AT A GLANCE — ACTIONABLE HIGHLIGHTSSession snapshot PSEi 6,264.70 ▲ +2.90 (+0.05%) • Value ₱5.80B • Breadth 100 up / 102 down / 53 flat • Foreign net SELLING ₱403.6M

- ▶ A flat close flatters a heavy tape: +0.05% to 6,264.70 on NEGATIVE breadth (100 up / 102 down). Mining & Oil (+1.58%) and Industrial (+0.78%) led; Financials (−0.07%) and Holding Firms (−0.18%) lagged.
- ▶ Foreigners net-sold ₱403.6M — a FOURTH straight day and the heaviest of the run: SM −₱190.2M (a massive single-name exit), ICT −₱121.2M, SMPH −₱81.4M, BDO −₱74.5M. MBT (+₱68.2M) and AP (+₱49.4M) drew the big inflows.
- ▶ FGEN/FPH rebounded hard — FGEN +10.7% to ₱30.10, FPH +12.9% to ₱115.00 — clawing back Monday's KKR-rejection crash as foreign buying returned (FGEN +₱7.6M).
- ▶ Earnings: SMC 1H CORE income +48% to ₱54.2B (reported −44% on non-cash items); AGI 1H +3% to ₱16.0B (Megaworld, Emperador, Newport all up); Bloomberry Q2 loss −75%, GGR +15%.
- ▶ ALI bounced +2.9% to ₱15.62 on a ₱18.6M foreign INFLOW despite its −19% 1H — a deep-value bargain bid; AREIT flagged year-end approval for a ₱17.3B Ayala asset swap.
- ▶ Rates eased: the PHL 10-year fell ~9bps to 7.249% (lowest in weeks, nearing the 7% line) — but the peso slid a 4th day to ~₱61.79 and global tech wobbled (Nasdaq −1.33%, gold −1.1%).

THE CALL

The flat close flatters a heavy tape. A +0.05% gain on negative breadth (100 advancers to 102 decliners) and a fourth straight day of foreign selling — ₱403.6M, the biggest of the run — tells the real story: overseas money keeps exiting the heavyweights (SM −₱190M, a huge single-name exit; ICT −₱121M on ₱1.2B of turnover; SM Prime −₱81M for a third day) while the index is propped up by a mining/industrial bid and a handful of domestic buyers. We stay defensive at the index level and selective underneath.

Two threads are actionable. First, earnings winners with local support: San Miguel's core income surged 48% to ₱54.2B (the reported −44% is non-cash noise) and Alliance Global's ₱16.0B 1H — Megaworld +5%, Emperador, a near-doubling at Newport — both screen well against a soft macro; we turn constructive on SMC and keep AGI's parts on the buy list. Second, the reversals: Ayala Land bounced 2.9% on a ₱18.6M foreign inflow despite a weak 1H — a deep-value bargain bid we would follow — and FGEN/FPH rebounded double-digits as buyers stepped back in after Monday's KKR-rejection crash (we keep FGEN a Hold, but the stabilisation removes the falling-knife risk). The macro sweetener is a PHL 10-year finally easing toward 7% (7.249%, the lowest in weeks); a sustained break below would re-rate the banks and REITs — but a peso at a fresh low (₱61.79) and a soft Wall Street tech tape (Nasdaq −1.33%) keep us patient.

US indices and the PSEi reflect confirmed Aug-17→Aug-18 moves; Wall Street fell on a tech selloff (Nasdaq -1.33%) as the dollar and oil rose. The brief's PSEi mark (6,297.30) was stale (Aug-14) and is overridden with the DQR (6,264.70). The brief's PRIOR Asian marks were carried from Aug 14 (flat through Aug 17), so Asian one-session changes are indicative; Nikkei, KOSPI and SET printed outsized/inconsistent moves and are shown as latest level only (n/a), per our standing data-quality caution.

