP 13.94 on June 4, closing at PHP 14.00 on PHP 526.9 million in turnover with net foreign selling of PHP 160.1 million — the single heaviest foreign outflow of the session into any stock. The RSI has compressed to 32.12, approaching oversold territory. ALI's Q1 2026 EPS declined 20.83% year-on-year from PHP 0.48 to PHP 0.38, reflecting pressure on residential real estate sales, rising financing costs, and ongoing supply-demand rebalancing in the Metro Manila property market. The stock's 52-week low brings it to levels not seen since the post-COVID recovery period, with the broader property sector under pressure from the PHL 10-year bond yield at 7.548%.

Despite the selloff, ALI took a notable sustainability step on June 4: the company formalized its partnership with the Department of Energy (DoE) under the O.N.E. (Oras Natin sa Efficiency) campaign — a nationwide weekly energy conservation initiative that encourages one hour of non-essential power reduction. ALI is committing its estates, malls, offices, hotels, logistics, and residential developments to participate. The energy efficiency push aligns with ALI's 2050 net-zero GHG emissions target and its science-based climate commitment. ALI Logistics and ALI Hospitality are expanding solar adoption in their respective facilities. The collaboration underscores ALI's long-term positioning in sustainable real estate — even as near-term fundamentals face pressure from high interest rates and a slower residential market.

SMPH | SM PRIME — EPS +2.50% YOY; BOND DEFERRAL OVERHANG PERSISTS

SM Prime Holdings (SMPH) closed June 4 at PHP 18.30 on PHP 117.9M in turnover, with net foreign selling of PHP 48.0M extending the post-bond-deferral caution among investors. The company's Q1 2026 basic and diluted EPS of PHP 0.41 represents a +2.50% improvement year-on-year from PHP 0.40 — a modest positive, reflecting stable mall and recurring income performance even as residential sales softened. The bond deferral announced on June 3 (PHP 12B offering deferred citing market conditions) continues to weigh on near-term sentiment, as it confirms that domestic borrowing costs remain elevated for large property issuers. Investors are watching for a BSP rate cut signal before reassessing SMPH as a core position.

MYNLD | MAYNILAD — Q3 WATER BILL CUT EFFECTIVE JULY 1 ON PESO STRENGTH

Maynilad Water Services, Inc. (MYNLD) announced that its customers will see a reduction in water bills effective July 1, 2026, following MWSS approval of a downward Foreign Currency Differential Adjustment (FCDA) for Q3 2026. The FCDA mechanism allows water concessionaires to pass on foreign exchange gains or losses from their foreign-currency-denominated loan portfolios. The peso's strengthening (USD/PHP at 61.623, improving from 61.746 the prior session) translates to reduced foreign currency servicing costs for Maynilad's yen-denominated and dollar-denominated loans. Specific rate reduction amounts were pending official announcement — the MWSS Board approved the adjustment on May 28. For a typical household consuming 30 cubic meters, the reduction is expected to deliver a modest per-month savings. MYNLD closed at PHP 23.20 on June 4 on PHP 97.7M turnover. The stock is not in the PSEi 30 but is a coverage name given its essential utility status.

PLUS | DIGIPLUS — HK$800M IEC 2ND TRANCHE COMPLETE; TOTAL HK$1.6B DEPLOYED

DigiPlus Interactive Corp. (PLUS) confirmed the completion of the second and final tranche of its subscription to HK$800 million (approximately PHP 6.2 billion) in convertible notes issued by Hong Kong-listed International Entertainment Corp. (IEC), with the transaction closing on June 3, 2026. This brings the total DigiPlus investment in IEC convertible notes to HK$1.6 billion (approximately PHP 11.8 billion). The notes carry a conversion price of HK$1.00 per share; upon full conversion, DigiPlus would hold approximately 53.89% of IEC's enlarged share capital, giving it effective control of the LaVie Resort & Casino (formerly New World Hotel Manila) — an integrated hotel and casino complex in Manila. As of the June 4 filing, DigiPlus has not yet exercised its conversion rights on either tranche.

For DigiPlus, the completion of the IEC investment represents a strategic pivot into the land-based gaming and integrated resort sector, connecting its digital gaming platform (BingoPlus, ArenaPlus, GameZone) with a premium physical hospitality and casino venue. The investment could transform DigiPlus from a pure online gaming operator into an omni-channel entertainment company. PLUS closed June 4 at PHP 10.62 (−0.75%) on PHP 20.7M turnover, with modest net foreign buying of PHP 642,002. The stock remains in RSI-monitored territory as the market digests the capital deployment into a Hong Kong-listed entity.

PSE | MARKET-MAKING FRAMEWORK PROPOSED FOR WIDER EXCHANGE-TRADED PRODUCTS

The Philippine Stock Exchange (PSE) released a draft framework to establish uniform market-making rules across all PSE operations. The primary driver is to expand thin trading volumes across the local bourse, which has long suffered from concentration risk — where a handful of large-cap names like ICT, BDO, JFC, and ALI account for the bulk of daily turnover. Under the proposed framework, designated market makers would be obligated to post continuous two-sided quotes for assigned securities, improving bid-ask spreads and reducing transaction costs for retail and institutional investors. The initiative targets exchange-traded products beyond standard equities, potentially encompassing ETFs, structured products, and REIT units. For AREIT, MREIT, and other REIT investors, improved market-making depth could reduce the bid-ask friction that currently penalizes smaller retail positions.

GMA7 | GMA NETWORK — DROPS LAWSUIT VS SEC ON DIRECTOR TERM RULE

GMA Network, Inc. (GMA7) confirmed it has dropped its legal challenge against the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) regarding the regulator's director term limit rule. The lawsuit had sought to block the SEC from enforcing a term limit on independent directors, which GMA7 argued would disrupt board continuity and governance stability. The withdrawal signals a resolution of the governance dispute and removes a potential regulatory overhang on the stock. GMA7 closed June 4 at PHP 4.94 on moderate turnover, near a 52-week low range for the stock. The resolution allows the company to focus on its core media and broadcast operations as it navigates the competitive domestic media landscape.

🟡 MONITOR — Governance resolution removes overhang; 52-wk low range warrants watching | GMA7 @ PHP 4.94

CEB | CEBU AIR — APRIL PASSENGERS -0.7% YOY; SLF DROPS TO 74.4%

Cebu Pacific (CEB) reported April 2026 passenger count of approximately 2.3 million, a modest 0.7% decline year-on-year. More notably, the seat load factor (SLF) dropped substantially to 74.4% from 83.8% in April 2025, even as seat capacity grew 11.9%. The widening gap between capacity growth and load factor compression suggests demand is not keeping pace with Cebu Pacific's aggressive fleet expansion — a margin and unit revenue concern for the airline. The SLF drop may reflect softer leisure travel demand, fare competition, or seasonal effects. CEB closed June 4 at PHP 30.35 on PHP 10.2M turnover, with net foreign buying of PHP 7.1M. The aviation sector continues to face headwinds from higher jet fuel costs (crude oil at USD 92.93/bbl) even after the June 4 pullback.

🟡 MONITOR — SLF drop warrants attention; capacity vs. demand imbalance a key watch item | CEB @ PHP 30.35
