Wall Street was mixed in the latest session the desk pasted (Dow +0.41%, S&P 500 −0.51%, Nasdaq −1.07%; the desk did not mark the levels as close or live). The desk puts the Nasdaq about 10% below its recent peak, near correction territory. The desk text dates a 2.86% Nasdaq fall to Nov 2, but the table's implied prior (25,437.00) equals a 2.86% drop from Oct 29's 26,184.72, so that fall appears to have come on Friday, Oct 30. Intel plummeted nearly 30% after weak Q3 results and guidance, and hyperscaler capex at Amazon and Alphabet raised worries about cash burn (single desk lines, not verified). Regional chip stocks stayed under heavy selling as AI-spending doubts met uncertainty over the US midterms (desk). Asia was mixed in the latest session: SENSEX (+1.66%), Shanghai (+1.08%), Jakarta (+0.79%), Hang Seng (+0.42%), Australia (+0.26%) rose, while the KOSPI (−2.47%), Vietnam

(−1.77%), Singapore (−1.36%), Thailand (−0.93%) and the Nikkei (−0.33%) fell. Taiwan's move and Kuala Lumpur's level are not shown because the pasted figures conflict. The desk adds that Chinese stocks had their worst month since January 2016 (CSI 300 −8.5% in October, a record 12 straight weekly falls) and that gold hit a one-year low of $3,898.90 on Oct 30 (single sources).

Oil fell sharply; metals were soft. The desk says Brent sank more than 4% toward $108.71 on reports that President Trump will pursue diplomacy with Iran before any military action, and that crude retreated while holding high levels as Gulf states worried about US and Israeli strikes on Tehran; the pasted Brent row (−7.63%, to $104.77) exceeds 5% and does not match the text, so the move is not shown. WTI slipped 0.13% to $96.33. Gold fell 0.36% to $3,955.30, COMEX copper 0.40% to 654.15¢, per-pound nickel 0.74% to 6.9059 and Shanghai nickel cathode 0.48% to 17,822.35. The peso firmed again. USD-PHP eased 0.17% to 63.74 in the desk table (typed "63,74"); the prior of 63.85 ties to the 63.848 shown last edition, and the PSE's conversion rate was ₱63.850 (₱64.025 in the Oct 29 DQR). The PHL 10-year yield was 8.153% with no change supplied, and the US 10-year 4.911% (+2.1bp on the pasted +0.021).

A heavy-value session that left the index slightly lower. The PSEi fell 0.44% to 5,680.35, giving back 25.23 of Oct 29's 52.03-point gain, on ₱17.14B of value (₱3.97B on Oct 29, ₱9.52B on Oct 27). The headline is distorted by two items: ₱4.41B of blocks (WEB ₱3.42B, GTCAP ₱793.4M) and SM's ₱8.91B of regular trading, together about 78% of the day's value. Strip those out and the rest of the market traded roughly ₱3.8B. Net foreign flow was −₱4.5M, with buying in BDO (+₱98.1M), ICT (+₱65.2M), GTCAP (+₱48.8M) and AEV (+₱47.5M) offsetting sales in AC (−₱61.9M), BPI (−₱54.0M) and MBT (−₱31.6M). Breadth was weak at 63 / 110.

What the tape shows

- Broad weakness: all six sectors fell and 21 of 30 PSEi-30 names declined. The cap-weighted PSEi (−0.44%) and the equal-weighted PSEi-30 average (−0.34%) moved together, so the drop was not driven by a few large names. GTCAP (+4.03%), JFC (+1.27%) and SCC (+0.75%) rose; AEV (−3.67%), CBC (−1.84%) and SMC (−1.59%) fell most.
- AEV: −3.67% on ₱172.3M, yet foreigners bought ₱47.5M, an unusual split between price and flow; the day's only company headline (Aboitiz dual-site manufacturing demand) is not tied to the move.
- Standing house rule: banks stay on watch while the PHL 10-year is above 7% (8.153% per the desk, no change supplied). Financials fell 0.50% (CBC −1.84%, BPI −1.05%; BDO +0.51%) with foreign selling in BPI and MBT and buying in BDO.
- Peso: USD-PHP is 63.74 in the desk table, down from 64.04 on Oct 28 and 63.85 on Oct 29; carriers still cite fuel costs and a weak peso (BusinessWorld headline), with CEB −7.50% to ₱24.05.

Risks to watch (desk and BusinessWorld items, not verified)

- Tech and AI-spending doubts: the Nasdaq sits about 10% below its peak, Intel fell nearly 30% and regional chip stocks are under pressure; the KOSPI fell 2.47% in the latest session.
- Oil and geopolitics: Brent's sharp fall on US–Iran diplomacy reports can reverse if talks fail; the desk says Gulf states fear a wider regional conflict.
- US midterms: the desk flags political uncertainty around the US midterms and possible changes in the pace of AI tech deployment.

The concept. A block sale (or cross) is a large negotiated trade between two parties that is reported separately from the regular order book. Its price is agreed between the buyer and seller, so it can print above or below the market and does not set the closing price. Blocks still count in the day's value and volume, so a few crosses can make a quiet market look busy. To read activity fairly, compare regular value with block value, check each cross against the close, and compare the cross with the stock's own regular trading.

Oct 30 reading (DQR)	Value
Total value / blocks	₱17.14B / ₱4.41B (25.7% of value); Oct 29: ₱3.97B / ₱668.2M
WEB: two crosses at ₱16.50	207.2M shares, ₱3.42B; close ₱13.88 (cross 18.9% above); regular value ₱16.6M (206 times)
GTCAP: one cross at ₱433.03	1.83M shares, ₱793.4M; close ₱454.60 (4.7% below); regular value ₱64.2M (12.4 times)
Other crosses	BPI ₱71.8M, MONDE ₱56.1M, PNB ₱44.4M, JGS ₱29.9M (within 2.1% of their closes)
SM regular trading	₱8.91B = 70% of main-board value; no block
PSEi on the day	−0.44% with 63 advancers / 110 decliners / 68 unchanged

Why it matters today. Value jumped to ₱17.14B, 4.3 times Oct 29's ₱3.97B, yet the PSEi fell and decliners outnumbered advancers 110 to 63. The reason is composition: WEB's two crosses (₱3.42B) and SM's ₱8.91B of regular trading make up about 78% of the day, and WEB is not a PSEi-30 member. WEB itself closed unchanged at ₱13.88 even though the crosses printed 18.9% above that close, which shows how a negotiated price can sit far from the screen price. Excluding both items, the rest of the market traded roughly ₱3.8B, close to Oct 29's level. The desk gave no reason for the WEB or SM activity.
How to use it. (1) Split value into regular and block before judging participation. (2) Compare each cross with the close and with the stock's regular value: a very large ratio, as with WEB, points to a one-off transfer rather than market demand. (3) Check breadth and the index move, not value alone. (4) Remember sector values include blocks, so a sector can look busy because of one cross. (5) Do not read a block premium or discount as a price target. Takeaway: on Oct 30 the record of activity came mostly from a few large negotiated trades, while the market itself fell on weak breadth.