Sugar (¢/lb)	16.87	17.47	+0.60	+3.56%

Gold fell more than 1% (to ≈US$4,397) and silver dropped -4.4% as the dollar firmed; a copper short-squeeze eased (Trafigura delivered metal to LME warehouses, backwardation plunging from US$545 to US$248/ton), pulling copper -2.2%. Oil edged up on Strait-of-Hormuz tension; coffee (+4.6%) and sugar (+3.6%) rose.

PHILIPPINES STRATEGY

Narrow, selective, foreign-outflow-dominated. Four sessions of net selling and a negative-breadth “up” day argue against chasing the index; we stay with earnings delivery (SMC core, AGI, the JFC franchise), deep-value reversals (ALI), accretive REIT stories (AREIT, MREIT) and the mining momentum (AT, APX) while it lasts. The heavyweight exodus — SM, ICT and SM Prime — is the dominant flow, and until it abates the index will struggle to make clean headway even on positive earnings.

The rates picture is the swing factor. The 10-year at 7.249% is the lowest in weeks and a sustained break below 7% would be our trigger to upgrade banks and rate-sensitives from Monitor. For now, split bank flows (MBT +P68M versus BDO -P75M) and the “provisioning pain offsets margin gains” theme keep the group on Monitor; a peso at a fresh low (P61.79) and a soft global tech tape temper risk appetite. We prefer stock-specific catalysts — SMC's core inflection, ALI's value bid, AREIT's asset swap — over index-level exposure here.

SECTORAL SUMMARY

Sector	Close	% Chg	Pt Chg	Value ₱M
Financials	1,957.56	-0.07%	-1.43	698.58

PSEi	6,264.70	+0.05%	+2.90	—
All Shares	3,440.82	+0.23%	+7.95	—

Mining & Oil led again (Atlas +11%, Apex) and Industrial firmed on the FGEN/FPH rebound and Meralco; the index's flat close masks a negative-breadth, foreign-selling tape, with SM, ICT and SM Prime the heavyweight drags. Services value (P1.72B) is dominated by ICT's P1.2B turnover.

FOREIGN FUND FLOW

Net foreign ₱403.64M net SELLING — a fourth straight session of outflows and the heaviest of the run. Top net flows (₱M):

SM's -₱190.2M was a regular-market exit (no offsetting block today); ICT (-₱121.2M) again dominated two-way turnover (₱1.2B). MBT (+₱68.2M) and AP (+₱49.4M) drew the biggest inflows; BPI's -₱12.1M regular-market flow was partly offset by an ₱81.8M block cross.

Rebuilt from the DQR Value column (it matched the desk brief this session — no misalignment). ICT alone traded ₱1.2B, more than three times the next name.

BLOCK SALES

Block value was a modest ₱110.79M (1.64M sh) — organic turnover, with no distorting mega-block. SM's heavy foreign selling ran through the regular market, not a block. Named crosses:

% Chg is close vs the prior-session (Aug 17) close; ▲/▼/— mirror the DQR direction indicators. Roster reflects the Feb 2, 2026 rebalance (RCR for AGI — AGI, which reported 1H earnings, is no longer a PSEI-30 constituent).

CORPORATE UPDATES

AGI Alliance Global Group ₱9.48*Alliance Global's 1H rises 3% to ₱16.0B as property, gaming and spirits all contribute

Alliance Global posted first-half consolidated net income of ₱16.0 billion, up 3% from ₱15.6 billion, on broad-based gains: Megaworld's real-estate income rose 5% to ₱12.7 billion, Emperador's spirits revenue climbed 5% to ₱29.6 billion for a ₱3.7 billion 1H profit, and Travellers International's Newport World Resorts nearly doubled attributable net income to ₱568 million on robust non-VIP gaming and tourism. Despite the solid print the stock eased 2.5% to ₱9.48 on a ₱4.1M net foreign outflow. AGI, removed from the PSEi at the February rebalance, continues to trade at a steep discount to the sum of its listed parts.

Analysis. Diversified, recurring-income growth across property, spirits and gaming, delivered against a soft macro, reinforces AGI as one of the cheapest holdco proxies on the board — the market's willingness to sell the print looks like index-flow noise rather than a fundamental verdict. We keep it on the buy list on the sum-of-parts discount.

Stance: ACCUMULATE — 3% 1H growth across all three legs; deep sum-of-parts discount, index-flow selling aside.

SMC San Miguel Corp. ₱65.70*San Miguel's 1H core income jumps 48% to ₱54.2B; reported profit falls on non-cash items

San Miguel reported first-half core net income of ₱54.2 billion, up 48% year-on-year, even as reported net income fell 44% to ₱37.7 billion on non-core, non-cash items (largely FX and mark-to-market). Full-year 2025 core income had already risen 52% to ₱79.6 billion. The stock firmed to ₱65.70 on a small foreign inflow. The core surge reflects Ramon Ang's cost-discipline and efficiency drive across the fuel, power, food and infrastructure businesses.

Analysis. The gap between a 48% core jump and a 44% reported drop is the whole story — strip the non-cash items and the operating businesses are accelerating, validating the cost-discipline message. We turn constructive: the core trajectory, plus infrastructure optionality (tollways, MRT-3 interest), supports the shares at a depressed multiple.

Stance: ACCUMULATE — core income +48% signals an operating inflection; the reported drop is non-cash noise.

FGEN / FPH First Gen · First Phil. Holdings FGEN ₱30.10 · FPH ₱115.00*First Gen rebounds 11% and FPH 13% as buyers step back in after Monday's KKR-rejection crash

First Gen rebounded 10.7% to ₱30.10 and parent First Philippine Holdings jumped 12.9% to ₱115.00, clawing back much of Monday's record decline that followed FPH's rejection of KKR's ₱35/share take-private as undervaluing the company. Foreign investors turned net buyers of both (FGEN +₱7.6M, FPH +₱2.1M), and the two were among the most active by value (FGEN ₱229M, FPH ₱131M). The bounce suggests the market read FPH's "undervalued" stance as a floor once the forced selling abated.

Analysis. The stabilisation removes the falling-knife risk we flagged Monday, and FPH's willingness to walk away supports a valuation above the withdrawn ₱35. But with no live deal, FGEN is again a fundamentals story — solid recurring income, no catalyst — so we keep it a Hold and prefer FPH on the parent's clearer value signal.

Stance: HOLD (FGEN) — the bounce stabilises the tape but no catalyst remains; FPH the better value on the parent's stance.

ALI Ayala Land, Inc. ₱15.62Ayala Land bounces 2.9% on a ₱18.6M foreign inflow despite its 19% 1H drop — a deep-value bid

Ayala Land rose 2.9% to ₱15.62 and drew the day's fourth-largest foreign inflow (+₱18.6M) — a sharp reversal from Monday's ₱38M exit — even though its 1H26 net income fell 19% to ₱11.5 billion under macro and MSCI-indexing pressure. The stock is screening at a deep cyclical discount (₱15.30–15.62), and the return of foreign buying suggests bargain hunters are stepping into the weakness. The land bank and parent-buyback support remain intact.

Analysis. A weak 1H is now well-known and, we think, largely priced; the swing back to foreign buying at these levels is the more forward-looking signal. With deep-value support and a buyback floor, we move back to Accumulate for patient capital, using indexing-driven weakness to add.

Stance: ACCUMULATE — deep cyclical discount with foreign buying returning; the weak 1H is largely priced.

AREIT AREIT, Inc. ₱38.00AREIT eyes year-end approval for a ₱17.3B Ayala asset swap — an accretive injection

AREIT is targeting year-end regulatory approval for a ₱17.3 billion asset swap with parent Ayala Land, which would inject additional income-generating properties in exchange for shares — a classic accretive REIT expansion. The unit firmed to ₱38.00 though foreigners trimmed ₱7.2M. The swap would enlarge AREIT's portfolio and support long-run distribution growth, extending the sponsor's pipeline of injections.

Analysis. A ₱17.3B accretive swap is exactly the sponsor-backed growth that underpins the REIT thesis, and year-end approval would be a clear catalyst for distribution accretion. With a covered yield and a visible pipeline, AREIT returns to our Accumulate list this session on the specific asset-swap news.

Stance: ACCUMULATE — ₱17.3B accretive Ayala asset swap in view; sponsor pipeline supports distribution growth.

Banks MBT · BDO · BPI MBT ₱68.80 · BDO ₱124.50 · BPI ₱107.50MBT takes the day's biggest inflow (+₱68.2M) but BDO bleeds ₱74.5M as provisioning worries build

Bank flows split sharply: Metrobank drew the market's largest single inflow (+₱68.2M) and firmed to ₱68.80, and PNB added +₱13.3M, but BDO bled the day's fourth-largest outflow (−₱74.5M) to ₱124.50 and BPI saw a ₱12.1M regular-market outflow (partly offset by an ₱81.8M block cross). The sector index was flat (−0.07%). Analysts flagged that rising credit provisioning will offset the sector's margin gains, even as the PHL 10-year eased to 7.249%.

Analysis. The divergent flows and the “provisioning offsets margins” theme keep us from turning outright constructive, but an easing 10-year — now the lowest in weeks and nearing our 7% line — is the most encouraging macro development for the group in a while. We stay on Monitor with MBT the flow leader, and would upgrade on a sustained sub-7% 10-year.

Stance: MONITOR — MBT-led inflows offset BDO's exit; watch the 10-year (7.249%) for a sub-7% upgrade trigger.

BLOOM Bloomberg Resorts Corp. ₱2.38Bloomberg's Q2 loss narrows 75% and GGR climbs 15% — but foreigners sell ₱18.2M

Bloomberg Resorts narrowed its second-quarter net loss by 75% to ₱345.3 million (from ₱1.4 billion) as gross gaming revenue climbed 15% to ₱16.4 billion and EBITDA surged 35% to ₱3.4 billion — a clear operational recovery. Yet the stock's ₱2.38 close came with the day's ninth-largest foreign outflow (−₱18.2M), suggesting the improvement was already anticipated after the shares' recent run.

Analysis. The operating recovery is real — a 15% GGR gain and a 35% EBITDA jump point to stabilising volumes and cost control — but the company is still loss-making and foreigners used the print to take profit. We stay on Monitor, waiting for a return to bottom-line profitability before turning constructive.

Stance: MONITOR — genuine Q2 recovery (GGR +15%, EBITDA +35%), but still loss-making and foreigners sold the print.

AT Atlas Consolidated Mining ₱17.80Atlas extends its surge to ₱17.80 (+11%) as the mining rally runs; foreigners add ₱8.0M

Atlas Mining jumped another 11.3% to ₱17.80 — the day's third-most-active name by value (₱294M) — extending the metals-led rally that lifted Mining & Oil 1.58%, on a ₱8.0M net foreign inflow. The move builds on its ₱3.97B Q2 profit and its central role in the Sy–Consunji–SM consolidation theme (Dominion's stake-building; SM's targeted 2027 exit from its ~34% holding). Copper eased as an LME short-squeeze unwound, but the local miners kept their bid.

Analysis. Momentum and corporate-action optionality remain powerful, but two double-digit sessions leave the stock extended and still driven by theme rather than through-cycle earnings. We keep AT as speculative, theme-driven exposure to be sized as risk capital, and prefer the cash-flow leaders (OGP, APX) for core mining.

Stance: SPECULATIVE — powerful momentum and consolidation optionality, but extended; size as risk capital.

ACEN ACEN Corp. ₱2.95ACEN to divest up to 49% of its Avana India renewables venture to fund the pipeline

ACEN is divesting up to a 49% stake in its Indian renewable-energy venture, Avana Renewables, to Diamond India Renewables One (DIRO), starting with an initial 10% voting interest, to help fund and develop solar and wind projects in India. The stock firmed to ₱2.95 but bled the day's heaviest industrial outflow (−₱24.2M). The move recycles capital into growth while bringing in a funding partner.

Analysis. Bringing in a partner to fund the India build-out is sensible capital discipline that de-risks the pipeline, but the ₱24M foreign exit shows the market is wary of ACEN's near-term cash needs and execution. We stay Neutral pending clearer evidence the recycled capital is lifting returns.

Stance: NEUTRAL — sensible capital recycling in India, but heavy foreign selling; await return-accretive execution.

JFC Jollibee Foods Corp. ₱155.00An affiliate buys Jollibee shares even as foreigners sell ₱22.9M and the stock slips

Jollibee disclosed that affiliate Hyper Dynamic Corporation acquired JFC shares — an insider-linked vote of confidence — a day after the group's Q2 margin recovery on strategic pricing. Yet the stock fell 2.8% to ₱155.00 on the day's seventh-largest foreign outflow (−₱22.9M), reversing Monday's inflow. It remained heavily traded (₱146M by value).

Analysis. The affiliate purchase and the recent margin recovery are constructive signals, but a ₱22.9M foreign exit and the price slip show near-term positioning pressure. We hold, treating the affiliate buying and the pricing-led margin turn as reasons to accumulate into flow-driven weakness rather than chase.

Stance: HOLD / ACCUMULATE ON WEAKNESS — affiliate buying and Q2 margin recovery vs a ₱22.9M foreign exit.

SMARTWATCH SUMMARY

- ▶ FGEN/FPH rebound: First Gen +10.7% to ₱30.10 and FPH +12.9% to ₱115.00 clawed back Monday's KKR-rejection crash; foreign buying returned (FGEN +₱7.6M).
- ▶ SMC core vs reported: 1H core income ₱54.2B (+48%) versus reported ₱37.7B (−44% on non-cash items); FY25 core ₱79.6B (+52%). Ang's cost-discipline drive is showing in the core line.
- ▶ AGI earnings detail: 1H ₱16.0B (+3%) — Megaworld ₱12.7B (+5%), Emperador revenue +5% to ₱29.6B (₱3.7B net), Travellers' Newport nearly doubling attributable income to ₱568M.
- ▶ AREIT asset swap: Eyes year-end approval for a ₱17.3B Ayala asset swap — an accretive injection that would extend the sponsor pipeline.
- ▶ Capital & expansion: ACEN to divest up to 49% of its Avana India venture to DIRO; Aboitiz Estate (AEV) eyes a 500-ha LIMA expansion and ₱7B office pipeline; Shell Pilipinas to open its first Visayas import terminal in Cebu by year-end.
- ▶ Property notes: SM Prime's completed Horizon Terraces is nearly 90% sold; CLI cites ₱99B receivables against ₱67B debt; MPIC is hesitant on the MRT-3 O&M bid.
- ▶ Consumer/transport: Heavy rains cut same-store sales at some 7-Eleven (SEVN) stores by up to 20%; Cebu Pacific (CEB) will resume Iloilo international flights in November; SM's Goldilocks expands solar capacity (Cebu, Pangasinan).
- ▶ Banks theme: “Provisioning pain will offset margin gains” — the credit-cost overhang keeps the group on Monitor even as MBT drew the day's biggest inflow.
- ▶ Rates & FX: The PHL 10-year eased ~9bps to 7.249% (nearing the 7% line); the peso weakened a 4th day to a fresh low near ₱61.79 as the dollar rose with oil.
- ▶ Global: A US tech selloff dragged the Nasdaq −1.33%; gold fell >1%; a copper short-squeeze eased (Trafigura delivered to the LME, backwardation US$545→US$248/ton); US–Canada tariff talks hit an impasse; Bitcoin whales staged a US$2.75B buying spree.
- ▶ Buybacks & standing items: Buyback activity from OPM, SM, URC and MRSGL; RRHI remains suspended (₱48.30 tender) and the Chinese Ghost Month (Aug 13–Sep 11) continues to damp participation.
